THE LIFE OF ANDREW MURRAY
OF SOUTH AFRICA
THE LIFE OF
ANDREW MURRAY
OF SOUTH AFRICA

BY
J. DU PLESSIS
Professor of New Testament Exegesis in the Theological Seminary of the Dutch Reformed Church, Stellenbosch, South Africa;
Author of A History of Christian Missions in South Africa, and other works.

MARSHALL BROTHERS, LIMITED
LONDON EDINBURGH NEW YORK
SOME years before his death Dr. Andrew Murray is understood to have indicated the Rev. Professor Marais, of the Stellenbosch Theological Seminary, and the present writer, as persons to whom the preparation of his biography might be entrusted. After his decease, early in 1917, his executors definitely requested these gentlemen to undertake the duty. Professor Marais, however, while continuing to display the greatest interest in the progress of the biography, found his physical strength unequal to the task of collaboration; and it was left to the undersigned to carry through the work. That he has been able to complete it, in both the English and Dutch languages, is a matter for which he desires to give abundant thanks to God.

At the same time he is gravely conscious of many shortcomings. To portray the life and character of such an one as Andrew Murray, who lived uninterruptedly in a region so remote from our common unspiritual life, is a task which might well appal. And yet the trust could not well be declined; and the writer has therefore endeavoured, though with many qualms and misgivings, to fulfil it to the best of his small ability. It has seemed to him that he could do no better than let Andrew Murray speak himself; and a large portion of this volume will be found to consist of unpublished letters, or of articles that have been retrieved from the pages of religious journals and fugitive tracts.

Sincere acknowledgments for invaluable assistance are due to the Misses Murray, daughters of the subject of this Life, and especially to Miss Annie Murray, for placing at the author's disposal a mass of correspondence and other material, without which this Biography must have been very much more imperfect than it is. Similar acknowledgments must be made to Miss Charlotte Murray and Miss Ella Neethling, nieces of Dr. Murray, for the loan of letters and photographs in the possession of the families of the late Professor John Murray and the late Rev. J. H. Neethling respectively. And finally, heartfelt thanks are tendered to Mr. Charles Murray, M.A., late acting Superintendent-General of Education, Cape Province, for kindly reading through the bulk of the manuscript, and serving the author with most valuable criticisms and suggestions; and to the Rev. D. S. B. Joubert, B.D., Secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, Cape Town, for the very elaborate Bibliography which enriches this work.
PREFACE

May the blessing of God Almighty attend the perusal of this Life, and may it send thousands to a fresh study of Andrew Murray's writings, where they may learn the open secret of that faith-life in which God is all in all.

J. DU PLESSIS.

STELLENBOSCH,
25th July, 1919.
CONTENTS

INTRODUCTORY CHAPTER .......................................................................................... 3

Physical configuration of South Africa—First colonization by the Dutch—Gradual increase of population and extension eastwards—Surrender of the Colony to the English—Substitution of English for Dutch as official language—Position of the Dutch Reformed Church—The three factors in the situation—The two white races of South Africa—Andrew Murray’s relation to both—Historical events during Andrew Murray’s lifetime—His sympathy with his people—General condition of South Africa in the middle of the nineteenth century.

CHAPTER I

ANCESTRY, PARENTAGE AND BIRTH ........................................................................ 12

Paternal ancestry—Andrew Murray of Clatt—John Murray of Aberdeen—Family connexions in Scotland and Canada—Andrew Murray, the father—Letter of Dr. George Thom on ministers for South Africa—Appointment of Andrew Murray Sr.—His diary of the voyage to South Africa—Departure—Fellow-travellers—On the rocks at the Cape Verde Islands—Prolonged voyage—Arrival in Table Bay—Andrew Murray Sr. appointed minister of Graaff-Reinet—Description of the place—The parsonage—Andrew Murray’s marriage to Maria Susanna Stegmann—His attachment to the land and people of his adoption—His pastoral activity—Visits of missionaries—Home life—The father’s deep spirituality—The founding of new congregations—Reminiscences of the mother—Journeys to Cape Town—Birth of Andrew—His character as a child.

CHAPTER II

SEVEN YEARS IN SCOTLAND .................................................................................... 34

Backward state of education at the Cape in the thirties—The Bible and School Commission—Departure of John and Andrew Murray for Scotland—The old Grammar School of Aberdeen—Letters of Andrew Murray Sr. to his sons—William C. Burns and the Scottish revivals—Burns' preaching and its results—His labours at Aberdeen—Impression made upon Andrew Murray—Letter of Burns to John Murray—Events leading up to the Disruption of the Church of Scotland—Andrew Murray Sr. to his sons—Andrew Murray to his parents and sister—His decision to become a minister—His graduation at Marischal College—Andrew Murray Sr. to his sons on life in Holland.

CHAPTER III
THREE YEARS OF PREPARATION IN HOLLAND

Departure of John and Andrew Murray for Holland—Description of first meeting between them and N. H. de Graaf—Religious condition of Holland—The Réveil—Sechov Dabar—Etheto—Comparison with the Methodists—The theological professors—Influence of C. W. Opzoomer—Andrew Murray's conversion—Letter to his parents—Friends in Holland—Letter suggesting further study in Germany—John Murray on conditions in Holland—Arrival of Neethling, Hofmeyr and Faure from South Africa—Ordination of John and Andrew Murray at The Hague—Farewell meeting with the members of Sechov Dabar—Benefits of the sojourn in Holland—Arrival in Cape Town—Letter to his parents—Reunion with the family circle—Appointment to Bloemfontein.

CHAPTER IV
EARLY DAYS AT BLOEMFONTEIN

CHAPTER V
ACROSS THE VAAL

Importance of Murray's first pastoral tour among the Transvaal emigrants—Visit to Mool River—The "Jerusalem Pilgrims"—The Magaliesberg—A letter of invitation from Commandant Potgieter—Meeting with Andries Pretorius—Serious indisposition
CONTENTS

Journey to Ohrigstad—Return to the Magaliesberg—Sitting of the Volksraad—Large attendances at services—Praying for the authorities—Return journey to Bloemfontein—Death of Deacon Coetzer—Continued unrest on the Basuto border—Arrival of teachers from Holland—Correspondence—Visitors—Narrow escape at Kaffir River—Visit to Graaff-Reinet and return—Preparations for a second journey to the Transvaal—Departure—Arrival at Mooi River—Visit to Suikerbosch Rand and Lydenburg—Great fatigue—Visit to the Warm Bath—Reach the Magaliesberg—Continued fatigue—Zwarte Ruggens—Morikwa—Andrew Murray put on trial—Schoonspruit—Arrival of Rev. D. van Velden, and induction at Winburg—Andrew Murray called to the Transvaal—The call declined.

CHAPTER VI

FURTHER VISITS TO THE EMIGRANTS

Third visit to the Transvaal—Native unrest—Disastrous battle at Vierwoet—Andries Pretorius invited to restore order—Andrew Murray on the situation—His visit to Pretorius—Commissioners Hogge and Owen—The Sand River Convention—Fourth Transvaal visit—Neethling’s description of a service—Method of travel—Respect paid to the ministers—The Zoutpansberg emigrants—Services there—Commandant Hendrik Potgieter—Manifold labours—Visit to a farmer under sentence of death—Arrival in the Transvaal of Rev. D. van der Hoff—His doings—His letter to Andrew Murray—Secession of Transvaal congregations from the Cape Church—Missive addressed to Rev. van Velden—His letter of rebuke and warning—Reasons for the Secession—Later history of the Transvaal congregations.

CHAPTER VII

THE ABANDONMENT OF THE SOVEREIGNTY AND THE FIRST EUROPEAN VISIT

The Synod of 1852—Events in the Sovereignty—Battle of Berea—Decision of the British Government to abandon the Sovereignty—Meeting of people’s delegates at Bloemfontein—Account of J. M. Orpen—Resolutions passed—Dr. Frazer and Andrew Murray delegated to England—Further events in the Sovereignty—Convention of Bloemfontein signed and Orange Free State established—Proceedings of Messrs. Frazer and Murray in England—Preaching engagements of Andrew Murray—His visit to Holland—Meeting of the Ernst-en-Vrede party at Amsterdam—Visit to Scotland—Feeble health—Visits to water-cure establishments—Second visit to Holland, and visit to the Rhineland—Return to South Africa.
CHAPTER VIII

LAST YEARS AT BLOEMFONTEIN . . . . . . . . 165

CHAPTER IX

THE WORCESTER PASTORATE AND THE GREAT REVIVAL . . . . 182

CHAPTER X

THE STRUGGLE WITH THE CIVIL COURTS AND THE EXTRUSION OF LIBERALISM . . . . . . . . 208

The "Liberal" movement in Holland and at the Cape—The "Church Order" and the "Ordinance"—Synod of 1862—Wreck of the Waldensian—Description of the Synod by Rev. F. L. Cachet—Andrew Murray, moderator—Other leading members—Elder Loedolfi's objection—Orthodox and Liberal parties—Supreme Court judgment—Disruption of D. R. Church—Withdrawal of members affected by judgment—Rev. J. J. Kotzé of Darling on the Catechism—A second Supreme Court case—Favourable judgment—Resolution to suspend Kotzé—Events in the Darling congregation—Meeting of Synodical Committee—Kotzé versus Murray—

CHAPTER XI

THE CAPE TOWN PASTORATE

Visit of Dr. Duff to South Africa—Andrew Murray to his father—Call and removal to Cape Town—Andrew Murray Sr. refused leave to preach by the consistory of Hanover—Murray's colleagues at Cape Town—Death of Andrew Murray, the father—Letter of Andrew Murray to his mother—Stay in Europe—Birth of a son—Call to Marylebone Presbyterian Church—British sympathizers with the Liberal movement—D. P. Faure's lectures—Murray's discourses on "Modern Unbelief"—His lecture in the Commercial Exchange—Rev. G. W. Stegmann Jr. elected as Murray's colleague—Seccessions from the D. R. Church—Murray's sermon—Strictures by D. P. Faure—Murray's controversy with Kotze on the Canons of Dort—Home life in Cape Town—Children of the family—Sojourners under the Murrays' roof—Extent and need of the Cape Town congregation—Murray's interest in young men—Y.M.C.A. founded—Proposals for union between the Anglican and D. R. Churches—Bishop Gray's views—Remarks thereon by Messrs. Murray, Faure and Robertson—Gray's reply in Union of Churches—Failure of negotiations—Zakspiegeltjies—Literary work—The call to the pastorate of Wellington.

CHAPTER XII

THE WELLMINGTON PASTORATE AND THE HUGUENOT SEMINARY

CHAPTER XIII

EDUCATIONAL UNDERTAKINGS AND VISIT TO EUROPE AND AMERICA 287

CHAPTER XIV

CONFERENCES AND REVIVALS. 311

Intellectual dependence of South Africa upon Europe—Its religious dependence—Andrew Murray's position and influence—Influence of the Holiness Movement—Mr. Murray on spiritual intercourse—The Colesberg Conference of 1879—Criticism evoked—Reply of Mr. Murray—Strictures on his teaching in letter by "V.D.M."—Mr. Murray's defence—Influence on South Africa of the work of Moody and Sankey—Committee for special Gospel-preaching—Mr. Murray's observations on the religious needs of the rural population—His paper on Special Services—Two months' tour through the Midland districts—Glen Lynden and Adelaide—Spiritual results.

CHAPTER XV

TWO YEARS OF SILENCE AND THE QUESTION OF FAITH HEALING 230

Mr. Murray suffers from a relaxed throat—Rest in the Karroo—Sojourn at Murraysburg—The Transvaal War of Independence—The feeling of nationality—Movements of his daughter Emmie—Return to Wellington—Literary projects—Abide in Christ—Prof. John Murray in Europe, and his return to South Africa—Set-back
CONTENTS

CHAPTER XVI
ANDREW MURRAY AS A CHURCH LEADER 333

CHAPTER XVII
ANDREW MURRAY AS A MISSIONARY STATESMAN 373

CHAPTER XVIII

ANDREW MURRAY AS AN EDUCATIONALIST . . . . 394

Early Interest in education—Baptismal Sunday—Founding of Grey College—Dr. Brill’s appreciation—Educational undertakings in the Western Province—Mary Lyon’s influence—The Huguenot Seminary and other girls’ schools—Teachers’ conference at Worcester—Institutions affiliated to the Huguenot Seminary—Goodnow Hall—Address of Mr. Murray on education—Training Institute—Popular education for the rural districts—Circuit schools—Poor whites—Address at Fraternal Conference—Present position of “poor whites” question—The teaching of Dutch—Report of Committee on the question—The “Taal Bond”—Influence on Mr. Murray’s educational views of Thring’s Life—And of Spencer’s Sociology—Letter to his daughter—Degree of D.D. from Aberdeen University—And of Litt.D. from the University of the Cape of Good Hope—Dr. Walker on the graduation ceremony.

CHAPTER XIX

ANDREW MURRAY AS A SOUTH AFRICAN PATRIOT . . . 414

Andrew Murray’s love for his native land—His devotion to his flock in the Free State and the Transvaal—Paper in the Catholic Presbyterian on The Church of the Transvaal—Charl Cilliers—Religious attitude of the Transvaal Boers—Their attitude towards the natives—Their spiritual life—History of the Transvaal—The Annexation of 1877—The Boers appeal to arms—Independence secured—Growth of the feeling of nationality in South Africa—Dangers of the situation—Kruger and Rhodes—The Jameson Raid—Embittered feelings—Jan Hendrik Hofmeyr—Commencement of hostilities—Mr. Murray’s papers in the South African News—His Appeal to the British People—His support of the Boer cause—Intercourse with Christian brethren uninterrupted—Views on the feeling of nationality—The Women’s Monument at Bloemfontein—Description of the ceremony of unveiling—Mr. Murray’s address on the occasion—Letter to Dr. D. F. Malan—Mr. Murray’s endeavours to heal ecclesiastical dissensions—Letter on the “national sentiment.”

CHAPTER XX

ANDREW MURRAY AS A SPIRITUAL FORCE . . . . 435

Impossibility of measuring Mr. Murray’s influence—His evangelistic labours—Preparation for meetings—Letters written on his tours—Conference at Somerset East—Visits to Dordrecht, Barkly East, Lady Grey and Maraisburg—Overseas evangelists in South Africa—Dr. F. B. Meyer’s appreciation—The Ten Days of Prayer observed by the D.R. Church—Andrew Murray’s influence as a writer.
CONTENTS

—Visit to Europe and America in 1895—Appreciation by Rev. H. V. Taylor—Welcome at Exeter Hall—Addresses at Keswick—Rev. Evan H. Hopkins on his message—Visit to America—Northfield—Chicago—Evangelistic services in Holland—Closing meetings in London—Description in The British Weekly—Mr. Murray’s account of his spiritual growth—The influence of William Law—Law’s career and published works—Mysticism—Bernard of Clairvaux—Meister Eckhart—The “Friends of God”—Jacob Böhme—Objections to mysticism—Andrew Murray’s avoidance of the errors of mysticism—His estimate of Law’s weakness and strength—Wesley’s dispute with Law—Andrew Murray the reconciler of the views of both—Dr. Whyte on Andrew Murray’s spiritual autobiography.

CHAPTER XXI

ANDREW MURRAY AS AN AUTHOR . . . . 460

Early literary efforts, how occasioned—Books written at Worcester—Bliss in Jesus—Abide in Christ—The School of Prayer—Professor James Denney on The Holiest of All—How the books were written—The books of later years dictated—How the “Pocket Companion” series originated—Andrew Murray’s style—The eloquence of intense earnestness—Illustration from The Holiest of All—Methods of work—Periods of literary production—Messages delivered at critical junctures—The State of the Church and its influence—Translations into other tongues—Influence of his books in China—The publisher of the German editions—Letters of correspondents on blessing received—Extracts from the letters—In Time of Trouble, say—Letter from Dr. Alexander Whyte—Mr. Murray’s reading—Influence of William Law—Mr. Murray’s interest in mysticism—Books on prayer—Projected writings—Quotations from books—Remarks on books read.

CHAPTER XXII

ANDREW MURRAY’S HOME LIFE . . . . 484

Life at Wellington—The Parsonage—Clairvaux—Mrs. Murray—Her activities and influence—The children—Death of Haldane Murray—The family hymn—Circular letter—A family reunion at Kalk Bay—Addresses on the beach and in the church—One-day conferences—Mr. Murray in the pulpit—A typical day described—A journey in his old age—Reminiscences at Graaff-Reinet, Burgersdorp and Bloemfontein—Cart journey to Rhodes—Goings and doings a year before the end—Details of Mr. Murray’s personal life—His sense of smell and colour—His love for children—Praying in his sleep—Outlined reply to Berlin professors—Sense of humour—Gift of illustration—“Sweet reasonableness”—Advice in difficulties—Pertinent sayings—Ability to speak the fitting word—Services in connexion with the death of Rev. William Murray.
Chapter XXIII

Death, Funeral and Tributes

Last months—Last sick-bed—The end—Funeral ceremony—Tributes to the deceased—From Hon. J. X. Merriman—From the Cape Times—From Dr. F. C. Kolbe—From De Kerkbode on traits which characterized him—From Professor Marais on his wide influence, his writings, his philotimia—The "man of prayer" and the "man of affairs"—His influence in South Africa—His influence in the Christian world.

Appendices

Appendix A. Chronological Outline of the Life of Andrew Murray. 519

Appendix B. Bibliography of Andrew Murray's published works chronologically arranged by D. S. B. Joubet. 526

Index. 537
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Illustration</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Andrew Murray</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South Africa in 1852</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Andrew Murray (ret. 70)</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Father and Mother of Andrew Murray</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Andrew Murray as a young Minister</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>John Murray as a young Minister</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>House in which Andrew Murray was born—the old Parsonage at Graaff-Reinet</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Andrew Murray as a Student</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marischal College, Aberdeen</td>
<td>66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>View of Graaff-Reinet, with old Church</td>
<td>82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bloemfontein in 1850. From a painting possession of Sir John Fraser</td>
<td>97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Worcester, about 1877</td>
<td>193</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>View of Adderley Street, Cape Town, with Dutch Reformed Church. Painting by Bowler (1866)</td>
<td>248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>View of Wellington, with snow-clad Drakenstein Mountains</td>
<td>272</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Murray Family in 1873</td>
<td>281</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Andrew Murray’s Dwelling, &quot;Clairvaux&quot; (in the centre), with Training Institute for Missionaries (to the left)</td>
<td>316</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Andrew Murray in Old Age</td>
<td>352</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Andrew Murray unveiling Monument of Professors J. Murray and N. Hofmeyr, 1915</td>
<td>402</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Andrew Murray and his Family (about 1880)</td>
<td>488</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Patmos,&quot; Kalk Bay</td>
<td>500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>On the Rocks at &quot;Patmos&quot;</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
The record of a great and pure personality is the best bequest of time.—F. W. H. Meyers.

I would rather have written a great biography than a great book of any other sort, as I would rather have painted a great portrait than any other kind of picture.—Phillips Brooks.