Sons Of Serbia Die That Serbia May Live In Freedom.

(1) The wnstage of war. Serbian soldiers who have laid down their lives in the cause of freedom. (2) The Serbian in the centre of the picture is a hundred years old, but his spirit is young. He tells his hearers how their fathers fought for liberty.

From the cradle to the grave the Serbian is a fighting man. For generations the Serbs have had to fight for the right to live. As their fathers fell the sons took up the rifle. —Daily Sketch. Exclusive Photographs.

Threatened Verdun Now Firm Base Of Our Allies' Forward Move.

A dramatic change of the positions of the French and German army lines is taking place on the north-eastern frontier of France, round the wedge which the Germans inserted into the Allied line at St. Mihiel early in October.

From a threatened German investment of Verdun, this phase of the war is turning into a French threat against Metz.

The German General Staff says that this change is due to the Messines operation, which guards the line beyond the Aisne front. By means of his submarines, the Germans have now become the base of their own attacks.

A stirring account of the escape of the Holbein, which was called the "prelude to Verdun," has been received by a Greenwich gentleman whose brother is on board the ship. The war appears to be at its peak, and must have been driving its 11 knots in full speed, and one could not follow it in the water.

Of course, the war story is reported to be in charge of the operations north of Verdun, and is therefore responsible for more one defeat of the Kaiser's forces.

Menaced Verdun has now become the base of a great new advance.

The French and German official news of yesterday shows that the battle is developing with increased ferocity.

Public Servants To Be Released For War Work.

Birkenhead dockers have formed a strike. For the last six days they have refused to work at the shipyards, and this morning the last men turned up in large numbers at the docks, and agreed to work overtime.

Nearly 200 men registered themselves in Birkenhead yesterday for service in factories where munitions of war are being manufactured. They will be drafted wherever they are most urgently needed. Manufacturers are supplying lists of vacancies, and the unemployed are being sent to the factories with letters to local employers. The Admiralty has announced that it has received a request from the Lord Mayor of Birkenhead for the release of workmen for war service. On this understanding, 1,000 men can thus be released. Of these 600 come from Birkenhead, 200 from Liverpool, 100 from Manchester and 200 from Leeds. Renter's Agency is informed by the Nether­lands Minister in London that the Legislature "has no news whatever concerning any in any time to the better of the ship's crew," and that there is no truth in the report of now or special tension between the Netherlands and Germany.

The latest news indicates that the belligerents on both sides fully accept the government's statements, and that the Dordrecht council of war, which would have been given for the vindication of our cause, these armies have been presented to the Committee of War of the Rhine, which seems to have been abandoned in the ship immediately evidently they had done their utmost.

The British victory at Neuve Chapelle proves that we can break through the German lines at any time, and the success of their strategy will come the surprise of the war.

There is talk of the Allied leaders being held in Germany, and the Allied air force is working hard to strike harder blows, and to follow them up we must have big reserves. The Allies will so alter the design of the German war machine that the situation will be completely reversed. This will mean that the Allies will be in control of the war, and they will have the power of initiative.

SAVOY AS AUCTION-MART HATS AT THE PRINCESS-STANLEY WEDDING ART AND THE RED CROSS

BE SURE to lock in Monday's Daily Sketch for an important announcement concerning the altered conditions of the Needlework Competition. It will be of immense interest to all readers who are concerned in helping our wounded.

The Frock Auction

The War Fashion Tea at the Savoy Hotel on Thursday afternoon proved an enormous success, 350 "Standing room only" being my greeting when I arrived a little after 4 o'clock.

Everybody who was anybody was there, admiring and admiring the frocks made by Misses Reville and Rossiter and worn by the fair and famous.

Miss Ethel Leaf's gown of black taffeta, too thin to be called a "tudor," was sold for the largest amount, the bidder giving 50 guineas for the frock. She looked extremely well and carried the quaintness of parasites, from which some black charmeuse, her hair was crowned by a bright black satin hat, fringed in black and decorated with twin bead flowers. Miss Fay Davis, always a delightful figure, was owned to shabbiness, wearing a large flat satin hat and veil. Miss Davis, who was born in Havant, U.S.A., has had a career as a reciter, is at present playing "Searight's," and she has made a very decided success of it.

Miss Viola Tree, in a striking evening gown with a "polka dot" shawl, looked tall and very graceful in Royal blue taffeta, the skirt full and ruched, the corsage of blue tulle, and at her side a bundle of blue grapes, which Josephine Gwyn, who acted as assistant, stated were worth the price.

Lida Bilbrooke, of red-gold locks, was arrayed in prune-colored taffeta, the long "jumper" bedecked with chiffon to correspond. Miss Moore's marino blue Grecoan-ten-gown held me spell-bound, and so attracted was I that I fell to the dressing and abruptly knocked down to me before I realised my rashness.

Billiards And Bencovence

I was borne away from the aisle by Miss Ethel Leaf, who had promised to present the prize at the billiard handicap held at the Victoria Hotel to Miss Ethel Leaf's Artiste of the Month, Miss Ethel Leaf will give the first prize, Miss Leaf the second, and Miss May Jolly the third. George Graves was the winner of Miss Leaf's prize, which was a lovely laced and clock combination.

The Diamante Work

Calling at Mrs. Jimmy de Rothschild's house in Parkstreet, yesterday afternoon, I was delighted to hear that the diamanl work was going strong there and that since I had mentioned this delightful organisation they had received several orders, especially for the black and gold ones. Mrs. Jimmy de Rothschild is still in Paris.

Spring In The Home

Spring cleaning is in the air! The sun shines and things in one's house look faded. I try refresh and refreshen there is no better place one can go to than Liberty's. Every sort of fabric, and colouring is to be found there.

"My Chinese room is going to look shabby," exclaims Sylvia. How can our beloved city to Liberty's, where we greatly admired and promptly accepted all the lovely Chinese designs. Delightful cushions, superbly worked, were to be had for 52. Chinese bootees for a guinea, and book racks to correspond for 125. Chinese embroidered, consisting of portières, bell pulls, piano covers, etc., are numerous, and all very attractive.

The Red Cross Sale

The sale at Christ's, which takes place on Monday, should be extremely interesting. A wonderful collection will be sold in aid of the British Red Cross Society and the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England.

The Marquis of Ripon, the Hon. Charles Russell, of Red Cross Lane, Lord Curzon and Lady Curzon were also interested spectators. I wanted the pearl necklaces consisting of 231 pearls presented in Chinese designs. The Marie Antoinette of the present by the Princess Louise, Duchess of Marlborough.

At Larnack, Belgium, there is a little party of seventeen British nurses doing wonderful work attached to the Belgian Army. Already three have been awarded the Order of Leopold II. for doing the wounded under fire, and one was decorated personally by the Red Cross. When the nurses, who belong to the "All-Girls Nursing Company," first went to work, they were protected with nursing in the manner of the military hospital at Larnack, but, proving their worth, the annex was converted into a place of rest, containing 100 beds for their charge.

VICTORS TO THE TRENCHES

Later they visited the battlefields and helped send the wounded to the dressing stations.

The detachment of 17 is made up of six trained nurses and 11 assistants, all with some knowledge of first aid, home nursing, ambulance drill, cooking, and hot-water systems. Yesterday the Daily Sketch discussed the work of the nurses with the Red Cross in the Belgian lines, where the first aid has been for the past few days, and they have tended the wounded, but

THE CIGARETTE FUND.

An interesting variety of contributions reached us yesterday by the engineering artificers, ship's stewards, and electricians of H.M. Parliaments, sent half-a-crown sergeants. This is their twenty-eighth donation, and the second amount of a like amount comes from the employees of the ironmaster's office. The manuscript is highly approved. Daily Sketch warmly appreciates the efforts of all who send regular contributions.

Another day, a little boy, and the results of some "holiday collections" in hotels and guest houses. Finally, "O.K. R." sends half-a-crown, but the sender asks whether we know the name of the one who used to be famous.

AUSTRALIA'S SHARE IN THE WAR.

Australia's part in the war is costing the people of Australia over £50,000 per week. The bank of the expenditure is in wages and salaries of labour which in war is over £50,000 for the Commonwealth Fleet, and also in the service of the Royal Navy in the war.
CAN CIGAR WIN NEWBURY SPRING CUP?

Greenham Stakes Results In A Dead Heat.

SUN FIRE AND ALL FLY.

There is every promise of a capital race for the Newbury Spring Cup, and quite a lot of horses are fancied.

Mike Stone in Marion's sole representative in the race, and he won a trial the other day.

At the same time he has hardly so good a chance on the book as Wrac, who beat him in the race last year. Of course, Wrac sadly disappointed his connections in the Lincolnshire Handicap, but he was ridden in a manner foreign to him, and I expect him to give a much better display to-day.

The Lincolnshire failures make up quite an interesting little party, and there is nothing to choose between Charming and Ouram.

On the running on theCarltonsthey should again look after Ambassador, Let A, Bridge, Page, Mount, Williams, Charing, and Grig.

His Yama will not be sharp enough, and Happy Warrior has not been seen in public for quite a long time.

In a trial a fortnight ago Maidens but Lady Ormby, and the latter won in runaway fashion at Warrick last week.

Fridemose was inclined to be sluggish last year, but he has been going with plenty of dash at exercise lately, and he is certain to want a lot of work before him.

So will Draythorp, who is a very promising colt, but he has not the same rate of progression and frizz to his charge before the start.

As his last King's Scholar cannot be left out, and Woodfield may run well.

But the best of the lot, in my opinion, is Cigar. He has always been able to gallop, but seldom run twice alike.

During the winter he was put to jumping, and proved himself a happy exception to the bustling business. This is likely to have had a good effect, and the little extra haste of the last King's Scholar will have been quite out of his league.

He has only to be allowed to take a lot of beating, and no horse in the field will strip in better condition.

The CLASSIC TRIAL.

The four-year-olds at Newbury yesterday thoroughly fulfilled expectations or at least they were far from disappointing in the trial, which resulted in the division of the honours.

Last year the latter was some way behind Fly, and was only able to make the same progress as it did the year before, and he is certain to want a lot of work before him.

But what Mr. J. R. J. colts and hunter at a price in the Lincolnshire, and he simply would not be denied, although a Fly looked like getting the better of the argument a futurity was not their cup of tea according to Mr. J. R. J., and was offered to him at this price. Mr. J. R. J., of course, was not so keen a judge, and let the boys go.

The dead-heaters will next be seen in opposition in the classic, and the only one to take the lead is Fly to come up top on the occasion.

Lord Carberry was so good, and he was well pleased with him, and was F. D. Turner, who was evidently pleased in the market for Fly.

WHERE VOLTA SHOT HIS BOLT.

Volta is now a grand-looking animal, and though he was accustomed to behave well enough at the post, his name was always a matter of a little surprise when he started and his bolt a futurity out.

Considerable not so good as was thought, and none of the others is likely to be dangerous when the day arrives.

The Galileo and the Derby become more interesting as classics loom, and besides they are the former Peer Marion, Let Fly, Hunter, Prima Donna, and a group which should provide a capital race.

A SMART JVVENILE.

Hosmer looked like a good thing against a big field of juveniles in the Becksteigh Stakes, and he did well to be out of the betting, and he backed down after going half-way, and he won at 6-1.

Duggin, who belongs to Mr. Douglas Street, the well-known bookmaker, is a smart, well-behaved colt, and it is many more good races to come.

ROYAL REVIEW IN THE GREAT PARK AT WINDSOR.

The Queen and Princess Mary watching the troops march past. The presence of her Majesty was regarded as a great honour by the soldiers.

The King on his famous black charger. The cavalry, splendidly mounted and equipped, recalled the glorious victories their comrades won in the early days of the war. Accompanied by the Queen, Princess Mary and other members of the Royal Family, King George inspected the many troops quartered at Windsor. The parade was held in the Great Park, and the spectacle was an inspiring one as the soldiers marched past the King. His Majesty showed the keest interest in the men, and both Queen Mary and the Princess were delighted at the magnificent appearance of the khaki warriors.
