The latest news of the Sinn Fein rebellion in Ireland was communicated yesterday to Parliament by Lord Lansdowne, the Prime Minister, and the Irish Secretary. It showed that an attempt had been made to take Dublin Castle, that Government troops had been fired on, and that Liberty Hall—the headquarters of the "Citizen Army"—had been wholly or partially destroyed and occupied by the military.
The BOMBARDMENT OF EAST COAST TOWNS.
Slight Damage Done Though Big Guns Were Used.

4 KILLED, 12 INJURED.

Shells On Yarmouth As Well As Lowestoft.

From The War Office.

Wednesday Afternoon.

The bombardment of Lowestoft and Yarmouth yesterday morning began at 4.10, and lasted about half an hour. Despite the heavy guns employed by the enemy ships the damage was relatively slight.

A convoluted home, a swimming bath, a large, and 40 dwelling houses were extensively damaged; some 20+ dwelling houses were slightly damaged. Two men, one woman and one child were killed. Three persons were seriously wounded and nine slightly wounded.

A fire was also opened on Great Yarmouth at the same time. There the damage was one large building seriously damaged by fire, and another building slightly damaged by shell fire.

Huns Claim To Have Captured The Crew Of The Trawler King Stephen.

German Official News.

At daybreak today, the section of our High Sea forces bombarded with good success fortifications at Lowestoft, and erected a number of light Police stations at Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft, and afterwards, opened fire. The damage was not great, for the enemy's guns were small cruisers, and torpedo-boat destroyers.

A fire was opened on Great Yarmouth from one cruiser.

One destroyer and two enemy patrol boats were destroyed.

One of the latter was the trawler King Stephen, which according to reports was not saved; and in the case of the cruiser, the four guns of one cruiser were opened. The enemy's force, however, is not known.

The remaining enemy forces withdrew.

The "Indispensable" Butlers.

An application was made to the Government by two proprietors of a hotel in London for the exemption of two boys' butlers, aged 16 and 17. They did not think it would be possible to employ any butlers who could satisfactorily do such work.

The Postponed Call to the Married Men.

Report That Proclamation Will Be Posted In A Few Days.

GROUPS 33 TO AGES 27 TO 35.

A news agency states that the posters calling up Derby groups Nos. 33 to 41 (married men aged 27 to 35) will be issued in a few days. The men in these groups will report from May 20.

This proclamation will be printed in black on a green background. It will be remembered that the call to groups 33 to 41 was postponed some time ago on account of circumstances.

Both applications were refused, the Mayor observing that ex-soldiers or women should be appointed to such positions.

BLIND WIDOW IN TERRORS.

At London Tribunal yesterday, Thomas Bowler, an applicant, led his blind mother, a widow, to the witness stand.

"Poor old girl," murmured, a man in the gallery, who was reimbursed by the chairman for interfering. Bowler said he was the support of his mother and the partial support of his younger brother, married sister lived with them. She had two children, and her husband was serving at the front. The chairman said he would have to go, but they would allow 14 days' postponement.

The blind widow burst into tears at her son led to the court.

MR. NORMAN - HANDED OVER.

Clarence Henry Norman, slated to be treasurer of the U.S. War Committee, was taken to Great Yarmouth, and on Wednesday afternoon, was taken prisoner by the police. He was then taken away. The warrant for the courtly shown him, and was then taken away.

Mr. O'Malley, on Norman's behalf, asked for a demand that he never went into, this unfortunate accident with a desire to get himself. He cared nothing for money. What he was asking for was freedom.

Some time ago it was reported that the Kaiser had given him £5,000, and was hoping for a revolution in Ireland, and that he was now being handed over to his former friends, and that he was being handed over to the police. The warrant is now before the police. He is asking them to perform a treasonable act.

Not A Successful Connul.

As a British Consul at Lowestoft, I believe that Casement's was a success, but as an investigator of the U.S. War Committee, I believe that he had few equals in the British Consular service.

It was his intense desire to further Ireland's interests. We have had our hands full to judge his activities, and to judge the man himself. When he appealed to the public to support the movement for an independent Ireland, he was asking them to perform a treasonable act.

MR. HUGHES FILLED WITH ANGER.

Thankful That I.L.P., "Virus Of Deficiency" Is Not National.

It is said by some of them that there is nothing new which divides England and Germany. They are wrong. The sacrifice of another human life.

Mr. Hughes returned.

There must be no more talk of a crisis in a crisis like this, he added.

Mr. Hughes was speaking at Usher Hall, Edinburgh, in reply to the concerning the freedom of the press. Mr. Hughes also "capped" a Doctor of Laws at Edinburgh.

WHY AIRMAN WAS KILLED.

At the inquest yesterday on the body of Lieut. Whitaker, who was killed in a flying accident that occurred at Bournemouth on Monday, the following evidence was given.

"A visitor from London said the lieutenant was flying against the wind, which was very very. In making a sharp turn he banked very steeply, and the cause of the accident was attributed to his making a sharp turn without sufficient flying speed.

WHAT WILL HE SAY?

THIRD ZEPPELIN RAID IN THREE NIGHTS.

Enemy Airships Over East Coast of Kent.

ANOTHER FUTILE VISIT.

Reported One Bomb Was Dropped Into The Sea.

FROM THE WAR OFFICE.

Thursday, 2.15 a.m.

Zeppelins were reported over the east coast of Kent between 10.30 and 11 p.m. last night.

No report as to their having penetrated far inland has been received up to the time of the issue of this statement, and, as it is misty over East Kent, it is probable that they turned back before midnight.

It is reported that one bomb was dropped which fell into the sea.

TUESDAY'S FRUITLESS RAID.

Not A Single Casualty In Attack On Kent And Essex.

FROM THE WAR OFFICE.

Wednesday Afternoon.

No fresh facts have been reported concerning the Zepplin raid of last night. The Thames estuary was visited by the raiders, and over 100 bombs were dropped.

Not a single casualty is to be recorded.

No indication is given as to the raid over the Eastern Counties the previous night, the total number of bombs dropped is not mentioned.

There was only one casualty. The damage consists of the death of one horse, the destruction of a haystack; and much broken glass.

Numerous Shells Dropped On German Bivouacs And Stations.

French Official News.

PARIS, Wednesday Night.

An aerial which had been on the way to England has landed in the vicinity of Rosieres (Oise). Its two officers were taken prisoner.

An enemy aeroplane, which was destroyed by our anti-aircraft guns fell in flames in the direction of Bagatelle Pavillon, north of the Four Le Paris.

The German aeroplane which fell yesterday in the vicinity of Compiegne and Vaunoun, was destroyed by one of our guns, was brought down by Sub-Lieutenant Naveu. This is the sixth enemy machine brought down by this pilot.

During the night of Tuesday-Wednesday our bombardment aeroplanes were particularly active in the region of the Four Le Paris. Fourteen bombs were dropped on the park and bivouacs and on the station of Boneval. One of our aeroplanes was destroyed by a few shells near Damvillers, six on the station of Brielles, five on the station of Etaples, and one on the station of Peronne, six on the aerodrome of Hénin, and two on Bethel.

During the same night our aviators also carried out numerous bombardment operations in the region of Roye. Eighteen bombs were dropped on a munitions depot to the south of Viller-Carbantou, where heavy explosions were observed. 12 bombs were dropped on the bridge of Bachets.

During the afternoon of Tuesday-Wednesday a German airship threw a dozen bombs in the region of Etaples, Bethun and Prez-Plage. Two British soldiers were slightly wounded. The big French air raids in the Verdun region.

Cordon Round The Rebels.

St. Stephen's Green and Larkin's Stronghold Seized By The Troops.

LORD LANSDOWNE DESCRIBES THE LANDING OF SIR ROGER CASEMENT.

The latest available news of the Sinn Fein rebellion in Ireland is contained in the statements made in Parliament yesterday by Lord Lansdowne, the Prime Minister and the Irish Secretary. Mr. Asquith's statement is noteworthy as containing the first official intimation that the hand of Germany is discernible in the deplorable outbreak.

LORD LANSDOWNE.

Three days ago a German submarine and a German vessel disguised as a Dutch vessel appeared off the west coast of Ireland. From the submarine there landed in a collapsible boat three individuals, of whom two were made prisoners, one of them being Sir Roger Casement. The Germany ship was stopped and taken in tow by a British ship, but blew herself up.

The general officer commanding in Ireland reports that there is now a complete cordon of troops round the centre of the suburb on the north side of the river, and that two more battalions are arriving there this afternoon from England.

On Monday the rebels made a half-hearted attack on Dublin Castle, but it was not pressed.

They occupied St. Stephen's Green, and were received on the Government troops from windows.

The rebels seized two railway stations, as well as the Post Office.

To-day (Wednesday) at mid-day the building known as Liberty Hall— the headquarters of the "Citizen Army"— was wholly or partially destroyed and occupied by the military.

By two o'clock the Lord Lieutenant was able to report that the situation was on the whole satisfactory, and that the provincial news was reassuring.

The latest information is to the effect that telegraphic communication, though not fully restored, is possible.

There has been a small rising at Ardee and Louth, and a rather more serious one in Swords and Lusk, close to Dublin.

The last news as to casualties shows a total of:

15 killed, 21 wounded, besides two loyal Volunteers and two policemen killed, and six loyal Volunteers wounded.

MR. ASQUITH:

Troops have arrived from Belfast and England in Dublin.

Martial law has been proclaimed in Dublin City and County.

FOR SORE TIRED FEET, CORNS AND ALL FOOT TROUBLES.
WHAT SOLDIERS DO WHEN FEET ACRE, BEEN, SMART AND FERSPIE.

Many readers of the Daily Sketch may be interested to know how I permanently cured the extremely painful foot troubles resulting from my first few days of route marching. After numerous poultices and ointments had only increased the severity I consulted my father's old medicine chest, and was explained that certain saltrates, astringent, antiseptic and blisters are simply applied, taking up the clogged blood, and that there is really no need of enduring any form of foot misery as a simple moment. They can all be instantly felt and permanently cured by simply resting the feet for about ten minutes in a warm foot-bath consisting of a tablespoonful of ordinary Reudel Bath solution. This action even the worst corns so that they come out quite painless and smooth, and all inflammation and aching will quickly disappear, leaving the feet free from all pain from the heart to which the blood must be forced. The troubles are often due to poor pressure and live circulation in these extremities. By currying the feet as above directed, you will stimulate the blood circulation, clear out sebacous matter from the clogged pores, render the skin active, healthy and free from offensive odour or injurious effects of the blood. The simple bath may also be ready put up in convenient packets, one of which will prove more than sufficient to permanently cure the foot misery. A friend to whom I mentioned these saltrates even tried the treatment for irritable stomach and rheumatism with astonishingly good results, it after coming in showers from a long walk. You will feel like dancing with joy, and your newest foot-aches feel like the oldest pair you have.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Upon enquiry we find that although supplies of the above compound are limited, local chemists can still supply reasonable quantities from stock, and we are at your service. The treatment is of course wholly without expense in print. As in the case of all drugs, however, we are told that a sharp rise may be expected shortly, and it is therefore advisable to obtain a supply while it is still to be had easily and at very low cost.

RECRUITING AND RELIEF OF DEPENDANTS.

There is no doubt that the country will accept the recruiting proposals of the Government with much satisfaction. Those of us who opposed all-round compulsion for its own sake are always convinced that the Government stated the necessary numbers of men could not be otherwise obtained we would agree to all-round compulsion.

The proposals are even more reasonable than that. It appears that under existing arrangements the necessary numbers required for the Army are not always obtained in time. Therefore, efforts are to be made to secure the voluntary enlistment of unattested married men. If the rate of enlistment is not quick enough there will be compensation, and when 25,000 have enlisted it will be taken that all have the married men of military age.

We shall, of course, have the whole-hogs laughing and saying that this is really compulsion. Let them laugh! There are many reasons, some of which cannot be stated here, why the present state of the country and the point of view of the public, why this piecemeal enlistment is better than downright compulsion.

In the first place, it is possible that nearly all the married men will attest. You may be certain we shall not have compulsion for the sake of ten, or even twenty, more. The amount of trouble to the authorities will be saved if that can be avoided.

Secondly, with a fixed maximum, there will be no fear that starved men will be enlisted for the purpose of forced labour in the workshops. People who have not studied the labour question will say that if there is no work left for them, the men will not be able to afford to enlist.

Lastly, there is no doubt that even at this late hour a volunteer is worth much more than a pressed man. Even if compulsion had ultimately to be applied it would be wiser while to enlist as many more married volunteers. A mere question of sentiment, no doubt! But sentiment—a tremendous asset in any war—is of incalculable importance in a war which taxes all our resources.

As was expected, Mr. Asquith then went on to discuss what assistance should be given to able-bodied soldiers and to sailors to meet their civil liabilities.

It is good news that the Statutory Committee of the Patriotic Fund is to have no hand in the matter. This clears the scheme of its taint of charity; and the fact that the local commissioners who will investigate claims for relief will be barristers makes us hope that the amateur Mr. Pry will have no chance of insinuation.

The ground is fairly well covered, but a maximum of £2 a week does not seem to me high enough.

In London, the soldiers in four cases of small sums will be robbed out.

I do not notice a proviso that in no case shall the dependents of a recruit be evicted or have their furniture seized. How the liabilities are to be met, I have no idea. I do not know what the local Commissioners are to do, but the families of our fighting men must rest secure in their homes.

Finally, why cannot the Government declare right away that soldiers and sailors should be exempt from taxation unless they have private incomes of, say, £500 and over? Cannot we deal with this question in a generous way?
This vivid photograph suggests the fine spirit and animation that pervades it a painting of the battlefield after Agincourt. Their brilliant exploit was worthy of the glorious traditions of the "Fighting Fifth" on many a battlefield.

What Women Are Doing:

Madam Clara Butt at Blackpool

The Heroes of Anzac

By Mrs. GOSSIP.

NINE committees have already been formed in connection with the Clara Butt war effort at the Queen's Hall. They include the Church of England, the Catholic Church, Conductors and Composers, and the Drama.

A great number of ladies are interesting themselves in the work. The Duchesses of Norfolk, Somerset and Rutland, Adeline Duchess of Bedford and Millicent Duchess of Sutherland, Lady Northcliffe, who is one of the hostesses of the committee, Mrs. Auten Chamberlain, and Miss Cockburn are a few of the names I remember.

Silver Notes for the Red Cross.

By the way, Mrs. Clara Butt sang on Sunday evening at the Tower, Blackpool, and when she got back to the Hydro, St. Anne's-on-Sea, where she was staying, the manager asked if she would entertain the idea of singing one song to the 300 guests. They promised to guarantee £50 at least for her Red Cross work. Of course, with her usual kindness, Mrs. Butt sang, amid the greatest enthusiasm and excitement, in the lovely ball-room, with the pretty things sitting on the doors and in every available spot. Mrs. Butt is naturally delighted with the result, as £200 was collected and presented to her for the fund.

Mrs. Eckstein and the Star and Garter.

Among ladies who are arranging the "Oriana Madrigal Society Concert," to be held Wednesday at the Xolian Hall, in aid of the Star and Garter Building Fund, is Mrs. Eckstein, whose portrait is here.

Her ladyship, Lieut. Bernard Eckstein, has been at the front ever since the war began, and is now an aide-de-camp.

One of the features of the evening will be the recital of Elizabethan lyrics by Miss Elizabeth Eckstein, who has a pretty voice and quite a talent for recitation.

At the Carlton.

The Carlton Hotel seems to be enjoyed by holidays; it is always full. On Tuesday I found there at lunch time a very large crowd. Among those I knew were the Baronne d'Erlanger, a bright green toque and a dark mitre, Mr. Walter Winans, Lient. Cecil Boyd Rochfort, Scots Guards, the Countess of Clontarf, in a sailor-shaped hat, and Miss Iris Herbert, who was carrying a wee dog.

Cheering the Anzacs.

After luncheon I waited, with many thousands more, outside the Carlton to see those splendid Colonials pass by, in being Anzac day.

What wonderful looking fellows they were. They were nearly all clean shaven, all bronzed, all smiling faces, and a pleasant word since the war began, and is now an aide-de-camp.

How the girls on the pavements, six and seven deep, admired those boys. They gave them flowers, keepsakes, pocket handkerchiefs, and a new found loving kiss.

One old lady, sadly pushed about by the crowds, particularly struck me in the front rank of hero-worshippers, and quite near to where I stood. She called out to a fine-looking lad. "Have you had a good dinner, dearie?"

"Not half, thank you, ma," was his reply as he handed her a flower from his felt hat, which he wanted to change, I wanted to smile, but I had to cry.

Heroes at the Theatre.

In afternoons went to His Majesty's Theatre to meet the matinee to the Australian Imperial Forces, and stood all the time.

Several of those splendid Gallipoli heroes insisted that I "take their seats in the stalls. Not for a five-pound note," was their reply. I deeply regretted the selfishness of many civilians who have taken seats when a great number of their fighting cousins were unable to gain admission.

Owing to the foresight on the part of those who were responsible for the matinee, many Australians enjoyed themselves at various theatres that were open.

A Modest V.C.

I chatted to Lance-Corporal Keay, V.C., of most excellent. Fred Lindsay (the Australian) was loudly cheered. Mrs. Ada Cross, of course, received a rousing reception. She sang "Land of Hope and Glory." Miss Ethel Levey brought down the house by singing "Mother is a Girl." Of course, there were countless other artists who received the same applause. I think I have been for every matinee that has been organised in connection with the war, but the "Anzac" one at His Majesty's is the one I most enjoyed.

Ten at Kempff's.

Rumpelharry's was filled at tea-time when I looked in there. One of the most interesting men I met was Mr. Haddon Chambers, just back from America, and looking very fit. He was having tea with friends.

At another table I caught sight of Lady Greville, charming in blue serge, and wearing a winged toque. Mrs. Townsend, wife of the famous general, was also in navy serge and a becoming velvet hat to correspond.

Not far away I noticed the Marchioness Townsend in a loose black wrap and a large black hat.

Lady Greville's Matinee.

Lady Greville's matinée, which takes place on May 9, at Drury Lane, for the Serbian Relief Fund, promises to be a great success.

I have already told you that the Duchess of Westminster will act with Morton. Lady Herbert Harvey, Lady Muriel Bertie, Lady Rothermere, who has been staying at Knutsford Park, and Miss Bridget Barclay have promised to help, as have also Mrs. Par de Buitle, Count Polcastro, Sir Harry Mannering, Signor Domingo Merry dell Val, and ever so many more.

A Good Dinner For Charity.

Monday of May Day, and amongst various in-and-outers Ciro's Club are giving a special dinner, the profits to be given to the Y.M.C.A., who has done so much good work in connection with the war for the comfort of our troops.

After dinner there will be a collection of flowers. Baskets of flowers will be sold by well-known cartiers all for the good of the cause.

A charming Actress.

Here is a picture of Miss Estelle Winwood, who gave me an encore, a picture of their act, sing and dance, there is a big and great crowd in store for many of the scenes we have been fortunate enough to have at the "Half-Past Eight."

Comedy Next Monday.

Some Of The Hats.

Kitty insisted that after spending Easter by the sea a new hat was a positive necessity, so I was dragged forth to the Maison Lewis to inspect the hatmaker at this famous salon.

Every style and shape was in evidence. The hats I admired and envied most I will endeavour to describe. As you had a good dinner, dearie?

"Not half, thank you, ma," was his reply as he handed her a flower from his felt hat, which he wanted to change, I wanted to smile, but I had to cry.

GERMANS LOSE 1,000 MEN IN LORRAINE ATTACK.

New Assault Shattered By French Curtain Fire.

French Official News.

Paris, Wednesday, 11 p.m.

To the north of the Aisne there was a reciprocal bombardment in the region of the Bois des Roches.

The total number of prisoners taken by us in the course of the attack yesterday is 1,088, including four officers. We also captured two Innsbruck guns and a trench mortars.

In Champagne our artillery carried out concentration fire on the enemy’s positions in the Dormone valley.

In the Argonne our batteries were very active against the German organisations of Hill 295, of Vaquins, of the Cheppy wood. In Lorraine a German attack which attempted to break through our positions in the north of Semonce was stopped by our curtain fire. Several prisoners, including an officer, remained in our hands.

According to fresh reports the figure of the losses suffered by the Germans in the course of the attack made yesterday upon our salient of La Chapelle must be estimated at about 1,000 men.

1,000 GERMANS ENGAGED IN THE FIGHTING AT KATIA.

Yeomen’s Determined Stand Before Superior Forces.

From The War Office.

Further information has now been obtained of the fighting at Katia on Easter Sunday.

Our mounted troops, consisting of the Gloucestershire Hussars, the Warwicks Yeomany, and the Worcestershire Yeomany, who were holding a position in and about the village of Katia, were attacked by a greatly superior Turkish force before which they fell back, fighting a rearguard action and inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

The Worcestershire Yeomany made a determined stand at Katia, but, owing to their horses being put out of action by shell fire, they were unable to continue their retreat as so to cooperate with the other regiments, and a number of them were captured by the Turks. According to preliminary reports, the total number of prisoners consisted of Germans, estimated at 1,000, as well as picked Turkish infantry, who had fought at Ardey and Besal. Mounted on camels.

The Turks, except for a force of 1,000 men who are still established at Besal, are now clear of Katia.

The Turks have paid dearly for this raid, sustaining losses, particularly at Duerdye, and as a result of the fighting attacks, have been very heavy.

On Tuesday morning no traces of the Turks were left in the region of Duerdye, and so under the early morning light of our seaplanes, a bombardment attack on the Turkish force was planned, and the enemy’s aeroplanes were dropped bombs on Port Said. No damage or casualties have so far been reported.

TRAGEDY OF GUN-RUNNING IN IRELAND.

Two Unknown Men In A Motor Car Drowned In A River.

Telegraphing on Saturday a Tralee (County Kerry) correspondent says:

"Austin Stack, a law clerk, and Cornelius Coff, described as an accountant in the General Post Office, Dublin, were arrested at Tralee on Friday night charged with conspirancy and aiding and abetting the importation of arms from the enemy, and were to-day remanded in custody by the resident magistrate.

"The arrest is connected with the seizure of a boat in Tralee Bay with arms and ammunition believed to be for Sinn Fein Volunteers.

"A man of unknown nationality arrested near the boat was removed to Dublin under a strong escort. He is believed to have important documents in his possession.

"Two men who were seen some distance from him are wanted by the police.

"A sensational sequel to the matter occurred at Kilbaha, where a motor-car from Limerick with three unknown occupants went over the quay into the river. The chauffeur survived, but the other occupants were drowned. They are believed to have been connected with the arms landing expedition.

"The captured boat is now believed to be connected with a Dutch vessel which has been known to be landing arms round the coast to land arms for Sinn Fein.

"Excitement over the matter runs high in Tralee."

If food disagrees drink hot water.

When food lies he^ad in the stomach and you have that uncomfortable, distended feeling, it is because of insufficient digestion. If you should dislike the stomach, combined with acid and food fermentations. In such cases try the juice of one lemon followed by a cup of hot water. It is now recommended by many hospitals and advised by eminent specialists of taking half a teaspoonful of pure brewer's yeast in a glass of water until you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach, helps to check the flatulence, as magnets, or as physicians or chemists, can tell you instantly neutralizes the acid and stops fermentation. Try this simple plan and you can enjoy all the bonanzas of life, to the foods you have had to avoid. Your landlord will be the first to tell you that you are doing yourself credit at the tenement.

IMPORTANT.—We are advised that Bristow Magnesia is now obtainable at all chemists at the following prices:

Powder form, 1/3 and 2/9 per bottle.

Tableted form, 1/1 and 5/1 per pack.

Mother's Heart Glaedened.

Baby's Eczema Cured by Zam-Buk.

Mothers, are well aware what a trial, expense, and anxiety are caused by children's skin troubles. They will, therefore, read with profit the experience of Mrs. B. C. Amersin, of 49, Dickenson Road, Ranelagh, Manchester, who writes as follows:

"My baby, Joyce, now 10 months old, had a hideous pimple on her ear. Other spots soon broke out. We could not prevent her scratching them, and they spread all over her face.

"The doctor said that the spots were eczema and prescribed powder. Joyce's spots became worse, and the poor child could not eat or sleep.

"I then tried Zam-Buk, which cured her eczema. My other child, 18 months old, is very sensitive to any change in the weather, and had a dozen eczema troubles. This was getting worse, and we could not prevent her scratching her eczema.

"I then tried Zam-Buk, which cured her eczema. My other child, 18 months old, is very sensitive to any change in the weather, and had a dozen eczema troubles. This was getting worse, and we could not prevent her scratching her eczema.

"I applied Zam-Buk to her ear, and within a few days it was healed and as good as new. The eczema spots have disappeared, and she is now quite well. I am very much obliged to you for the valuable advice.

"I am now going to give my other child some Zam-Buk, as I am sure it will do her as much good as it has done Joyce.

"I am very much obliged to you for the valuable advice."

GERMAN NAVAL ‘VICTORY’ AT LOWESTOFT.

A baby, a woman, a youth and a man were killed. “It was a glorious victory.” (Exclusive pictures of the great German triumph.)

In this house a young woman of 21, her 19-year-old brother, and a nine-months-old baby were killed.

Here is the baby (inset), whose death helped to make this latest naval “victory” for Germany. The larger photograph shows another house where a man was killed.

The middle of this house was blown out, but fortunately the building was empty at the time. What a disappointment for the Hun pirates!

This is the damaged convalescent home. Inset is the portrait of the only woman killed in the raid.
