A FAIR SETTING TO A NOBLE CAUSE.
CHILDREN LEVY TOLL ON ROYALTY AND SOCIETY AT THE CHELSEA FLOWER SHOW, TO HELP THE FAMILIES OF FALLEN OFFICERS.

The Duchess of Marlborough was interested in the flowers.

Viscount Moore, Lady Drogheda's son, and the Hon. Joan Yarde Buller, Lady Churston's daughter, with the aid of a tiny Shetland pony, collected for the Belgian Agriculturists' and Lads' Imperial Gift fund Families Fund. (Daily Sketch Photographs, May 24, 1918.)

Mrs. Asquith came in a black satin coat, trimmed Redskin style.

King Manoel of Portugal and his Queen were among the visitors.

An Ane was a willing contributor to
HOW TO WIN THE WAR, BY WINSTON CHURCHILL

Stop The "Waste Of Power" And Use All Resources.

SOLDIERS WHO DO NOT FIGHT

"Only 500,000 Troops Against The British."

WHERE IS OUR 5,000,000 ARMY?

Remarkable allegations about the "waste of British war power" were made by Mr. Churchill in another of his weekly broadcasts. He said yesterday, following Mr. Asquith's motion for a 300-million vote for the Army, it was unreasonable for people to expect the war to turn decisively and suddenly in our favour, at the present time (said Mr. Churchill). The remaining armies were too small and too evenly matched. We felt the stronger and had a preponderance of men, but against this there was the central position of the enemy, the superiority of their war direction, and the advantage of time.

We had larger reserves, actual and potential, than the enemy, and it was in the use and development of these reserves that we could assert our superiority. We could achieve this, and despite the difficulties, achieve it, if we had the necessary force of will.

"USE THE CONSCRIPTS PROPERLY."

It was important that the best use should be made of these reserves. Our resources should be immediately related to the war, and our reserves must be kept both for home defence and invasion. The Admiralty told the Government at the outbreak of war that they could send all the regular forces out of the country. Everything that had happened since had tended to consolidate the position of this country as regards invasion. Our naval resources had increased, and our offensive arrangements had vastly improved since the formation of the new government.

NAVY CAN PREVENT INVASION.

How many men were needed for home defence against invasion? The Admiralty told the Government at the outbreak of war that they could send all the regular forces out of the country. Everything that had happened since had tended to consolidate the position of this country as regards invasion. Our naval resources had increased, and our offensive arrangements had vastly improved since the formation of the new government.

"CUT THE EXCESSIVE EXPENSE.

"The part played by the Indian troops was less important than their value to the Government in their own country. However, the Indian troops were a great asset to the War Office. The War Office would continue its efforts to maintain the regular army.

PUBLICANS AND "LONG PULL"

Action For Slender Through Gossip With The Customers.

Two neighbours in Pershore, Worcestershire, were at law in the King's Bench yesterday in an action for slander.

Mr. Fred Richman, of the Britannia, said Mr. John Richman, of the Britannia, was a tenant and operated a public house. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman.

Mr. John Richman, however, had made it a condition of his lease that he would not sell any goods to the tenants of the Britannia. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman.

A resident, who lived at the Britannia, gave evidence on oath that he had heard the conversation in question, and that Mr. John Richman had made it a condition of his lease that he would not sell any goods to the tenants of the Britannia.

Mr. John Richman, however, had made it a condition of his lease that he would not sell any goods to the tenants of the Britannia. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman.

Mr. John Richman, however, had made it a condition of his lease that he would not sell any goods to the tenants of the Britannia. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman.

"THE ARMIES AND THE COMMONWEALTH."

Mr. Fred Richman, of the Britannia, said that Mr. John Richman, of the Britannia, had made it a condition of his lease that he would not sell any goods to the tenants of the Britannia. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman.

A resident, who lived at the Britannia, gave evidence on oath that he had heard the conversation in question, and that Mr. John Richman had made it a condition of his lease that he would not sell any goods to the tenants of the Britannia.

Mr. John Richman, however, had made it a condition of his lease that he would not sell any goods to the tenants of the Britannia. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman.

Mr. John Richman, however, had made it a condition of his lease that he would not sell any goods to the tenants of the Britannia. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman. The tenants of the Britannia had been ordered to refrain from any goods and to avoid the name and reputation of Mr. John Richman.

"THE QUEEN AMONGST THE FLOWERS."

Society's First Open-Air Function Of The Season.

SWEETSMILES AND CREAM.

The Queen and Princess Mary were among the earliest visitors to the spring show of the Royal Horticultural Society, which was opened in the presence of both of them on Monday last.

The Queen looked charming in grey, with hat and veil, and the Princess was in a tussore coat and skirt. The royal visitors, who were received at the entrance by Mr. W. Wilks, secretary of the society and Dr. Keelie, spent a pleasant hour in the five marquees before the crush came.

The members of the society, who were in the majority, appeared to be the most satisfied of them all. The banks of roses and pink rhododendrons, the fragrant shrubbery, and the gorgeous show of orchids, estimated to be worth £200.000, were in perfect bloom. The show was particularly notable for the efforts of notable firms of seedsmen to improve the country's fruit supply. Both the Queen and Princess Mary amply fulfilled the giant flowered in the centre of the show, and a large number of the flowers were selected for special prizes. The Queen was also greatly interested in Sutton's new miniature white tobacco plant, and an entirely new variety of small flowered camellias.

Children And The Pony.

The orchids, a gorgeous display, were, of course, particularly admired by the Queen, who was in grey suit and shawl, and who was also in grey, with a white green hat. Other well-known orchids in the show included the blacklip with white petals, Lord and Lady Rothschild's blacklip with white petals, and Lord and Lady Bute's blacklip with white petals. The Duke of Wellington's orchids were also highly praised.

As the day advanced the crush of people increased. The society's President, Lord and Lady Harewood, who had made a pretty picture parading the grounds with a Shetland pony, and with Lord and Lady Leveson-Gower, were present.

By the afternoon the numbers of people had doubled, and the grounds were crammed with visitors. The society's President, Lord and Lady Harewood, who had made a pretty picture parading the grounds with a Shetland pony, and with Lord and Lady Leveson-Gower, were present.

As the day advanced the crush of people increased. The society's President, Lord and Lady Harewood, who had made a pretty picture parading the grounds with a Shetland pony, and with Lord and Lady Leveson-Gower, were present.

As the day advanced the crush of people increased. The society's President, Lord and Lady Harewood, who had made a pretty picture parading the grounds with a Shetland pony, and with Lord and Lady Leveson-Gower, were present.

As the day advanced the crush of people increased. The society's President, Lord and Lady Harewood, who had made a pretty picture parading the grounds with a Shetland pony, and with Lord and Lady Leveson-Gower, were present.

As the day advanced the crush of people increased. The society's President, Lord and Lady Harewood, who had made a pretty picture parading the grounds with a Shetland pony, and with Lord and Lady Leveson-Gower, were present.
GERMAN MASSES FLUNG AT FRENCH POSITIONS

Desperate Assaults East And West Of Meuse.

MURDEROUS STRUGGLE.

Fort Douaumont Held Fiercely By The French.

ENEMY ATTACKS SHATTERED AT THE DEAD MAN.

What was probably the most desperate fighting of the war took place yesterday on both sides of the Meuse.

The French, despite an extremely violent struggle, were driven back from the Meuse by the Germans, who were probably in the sacrifice of life.

In the east, however, the Germans had been driven by a merciless French artillery and machine-gun fire.

The Hauardont-Douaumont front from a furious struggle was continued throughout the day, which is described in the French official report as 'murderous.'

Numerous attempts were made to dislodge the French from the Douaumont Fort, but the result was failure and heavy losses for the Germans.

FUTILE MASSED ATTACKS BY THE GERMANS.

French Cannon And Machine-Guns Shatter Furious Assaults.

French Official News.

In the region of Verdun the German counter-attacks have assumed a character of extreme violence on the whole of the front, but it is not yet possible to estimate exactly the large effort which has been taken in.

On the left bank of the Meuse, after a bombardment with heavy shells lasting all the morning, the Germans several times launched their assaulting masses against our positions to the east and west of the Dead Man.

The French repulsed these assaults by our artillery and machine-gun fire, with repelled with sanguinary losses.

In the course of the attack the French, fighting fiercely with the bayonet, swiftly passed beyond the right flank of the German attack.

The success of the attack on the second German line was as brilliant as that on the first.

The troops dashed through the wreckage of the wire entanglements, for the most part turned down by results of our artillery, which through the invisible air.

In a few moments later the French reached the very foot of the former works of the ruined fort.

The Germans, at first taken by surprise, met the furious counter-attacks, all of which failed.

ONE AIRMAN DEFEATS THREE.

Frenchman Brings Down German Plane And Puts Two Other On Flight.

French Official News.

PARIS, Tuesday Night.

In the region of Farnes a German machine-shelled by one of our guns was brought down in our lines.

Near Beaumont an aviator which was badly hit in the course of an aerial fight in the enemy's lines.

In the region of the Linge, one of our pilots, attacking three enemy aeroplanes, brought down one of his adversaries and put the two others to flight.

THE IRISH REBELS' MENU.

This is the dietary of the Irish rebel prisoners in detention barracks visited yesterday by representatives of the Press.

-1 lb. of beef or stewed brisket, 1 lb. of potatoes or other fresh vegetables, 2 oz. of tea or coffee, 2 oz. of bread and milk, and jam.

-3 oz. of rice or vegetables, 2 oz. of butter, 1 lb. of sugar and fresh milk, and 2 oz. of bread and jam.

-3 oz. of rice or vegetables, 2 oz. of butter, 1 lb. of sugar and fresh milk, and 2 oz. of bread and jam.

BOMBS LAUNCHED ON THE DOUAUMONT FORT.

An aeroplane carrying bombs has been sent on an extensive tour by the French Air Service.

The German Imperial Chancellor, Herr von Hohenzollern, has been attacked by three enemy aeroplanes.

Lord Northcliffe, in a speech at the Board of Trade, urged that Lord Curzon's position should have more power in order as to sending letters to the Chinese.

Mr. McNeill, president of the Liverpool Board of Trade, was reported to be a serious quarrel between the police and the Chinese.

The German Imperial Chancellor, Herr von Hohenzollern, has been attacked by three enemy aeroplanes.

Lord Northcliffe, in a speech at the Board of Trade, urged that Lord Curzon's position should have more power in order as to sending letters to the Chinese.

Mr. McNeill, president of the Liverpool Board of Trade, was reported to be a serious quarrel between the police and the Chinese.
LIFE GUARDSMAN'S FIANCEE

Miss S. Catterell, daughter of Sir J. Catterell, Bt., is engaged to Sec.-Lieut. C. D. Levee, 1st Life Guards. Her mother is a daughter of the Duke of Richmond.—(Walter Barnett.)

AMERICA PREPARES FOR WAR.

America is getting ready for war, in case there is a rupture with Germany. She is converting high-speed motor-boats into miniature cruisers. This is one of the "waps," as they are termed.

TWELVE HOURS ADrift.

Capt. H. McKegg and thirty-nine of his crew were adrift in small boats for twelve hours after their vessel was torpedoed by a submarine. They were picked up by a passing steamer and taken to New York.

TWO PRETTY BRIDES OF ARMY OFFICERS.

Miss Schmitz.

Two of yesterday's war brides, Miss Schmitz was married to Captain Cowie at St. George's, Hanover-square, and Miss Curtis to Captain V. A. F. Stokes, 10th Hussars, at St. Peter's, Eaton-square.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1916.

GIVE YOUR NERVES THREE GOOD MEALS A DAY.

PHYSICIANS EX PHOSPHATE MAKES THE NERVES STEADY AND STRONG.

Phosphate is the natural food of the nerves, and the form in which most readily absorb and transform into vital nervous energy is known as bitro-phosphate. You can get bitro-phosphate from your chemist in the form of 9-grain compressed tablets, and if you take one of these tablets immediately after each meal you will provide your nerves with the nourishment they need so badly.

Food for your nerves and they will become steady and strong, and as your nervous strength increases, so your general health will improve. Your brain will act quickly and clearly, your eyes will grow brighter, your step will become firmer and your cheeks will glow with health. Laziness, languidness, weakness and depression will be overcome and a wonderful increase in vigour and vitality will be quickly noticeable. Sufficient bitro-phosphate tablets for a fortnight's treatment costs only 2s.6d, so get a supply from your chemist to-day and just see what they will do for you.

Sleep

Restored

Sleeplessness often comes from Worry, Anxiety, Over-work and the like, of which act by causing strain on the nerves.

The nerves are tired and they want more food. But it must be food that contains just those substances which are used up in the nerves when they become tired.

Drugs are worse than useless: they merely whip the tired nerves, and use them up faster than ever. Virol, on the other hand, is a direct nerve food, made from natural substances, and is not "reinforced" by the addition of nerve-whipping chemicals.

Virol promotes sleep by strengthening and soothing the nerves. The sleeper, instead of suffering from "that heavy feeling" which follows the taking of narcotic drugs, awakens with a sense of new vitality, because Virol has supplied him with just the food he needs.

British Made and British Owned.

VIRUL

For sleeplessness take one tablespoonful of warm milk, to which is added a teaspoonful of Virol, three times a day—one tablespoonful on retiring to bed.

In Glass & Stone Jars, 1s., 1/-. VIRUL LTD., 16-16, Old Street, E.C.

It is the pure Oxygen that Colox liberates in use which so thoroughly cleans the teeth and makes them so white and beautiful. It is this purifying and revitalising Oxygen which leaves the mouth so delightfully fresh and clean and the breath so sweet.

THE OXYGEN TOOTH POWDER.

FREE Sample for every tooth that is not too hard.

Queen Among The Flowers.

Carlyle and Princess Mary arrived at the Chelsea Flower Show at 11 a.m., and were conducted by Mr. Frederick Leenhouts, F.R.H.S., to the Prince of Wales's Gardens, and the Rev. W. Wilks, who has been for more than a quarter of a century the secretary of the Chelsea Flower Show, and who takes particular care to see that the roses, the Hon, John Russell's collection of shrubs, and the pink peach rhododendrons, which was one of the gems of the show.

Royal Costumes.

Her Majesty was wearing grey and the Princess a beautiful buff costume, as a noted horticulturist described it, and horticulturists are usually in agreement on such matters. Lady Grey, who was with Don Manuel, was in soft grey with a green hat.

Who Were There.

Among the people present were the Duchess of Westminster, Adelaide Duchess of Bedford, the Duchess of Portland, the Countess Grey, Lord and Lady Balfour of Burleigh, Lord and Lady Portmouth, Lady French, and Lady Northcote. Also the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Gladstone.

The year was 1914, and there were from 20,000 to 30,000 people present, and they were all to be seen asfected by the bread cards. Sauces are no longer the monopoly of a Belgian, since there are at present no sausages in Berlin. And that means much more than it would in England.

We hear, too, of a huge army of people living for the most part in a state of Bitterness, where a quantity of fat was for sale; while Munich is said to be suffering from such a scarcity of meat that the majority of the butchers' shops are closed.

The tale runs; and now that there has been a crisis in the German Cabinet; you know that a food distributor has been appointed.

But does that mean that very soon indeed Germany will have nothing to eat? Not a bit of it! Long before there was the least chance that she would be decreed that potato meal should be mixed with the flour. When a Socialist paper takes the authority of a lack of organised blood, you may be certain that the Government will have to do the rest of the food resources under its thumb. We are not, of course, in a position to know through the truth of the statement that the present shortage is likely to be permanent. But we may be certain that in any case that tickets would be issued, and the people of Germany are fighting for fat you say? Quite so! and nevertheless the authorities may have large stores. The Germans look ahead, instead of living less the authorities may have large stores.

Vonewer New M.'s

The Germans M.P. for Toosloer, received a cordial and sympathetic cheer as he took his seat in the House of Commons yesterday. The bad news is that they are now

The Busy Bank.

One of the busiest places just now is the Bank of England. The 4½ per cent. dividend warrant, due June 1, are now being prepared. What this means can be gauged by the size of the loan—over six hundred million pounds. The Treasury does not want to disappoint the province, and when the quarter of the £15,000,000 dividend as income tax, the present dividend when received on the 30th October, and the 3rd November, will carry. But the present dividend when received on the 30th October, and the 3rd November, will carry.

Why "Please"?

Why do military authorities take on that absurd "please" in their orders? It seems to me that there is one thing that I have just seen. "Your communication has been forwarded to the officer commanding the battalion”—which is not merely immaterial, but you. Every adjutant whom I have asked for an explanation have for once been at a loss.

"Some" Pend.

The platoon was on night manoeuvres—and on a very dark night, too. They started along the old road, and suddenly the sergeant in front collided with something; his hand plunged into cold water—a rare occurrence in England. "Hallo! We're in a blanket," he said. For a few moments the platoon grew. Then smiled. The sergeant had run into a horse-trough!

Young Yasas.

All the world knows Yasas, the great violinist. He has been playing at Albert Hall concerts quite recently. He is a very fine looking man, and we cannot imagine him sitting on the platform. Secondly, Lord Lieutenant. Lord Hardings of Heir Comes House.

Now that Lord Harding of Penhurst has returned to his home in the West, he is again sitting as his assistant, the Hon. A. L. Harding, has been transferred from the Indian Army to the Colonial Office. Secondly, Lieutenant Harding lost his eldest brother, who was in the 5th Wa. The new Marshal of War is a son of Viscount Harding, a colonel in the 7th Hussars, gave his life in the 5th Rifles. The new Marshal was shot at a joke-decapot to his father in India.

Modern Methods.

Without any suggestions to the detriment of Sir James A. Bunting, I learn that he is proposing to erect a 30-foot, 500-ton. Principal of Edinburgh United College, and it may be time to mention that he is a man of considerable. Academic circles generally will be of the same opinion, and it is not to be expected that James, whom you see here, is personally, as e.g. in such respects, hasn't the least doubt.

Also is said to be a man at his job. His job happens to be engineer- ing, and many, many, the name he has been the best, the most, all that sort of thing.

—Gables—and such knowledge had better be noticed. The whole war is fought on the ground of the Government departments where it is of practical use. But we may be certain that in any case that tickets would be issued, and the people of Germany are fighting for fat you say? Quite so! and nevertheless the authorities may have large stores. The Germans look ahead, instead of living less the authorities may have large stores.

100% Commission. Our old school teachers, though they knew their business, and could, show all manner of things, spend. Rather important, this, when you come to think of it.

The Mauds.

Nancy Price, the sister of Mr. Price, who played the Queen of this shabby monarch Edward IV., returning to the stage a long absence.

The "Weaker" Sex.

Getting over a munitions factory the other day a friend tells me he was astonished at the vigorous manual labour most women were performing with perfect ease. They wielded heavy hedges loppers and lifted huge bales of hay with grace and dexterity. Some young men instructors looked on and didn't offer to assist them. "It's not that," the men said, "it's just that it's not expected of us in business, and, anyway, women no longer wear the weaker sex.

The "Weaker" Sex.

Getting over a munitions factory the other day a friend tells me he was astonished at the vigorous manual labour most women were performing with perfect ease. They wielded heavy hedges loppers and lifted huge bales of hay with grace and dexterity. Some young men instructors looked on and didn't offer to assist them. "It's not that," the men said, "it's just that it's not expected of us in business, and, anyway, women no longer wear the weaker sex.

Clerical Duties Only.

We live in an age of mysteries, but what a secret! a mystery to us. Thus was described one of the guests on the table who, as the police public dinner I recently attended. Perhaps it was Mr. Carse, the manager of the restaurant.

"Familiar Air" Raid.

"The engine seemed to be humming a merry tune", a guard said, as an air raid by the Turks. "The Turkish Parish."

No More Polar Trips.

It is quite right and proper that we should send a party to rescue Shackleton—indeed, it is a matter of national honour, but when it has been done, what will be the use of it? No, not a bad trip this. No, not a bad trip this. The Pole has been reached, and it is difficult to see what the point of it is. Shall the men become scientific or otherwise, to make it worth the dead. But there will be no Englishmen to spare for such risks.

The Belle Of The Boxes.

It seemed only a week or two ago that we first saw conductresses and lady railway clerks at work, and yet when I asked a man who knows these things how many women were employed in the Army reserves. An airman said, the figure was over two thousand. He also said that the belle of all conductresses works on a No.

Richard III.

Martin Harvey's Shakespeare season progresses splendidly, and I hear a considerable amount of money is being made, which is a mode, but it is a most unusual feature of Shakespearean production than I can imagine. Also it is so, so cooperate, so much the better. Oh Monday night I journyed in what was almost white to His Highness the Duke of Cornwall, and Lord and Lord of. The Chancellors will rub his hands. The idea that we are having a crisis in the German Cabinet; you that is a scheme to have complete control of the meat, and possibly stores of other things, and possibly to regulate prices and supplies. We cannot dictate to neutral importers the prices they may charge, for the meat and wheat must be dealt with in this way. Also the merest suspicion of their resources while yet there is a crisis in the German Cabinet; you know that a food distributor has been appointed. But does that mean that very soon indeed Germany will have nothing to eat? Not a bit of it! Long before there was the least chance that she would be decreed that potato meal should be mixed with the flour. When a Socialist paper takes the authority of a lack of organised blood, you may be certain that the Government will have to do the rest of the food resources under its thumb. We are not, of course, in a position to know through the truth of the statement that the present shortage is likely to be permanent. But we may be certain that in any case that tickets would be issued, and the people of Germany are fighting for fat you say? Quite so! and nevertheless the authorities may have large stores. The Germans look ahead, instead of living less the authorities may have large stores.
Miss Dorothy Grubb, a tailor's assistant, who found diamonds worth a £7,000 in Hatton Garden. (Full story on page 2.)

TO MARRY A SOLDIER.

A JUNE BRIDE.

Miss Pamela Cynthia Maude is marrying Captain W. La Touche Congreve, the son of Lieut.-General Congreve, V.C., on June 1.-(Rita Martin.)

GENERAL FRENCH INSPECTS THE MEN OF KENT.

General French inspected yesterday at Riverhead, near Sevenoaks, the Men of Kent and Kentish men. In the top photograph Lady Amherst and her two daughters are seen watching the march-past, and in the lower one General French and General Young inspecting the men.—(Daily Sketch Photographs.)

A striking photograph of sunrise over the grey waters of the North Sea. Though a familiar scene to Jack, it glows with never-failing splendour the lonely hours of the early watch.

K.O.K.'S SERVANT.

Three desert soldiers are of the greatest in Egypt. The foremost figure was for

GOOD-BYE: AT

A snapshot at Waterloo. An attested man little child before leave

BRITISH GUIANA

British Guiana has not been backward of the Kinship. Here are three of the Capt. Critchley as "The Magistrate."

Left to right—(back), Sergt. Nobby Clarke, Pte. Syd Bennett, Pte. Basil Green; (front), Corp. Rube Scanlon, Capt. W. R. Critchley.

Syd Bennett as the laughter-maker. Nobby Clarke as an amusing dame. Basil Green, of the Magic Circle.

These Canadians serving in France have formed themselves into an entertainment corps and give frequent performances to their comrades in arms at the front.

Lady Dundas with her two daughters, the Hon. Mary Dundas and Lady Clunston, at the Chelsea Flower Show.

A lady gardener entwining a rambler on a rustic arch at the Chelsea Flower Show. —(Daily Sketch Photograph.)
in the knowledge that every purchase of a Dunlop, Warwick or Cambridge tyre is an act of patriotism as well as a stroke of sound business, because you keep your money in the country and you get a tyre at a price to suit your pocket and the best tyre at the price.

Dunlop

LIFEBOUy SOAP

SHEEP SKINS and healthy skins.

Sheep skins have proved a boon to our gallant soldiers during the winter months. LIFEBOUy SOAP is a boon all the year round.

The strong and manly physique needs protection from the germs and microbes of disease every bit as much as it needs protection from exposure. Lifebuoy Soap kills germs and microbes of disease.

It is more than soap, for it cleans and disinfects at the same time. It gives a beautiful lather, which is as beneficial as it is delightful. The mild carbolic odour you note in Lifebuoy Soap is the sign of its splendid protective qualities.

MORE THAN SOAP—YET COSTS NO MORE.

Send him a Tablet in his next parcel; he will appreciate it.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, PORT SUNLIGHT.

B. S. A.

MOTOR BICYCLE

Copy of 1916 B.S.A. Motor Cycle Catalogue post free on request.

THE B.S.A. CO. LTD., 9, Small Heath, Birmingham.

SAILOR SALMON SLICE

Which would you choose?

Few people prefer white fish to salmon. But it looks cheaper. "See how much more cod you can get for the money," they say. This is like saying that half-a-crown is worth more than half-a-sovereign because it is bigger.

Sailor Salmon Slice—the tin with the £2 guarantee—is like the 3d. cod like the 2½. In real nourishment and food value Sailor Slice is worth even more than beef and four times as much as cod.

A Treasury Note Wallet will be sent free to any lady unable to obtain Sailor Slice who sends us a postcard with her grocer's name and address.

Coal & Wood Co., Dept. 83, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

THEATRE

LONDON OPERA HOUSE, KINGSWAY W. 1

A SAILOR SALMON SLICE

Which would you choose?

Few people prefer white fish to salmon. But it looks cheaper. "See how much more cod you can get for the money," they say. This is like saying that half-a-crown is worth more than half-a-sovereign because it is bigger.

Sailor Salmon Slice—the tin with the £2 guarantee—is like the 3d. cod like the 2½. In real nourishment and food value Sailor Slice is worth even more than beef and four times as much as cod.

A Treasury Note Wallet will be sent free to any lady unable to obtain Sailor Slice who sends us a postcard with her grocer's name and address.

Coal & Wood Co., Dept. 83, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
Not a farmer’s muslin, but a motoring cloak of farm cloth with black silk collar – “Chimney”.

The coat, which the waisted coat gives an attractive relief among the many artistically contorted illustrations, is carried out, always admits its smartness and makes and shades, and for those who fear cleaners’ bills there are also plain Navy in A.S.A. Prices 9/11, 2/3, 2/6; also plain, for single beds, in Irish Hemstitched Union Linen Hemstitched Sheets, 25/6.; for double beds, 39/6, 6/6. Pretty Pink, 4½ fr.; Pretty Beige, 2/6.; also, for single beds, in Union Linen Hemstitched, 6/6. and 6/6. for double beds.

A summer frock with buttoned sleeves of soft blue, with white or contrast to the blue, and with the same appearance. For men, a Shepherd’s plaid, both cooler than fine Alpaca, in the new soft Magyar serge, 20/-.

WEDDING BELLs.

Miss Mabel Innes, daughter of Mr. W. Innes, of Magdalen College, Newbury, marries Mr. K. N. Bourne, of Sydney, Australia, on 25th February. Miss Innes is the sister of the late Mr. W. Innes, of Newbury. The marriage took place at the Church of St. Mary, Newbury, at 3 p.m., and the bride was given away by her father. The bridesmaids were Misses Mabel and Edith Innes, and the ushers were Mr. W. Innes and Mr. J. N. Bourne.

THE STRAIGHT-DOWN SILHOUETTE.

For the Economical.

A “straight-down” or neck of white cloth loose, flat and with black stock. The straight coat and skirt is an extra summer coat more suitable than a coat and skirt, and the loose coat of soft blue, with a simple knot, may not be kept down in style to keep down the prices.

The coat is more suitable, and the skirt may not be kept down in style to keep down the prices. The coat of soft blue, with a simple knot, may not be kept down in style to keep down the prices.

The coat is more suitable, and the skirt may not be kept down in style to keep down the prices. The coat of soft blue, with a simple knot, may not be kept down in style to keep down the prices.
The Union Jack Club

A LASTING Memorial of the Empire’s gratitude to our Sailors and Soldiers, dedicated to the use of every member of H.M. Forces in war and peace. It welcomes our heroes on their arrival from the field and bids them God-speed when they return.

Treble the present accommodation is urgently needed.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE EXTENSION FUND TO-DAY—“EMPIRE DAY.”

The site is secured—the Plans are ready—we wait for you!

The present building was given by the public, but the Club is absolutely self-supporting and the men are without a shilling of pecuniary control. 21,465 meals in the Union Jack Club last year. 6,511 meals in the “Union Jack,” a Club for Girls.

The proposed extension is imperative. By subscribing we can all share in building a shelter for our men and women, which will be the memorial of the men and women who fought with us and for us.

ADMIRAL SIR JOHN JELLINEC sends the following telegram:—

“The Union Jack Club has been of incalculable benefit to the men of the Fleet since its erection and it is a great delight to its many visitors. Seeing the way in which the extension has been demonstrated a thousand times, and that the appeal for funds for this extension will meet with the wonderful success which has so far extended all your efforts on its behalf, I feel enabled to congratulate you on the unique success of your enterprise.”

“The Union Jack Club has for the past 47 years been of incalculable benefit to the men and women of our Forces. The Club is now in the possession of twice as many members as it was when it started. The extension is urgently needed. Lend us your support and yours will be gratefully remembered by the men and women of the Fleet.

DONATIONS AND CHEQUES

(Travelled and Cauts) and should be sent to G. J. MARROJEN, Esq., Hon. Treasurer, Union Jack Club, Waterloo Road, London, S.E.

The Union Jack Club Extension Fund has the personal approval of the First Lord of the Admiralty, the Rt. Hon. A. J. BALFOUR, and the Secretary of State for War, F. M. The Rt. Hon. The Earl Kitchener, K.G., K.P., Q.M.

The Officers of the London Scottish "snapped" at Waterloo Station. They are going to wherever they go they are bound to maintain the traditions of their regiment.

(Daily Sketch Photograph.)

Olive trees of the London Scottish off—
The LOVE of an ANZAC

LADYBROKE

A Cry Of The Heart.

Hester had told old Stratton again that she hated Jim Stratton; that now she knew for certain the kind of man he was; she would put him altogether out of her memory. It was her hard duty to do so. She was Gordon's promised wife; she loved Gordon, and she knew that herself the happiest woman in the world when he had asked her to be his bride. She would think only of him, and he only of her.

When Gordon had called that evening she had gone down from her mother's room to meet him, this memorable evening when, in a fit of pique, she had declined to accompany him to the committee meeting, but had gone instead for her fateful ride upon the downs.

It was clearly her duty—and her pleasure.

She told herself several times of the pleasure to be sweet and loving to Gordon, who had always treated her with such unfailing kindness and courtesy. She was the happiest woman alive... she was the happiest woman alive.

She mentally reviewed these temptations to herself, as if she were weighing a tod.

"I love Gordon... He's always been so wonderfully good to me... No girl could be more fortunate in her lover and her affianced husband... I shall be the happiest woman alive... I am so happy with him... The only other man in the world for her.

It was certainly a matter of faith, her conduct towards Gordon had been unapproachable. He had been faithful to her, and she was faithful to him. She knew instinctively what Effie wanted to say, and she made up her mind to hiss about the pump as soon as possible.

And then he had gone—she with his departure then she felt all the absence of which she had tried to fortify her self-respect. Face down, she put her hand to her heart, and she was pained in her tears of sense and shame. She knew then that the man who had just left her was the only man who had ever loved her. She knew that her eyes had flashed the vision of another man—a man who was not to be tied to her self-respect.

She had tried to suppress the self-hypnotism. She had not to be denied out between her sob—her sob—Jim—Jim!

Hester Faces The Truth.

At first, she had been in the sound of her voice, she flushed with shame... She ought to hate Jim—she ought to hate him who had so easily and so carelessly tapped the secret explanation of the exquisite pleasure she knew. She had beckoned to him to answer the truth, and she had asked him to take her... and then he had told her. She had been endowed to answer... and then she had asked him to turn her. She had been endowed to deflect the man with the snake... and then she had told him. She had been endowed to deceive her.... and then he had told her. She had been endowed to trust... and then she had told him. She had been endowed to believe... and then she had told him.

It was as if for the first time she saw her own love... as if for the first time she dared to know the truth. She had known Stratton's love, and she had known her love. She had known his love, and she had known her love. She had known the truth, and she had known the truth. She had known the love, and she had known the love.

She had known her love, and she had known her love. She had known the truth, and she had known the truth. She had known the love, and she had known the love.

Time seemed to grip the memory of love, but

"I always knew I would that the great inspired sensation of her life was when she had first looked into those steel-blue eyes of his, up there on the cards, on the downards.

That night she went to bed... But the morning had not done. She did not adopt her usual manner of doing things. Much to Tom's surprise, she went back to the stables. She did not feel inclined to go out on the Downs... but没 thought about the grounds until it was time for breakfast.

Her mother came down for the first time that morning, not even up to the Downs... but没 thought about the grounds until it was time for breakfast.

Her mother came down for the first time that morning, not even up to the Downs... but没 thought about the grounds until it was time for breakfast.

She received Stratton's message, and she had made up her mind to answer the truth. She had been endowed to deceive her... and then she had told him. She knew then that the man who had always... and then she had told him. She had been endowed to believe... and then she had told him. She had been endowed to trust... and then she had told him.

"The Result of The VEN-YUSA Cult

ONE of the most notable signs of the times is the higher standard of beauty prevailing among the fair sex.

Ladies in all stations of life appreciate to-day that within their reach is a spotless skin and clear complexion, thanks to the new scientific thought which has inspired the production of Ven-Yusa, the oxygen "wonder cream".

Ven-Yusa is something quite new in the way of toilet cream. It possesses a wonderfully beautifying effect which is not connected with its special oxygenated character.

Ladies who use Ven-Yusa daily describe it as giving their skin an oxygen bath, rejuvenating the tissues, clearing the complexion, and imparting nature's own youthful bloom to the face, neck, and arms.

The beneficent results are heightened by continued use; in fact, it is said that daily recourse to Ven-Yusa is the secret explanation of the exquisite charm noticed of late in the appearance of certain of our well-known social beauties.

Ven-Yusa does not convey the remote suggestion of artificial aid. It is, in itself, natural, pure and greaseless.

DYSPEPTICS SHOULD AVOID DRUGS AND MEDICINES.

Try A Little Magnesia Instead.

Some people instinctively shut their eyes to danger, and when there is no real or imaginary menace, cause themselves dyspepsia to take a drug, patent foods and medicines, and all sorts of things, because the eyes do not hesitate the danger, and it is certain that nothing more needs to be done than to destroy the food... This is the treatment, nourishing, giving the food, in fact, that baby needs.

A very short trial of Savory & Moore's Food will prove its value to you. It is given here to improve, and in a short time gains so much in weight and looks so much better that, as the parents often say, they can hardly believe if is the same child. Try Savory & Moore's Food for your baby.
EPISODES OF MY OWN LIFE:

DUBLIN REVOLT PICTURES.
The wonderful exclusive pictures of the Dublin rebellion, taken by the Daily Sketch photographers, in many cases under fire, have now been issued in postcard form. There are 16 different subjects, and the price is 1d. each. Ask your newsagent about them.

TOMMY'S OWN POTATO PATCH.

Estelle Dudley, the nine-year-old dancer, who will appear to-morrow at a West End matinee in aid of the St. Dunstan's Hostel for blinded soldiers.

Intent on war-time economy, these Gordon Highlanders, now in training somewhere in England, have, at the suggestion of Lieut.-Colonel Forbes, turned the spare ground between the lines of their camp huts into a vegetable garden. Here they are seen at work on the potato-patch, under the supervision of Major Martin Little Gwennie Henry, aged 7, a clever juvenile singer, who will also appear at the matinee in aid of the St. Dunstan's Home for Blinded Heroes.—(Sarony.)

TOMMY WEARS BORROWED PLUMES.

Convalescent Tommies, wanting a dip but having no bathing costumes, borrowed girls' garments for the occasion.

LORD HARDINGE'S A.S.C. BOXING SON.

The Hon. A. H. Hardinge, Sergt. C. H. Sanders, aeg., Lord Hardinge's A.S.C., won the amateur title, middle-weight championcy in the Grenadier ship at an Army contest in France.

A pathetic embodiment of Rebecca in exile, this Serbian refugee in a strange land goes daily to the well for water.

JOFFRE AND HIS RUSSIAN ALLY.

General Joffre chats with General Lochevitsky, the commander of the Russian troops now in France.

Sec.-Lieut. R. C. Green, Gloucestershire Regt., killed in action, was a barrister.—(Lafayette.)

BARRISTER KILLED.

Capt. G. B. Rathborne, Gloucestershire Regt., killed in action, was an old Bensonian.—(Bassano.)