

NEW DUTCH REFORMED CHURCH OPENED AT BREYTEN.

The new Dutch Reformed Church at Breyten was opened recently in the presence of a large congregation, which came from miles round to attend the opening service. The upper photograph shows the pulpit Bible being transferred to the new church. The lower photograph shows the congregation entering the church after the doors were thrown open. The Rev. J. Veltman was one of the most enthusiastic workers for the erection of the new building.