

Agricultural sciences building

This building consists of offices and lecture halls for the agriculture department.

This building is made mostly of glass and steel. The west and eastern facade is mostly blocked with very small openings.

