APPENDIX A - INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

To study this central question, the following questions (to the project managers) were addressed in the study.

- What is your specific role in the broader mission of IGWS?
- How does your involvement / engagement with IGWS activities attempt to fulfil social justice concerns?
- What are the intended outcomes of your project?
- What are the challenges you face in this project?
- How have you attempted to deal and address the challenges?
- Is there anything that I have not asked that you would like to share with me?

The research questions addressed to the director were the following:

Government has placed a high value on ‘social justice issues’ in higher education policies:

- In this context, what is your understanding of social justice?
- How has your university responded to the government’s mandate of social justice?
