

A CONCEPTUAL TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT FRAMEWORK FOR PUBLIC EDUCATORS IN THE LIMPOPO DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

BY

NETSHIKHOPHANI AZWINDINI FREDERICK

Submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree Philosophiae Doctor
(PhD) – in Public Affairs in the School of Public Management and Administration
Faculty of Economic and Management Sciences

UNIVERSITY OF PRETORIA

SUPERVISOR: PROF P.A. BRYNARD

YEAR: JANUARY 2012

TABLE OF CONTENT

CHAPTER ONE

A HISTORICAL BACKGROUND TO THE NATIONAL CURRICULUM STATEMENT (NCS)

1.1 Introduction	15
1.2 Background to the development of the South African education system.....	20
1.3 Motivation for the study.....	28
1.4 Problem statement.....	30
1.5 Research question.....	32
1.6 Research objectives.....	33
1.7 Concept clarification.....	34
1.7.1 Public Administration and public administration.....	34
1.7.2 Public Service and public service.....	36
1.7.3 Human resource management.....	38
1.7.4 Training.....	39
1.7.5 Development.....	42
1.8 Framework for the research.....	44
1.9 Conclusion	47

CHAPTER TWO

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

2.1 Introduction	48
2.2 Public Administration and qualitative research.....	48
2.3 Rationale for qualitative research.....	50
2.4 Qualitative instruments.....	54

2.4.1 Literature review.....	55
2.4.2 A case study.....	57
2.5 Conclusion	62

CHAPTER THREE

THE POLICY ENVIRONMENT SUPPORTING TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT AS IT RELATES TO EDUCATION

3.1 Introduction.....	64
3.2 Policy environment for training and development.....	65
3.2.1 National education policy framework.....	66
3.2.2 National training and development policy framework.....	73
3.3 A theory of training and development	80
3.4 Training and development techniques or methods.....	85
3.4.1 On-the-job training.....	86
3.4.1.1 Coaching.....	87
3.4.2 Off-the-job training.....	88
3.4.2.1 Lecture.....	89
3.4.2.2 Case studies.....	90
3.4.2.3 Role playing.....	91
3.4.2.4 Group discussions.....	92
3.4.2.5 Vestibule training.....	92

3.4.2.6 University programmes (not for degrees purposes).....	93
3.5 Conclusion.....	95

CHAPTER FOUR

EDUCATOR TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT CHALLENGES

4.1 Introduction.....	97
4.2 Department of Basic Education’s perspective.....	98
4.2.1 Selective training.....	100
4.2.2 Shortage of competent educators in public schools.....	104
4.2.3 Poor learner performance.....	106
4.2.4 Job involvement and organisational commitment.....	111
4.2.5 Resistance to change.....	114
4.2.6 The inadequate knowledge level of trainers.....	118
4.2.7 The multiple roles of curriculum advisors.....	124
4.3 Educators’ perspective	130
4.3.1 The lack of training evaluation as training measurement.....	131
4.3.2 Subject allocation and workload.....	138
4.3.3 Training and development moratorium.....	141
4.4 Conclusion.....	144

CHAPTER FIVE

CONCEPTUAL SYSTEMS MODEL FOR THE TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT OF EDUCATORS

5.1 Introduction.....	146
5.2 A systems approach for training and development models.....	147
5.3 The Open - Systems model.....	148
5.4 The Nadler’s critical events model for training and development planning.....	158
5.5 The conceptualised systems model for training and development.....	164
5.6 Conclusion.....	173

CHAPTER SIX

RECOMMENDATIONS AND CONCLUSION

6.1 Introduction.....	175
6.2 Summary of the study’s findings.....	175
6.2.1 Training selection	178
6.2.2 Reliance on competent foreign educators.....	179
6.2.3 Learner performance versus the job performance of educators..	180
6.2.4 Educators attitude towards change.....	181
6.2.5 Unsatisfactory knowledge level of training and development facilitators.....	183

6.2.6 An overwhelming shortage of curriculum advisors and their multiple roles.....	185
6.2.7 The absence of training and development evaluation.....	186
6.2.8 The impact of subject allocation to workload.....	187
6.2.9 The moratorium impact on training and development.....	189
6.3 Study recommendations.....	190
6.3.1 Recommendations on selection for training.....	191
6.3.2 Recommendations on the shortage of competent educators....	193
6.3.3 Recommendations on learner performance versus job performance.....	196
6.3.4 Recommendations on the management of resistance to change.....	197
6.3.5 Recommendations on the inadequate knowledge level of facilitators.....	199
6.3.6 Recommendations on the shortage of curriculum advisors.....	201
6.3.7 Recommendations on training and development evaluation.....	203
6.3.8 Recommendations on subject allocation and workload.....	205
6.3.9 Recommendations on the moratorium impact on training and development.....	207
6.3.10 Recommendations in relation to the conceptualised model for training and development.....	209
6.4 Conclusion.....	210
LIST OF REFERENCES.....	213

LIST OF TABLES

Table 1: Budget allocation in FET and GET schools 2009/2010	103
Table 2. Learner performance in Grade 12	108
Table 3: Number of curriculum Advisors appointed and vacancies in the Vhembe District per circuit, as in October 2010.....	126
Table 4: Educator number per district.....	202

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1. Force Field Model.....	115
Figure 2. A systematic training model.....	133
Figure 3. A process for evaluating training contributions to the organisation.....	137
Figure 4. The organisation as a system.....	149
Figure 5. Internal and external training and development environment.....	151
Figure 6: A simplified figure of an open systems model for development and training.....	156
Figure 7. Nadler's critical events model.....	160
Figure 8: A conceptualised systems model for training and development.....	166

LIST OF ANNEXURES

1. ANNEXURE A: Questionnaire cover letter.....	231
2. ANNEXURE B: Educators' questionnaire.....	233
3. ANNEXURE C: Curriculum advisors' Questionnaire.....	237
4. ANNEXURE D: Access letter to the Department.....	241
ABREVIATIONS.....	10
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.....	11
ABSTRACT.....	12
DECLARATION.....	14

ABBREVIATIONS

ACE	Advance Certificate in Education
CODESA	Conference for a Democratic South Africa
CPD	Continuing Professional Development
C2005	Curriculum 2005
elrc	Education Labour Relations Council
EPMDS	Employee Performance Management and Development System
FET	Further Education and Training
GET	General Education and Training
INSET	In-service Education and Training
MASTEC	Mathematics, Science and Technology
NCS	National Curriculum Statement
OBE	Outcomes Based Education
PALAMA	Public Administration Leadership and Management Academy
SMTs	School Management Teams
SWOT	Strengths Weaknesses Opportunities and Threats
TUT	Tshwane University of Technology
UNISA	University of South Africa

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is indeed an impossible task to acknowledge by names all the people who have contributed in one way or another to the successful completion of this study. However, I wish to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to all those who were willing to participate in my study research through interviews and by completing the questionnaires by both office-based and school-based educators. I was, and still am, profoundly impressed by their willingness to trust and open up to me with their astonishing honesty in sharing their experiences through their positive contribution to the achievement of quality education service in South Africa.

My special thanks go to Professor P.A. Brynard my study supervisor, and to whom I am highly indebted for his valuable and untiring academic assistance with this study from its inception. He provided me with her insightful guidance, patience, inspirational thoughts and commitment throughout the period of this study. He took an ongoing interest in my study and responded promptly to my request for feedback and advice which kept me going despite all the challenges. I would also like to specifically acknowledge the academic support from Professor J.O.Kuye, the co-supervisor to this study, who reviewed this study and offered suggestions for its improvement.

Also gratefully acknowledged is Mr Benny Boshielo, The Head of Department in the Limpopo Department of Education for granting me permission to conduct fieldwork within the Department.

Lastly, very special thanks go to my family, my dear wife Selina and our God - given blessings, Livhuwani, Ndidzulafhi and Fulufhelo for giving me the much needed moral and spiritual support throughout my studies. I therefore dedicate this study and achievement to them since their encouragement has sustained me throughout the lengthy process of organising this study until its completion. Their interest in and enthusiasm for the study kept me going.

ABSTRACT

The educational changes that have been taking place in South Africa have seen the emergence of the new curriculum, the NCS, 2002 Policy. The process of implementing the new curriculum has created several challenges that ultimately had an impact on the performance of the public schools learners in the Limpopo Department of Education, particularly in Vhembe District. The new curriculum with its new pedagogical approach, a particular way of teaching methodology, the OBE focuses on the achievement of the outcomes. That on its own suggested the need for drastic changes in the teaching approach that educators have to apply.

It is through this need for change that the Department of Basic Education suggested the training and development framework that provide capacity building of educators. The curriculum advisors were identified as trainers of the educators towards the effective implementation of the new curriculum. This move was needed to build a workforce that is capable, skilled, productive and committed to provide quality education to the South African public.

However, the training and development that was provided did not take place without some challenges. The challenges identified were from both the perspectives of educators and the department. The analysis of all the problems that the study has identified and critically evaluated is a testimony that training and development alone cannot be the only solution to the challenges identified in measuring educator performance on curriculum delivery. As a result, overemphasis of training and development may overshadow other responsibilities that the Limpopo Department of education should take, such as the effective provision of resources.

It is against this background that the study proposed an inclusive and balanced training and development framework. This is a conceptualised training and development framework that takes note of all the inputs that both the educators and the department make towards the effective achievement of the desired outputs after these inputs shall have been processed. For good management and administration to be achieved by the Limpopo Department of Education, it depends on a well-structured strategic plan that has been informed by the vision and mission of the department which in this study is the achievement of quality education. This approach will then mean the effective application of the basic values and principles that govern public administration in order to achieve good governance.

DECLARATION

I Azwindini Frederick Netshikhophani, declare that the study: A conceptual training and development framework for public educators in the Limpopo Department of Education, hereby submitted by me, has not previously been submitted for a degree at this university, and that it is my own work in design and execution and that all reference materials contained have been duly acknowledged.

Signature:..... Date:.....