WOUNDED IN 40 PLACES, HE LIVED TO WIN THE BRONZE CROSS.

HER V.C. SON.

The mother of Private Edward Warner, V.C., proudly displays her son's photograph.

The story of how Lance-Corporal William Angus, a Scottish Territorial, won the V.C. is told on another page. He was wounded forty times in rescuing his officer. Private Edward Warner (1st Bedfordshire Regiment), another V.C., single-handed entered a trench, which had been evacuated by our troops after a gas attack, to prevent the enemy taking possession. The trench was held—but the hero died from gas poisoning. —(Daily Sketch, etc.)
BACK FROM 'CERTAIN DEATH' WITH 40 WOUNDS.

How Corporal Angus, V.C., Saved His Officer.

FELLOWS VILLAGERS.

Wonderful Courage Under A Hail Of Bombs.

"He sustained about forty wounds from bombs, some of them very serious."

~n l~alf German uglily neck of match, he bled profusely, into our view happened, but into our view.

The rescue.

That, however, was rendered unnecessary by one of the most brilliant deeds of courage that the war has yet produced—

A man bred and born in the same Scottish village, where his father and his brother were killed by German bullets.

His father used to say that Eddie's only fault was that he enlisted. His father would have been proud of him.

"I am proud of my boy," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years."

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.

I am proud of my boy, very proud," she added, "but I am sorry he is not here."

I know well what lay before him. I know he has not been heard of for several years.
TURKS PUSHED BACK 1,000 YARDS.

British “Leapt From Trenches Like A Pack Of Hounds.”

GALLANTRY “BEYOND PRAISE.”

Glory Of The Borderers, Royal Fusiliers, And Lancashires.

From Sir Ian Hamilton.

The plan of operations [in the Dardanelles] on Monday was to throw forward the left of the line south-east of Krithia, pivoting on a point about one mile from the sea, and after advancing in the extreme left for about half a mile to establish a new line facing east on ground thinly gabled. The plan of attack was to follow the succession of two lines of the Turkish trenches east of the Saphir Dere and five lines of trenches west of it. The Army and Navy were ordered to co-operate by making a vigorous demonstration.

The advance was opened at 9 o'clock with a bombardment by heavy artillery. The assistance rendered by the French in this bombardment was most valuable.

THE BOOMERANG REDOUTRT.

At 10.30 the Field Artillery opened fire to cut the wire in front of the Turkish trenches, and this was effectively done. The effect on the enemy’s lines near the sea was great. The very accurate fire of H.M.S. Talbot, Scorpion, and Wolverino succeeded in keeping up his artillery fire from that quarter.

A small Turkish advanced work in the Saphir Dere known as the Boomerang Redoutt was assaulted. This Boomerang Redoutt is strongly sided and protected by extra strong wire entanglements. After special bombardment by trench-mortar, and while the bombardment was continued, the works were captured and the trench correctly for the Boomerang Redoutt.

THE QUESTIONS.

The questions to be answered are:-

1. Are we in mind to give up our position as the strong point in the war?
2. Are we not a nation of single, married, or widowed; number of dependents, the employment of the wife, and other dependants of profession or occupation of the applicant (if any), and, nature of employer’s business and its location.
3. Are we not a nation of British?
4. Do we not agree to work on which he is employed for any Government department, or for any employer (if any), and, nature of employer’s business and its location.
5. Are we not a nation of the enemy in their efforts, lasting a week, severe penalties are imposed for failing to produce these documents in the open action.
6. Are we not a nation of the trench correct, the trench correctly for the Boomerang Redoutt.
7. Are we not a nation of the trench correct, the trench correctly for the Boomerang Redoutt.
8. Are we not a nation of the trench correct, the trench correctly for the Boomerang Redoutt.
9. Are we not a nation of the trench correct, the trench correctly for the Boomerang Redoutt.
10. Are we not a nation of the trench correct, the trench correctly for the Boomerang Redoutt.

THE WOUNDED WHO GO BACK.

At least 60 per cent. of our wounded return to the same regiment of Medicine last night.

Another item of information disclosed was that there was being only 1,000 cases of typhoid among the troops since the fighting began. This is the first time in our history where we have this detail given. We are going for the first time to have a war in which the clothing is not accountable for the larger number of deaths.

THE GREEDY GAS COMPANIES.

Everyone will be interested to know who will get to his question in the House of Commons on the charge of the President of the Board of Trade whether, when the gas is normally used for other purposes, they will be allowed to go on.

Charging the Government colossal profits, he said that the people were being robbed.

Increasing the price of gas to customers.

Enthusiastically, L. W. Wilson was killed under a shelling in Northumberland, his machine, a bicycle, is found on the ground from 1,200 feet.

The War At A Glance.

RUSSIA.—Russian line in Galicia and Southern Poland is now a right angle, with the elbow resting on the river Bzur (of the Vistula). Important Russian advance in direction of Warsaw from the south-east.

FRANCE.—No important offensive by either side, but the French gains near Arras. German attack on the Vosges barrier of Alsace, where the French forces have given up the fight. The French forces in Italy are retreating from the mountainous area.

GERMANY’S MOVEMENT AGAINST RUSSIA.

Attempts To Break Link Between Polish And Galician Armies.

ANOTHER BID FOR WARSAW.

Advance Over The Frontier At Two Fresh Points.

By a sudden thrust at the Russian line to the north and north-west of Lemberg the Austrian-German forces have invaded Russia at two fresh points.

Kamianets, five miles over the frontier, is in the hands of Austro-Germans. The Russians are stated to be retreating from their positions north of the Tanev, eight miles over the frontier.

Germany’s new move is a thrust in the direction of Galicia. The recent offensive below Lemberg was apparently a case to distract attention from the north and north-west of Lemberg, where Germany’s object is to drive a wedge between the Russian armies in Poland and in Galicia. The Austro-German armies are pressing forward, and if they can penetrate and turn the flank of the Russian armies defending Warsaw, Russian troops may be forced to desert their positions. The Polish Guards might still be possible to force back the Russian line of Phalanx would become the apex of a dangerous salient.

NO CHANGE NEAR LEMBERG.

Elsewhere, Say The Germans, The Enemy Is In Retreat.

Germans Official News.

Our attack in the Galician province last night was very successful. We have captured a large number of prisoners and artillery, and the town of Lemberg was taken up a new line, facing the town of Lemberg. We have vacated the Boomerang Redoutt, and the enemy has been driven from this position.

BAD WEATHER STOPS FIGHTING.

Italian Official News.

Even, Sunday.

Bad weather on the whole of the front has for several days interfered with our operations, permitting the Austro-German forces to push forward without interference.

Our artillery has completely repulsed a night attack by the Turks, and has driven back the enemy’s force from the village of Przemyśl.

This attack has been repulsed by a counter-attack by the Austro-German forces, and the enemy has been driven back to the village of Komorow-Zamocz, which remains in their hands.

More German papers suspended.

The German papers suspended are:-

1. The German Social, a weekly paper.
2. The General Arbeiter, a newspaper.

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Three Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:

Four Norwegian ships among victims of Submarine attacks.

Among the latest reports of the sinking of these vessels, the crew lost, we have the following:
A UNION OF PATRIOTISM.

The wedding at Weymouth of Lieut. F. Herbert Rowe and Miss Watson is a veritable union of patriotism, for while the bridegroom already has five brothers on active service, the bride has seven.—(Datemany, Weymouth.)

HONOURS FOR A NURSE.

Nurse Elizabeth Ferguson, of Glasgow, has received the Royal Red Cross Decoration. A hospital bed at Rozen now bears her name.

A FAIR YOUNG HELPER.

Lady Mary Hamilton, daughter of the Duke of Abercorn, turned programme-seller yesterday to help the Chimney-Corner Club for soldiers' and sailors' wives.—(Vul 1 Surveillance.)

ELLEN TERRY.

Ellen Terry gave her first public performance since her return from America yesterday. She was assisting a patriotic fund.

A RED CROSS WORKER.

Lady Mary Ward is one of the Society workers at the headquarters of the British Red Cross.—(Graimes.)

A TERRITORIAL HERO.

Sergt. W. Pettitt, of the Suffolks Territorials, receives the D.C.M. for rescuing wounded comrades at Neuve Chapelle.

A PRETTY BRIDE-ELECT.

Miss Eleanor Hennessy, daughter of a well-known artist, is marrying the Hon. Paul Medaun (Scota Gilmour) half of Lord Methuen.—(Vasay.)

HOW HE WON HIS D.C.M.

Corporal E. Williams (Royal Engineers) won the D.C.M. by gallantry in delivering messages under a heavy fire.
非法入侵

让我们来看看一个原因，这就是说，Mrs. R. has been attacked. Presently, "The Bishop's Men," the old and often crudely appointed company, will parade the streets with its usual disarrangement and noise. Mr. Justice Smith, the eldest member of the Civil Service, was present at the trial, and made a strenuous fight for Seddon.

The Coast of Civilisation

I start, the other day, a circle of increase isomerism create the amount of a German aristocracy with the standpoint of public houses in English ports. I refrain, however, from saying that figure because it sounds too impossible.

Pillage Of Middle-class Belgians

Here is a case for instant, urgent reform. Refer to the recent legislation "Transportation Committee for War Victims." This is intended to give relief to the ruined upper and middle classes in Belgium. Please don't think the thought is anything nobly. But the horror of the Hun invasion has been so great that every country's woes, whose needs are severe, although sometimes unsuspected.

A Pathetic Instance

The Conference of Belgians who before the war were rich and in some cases nations are now hungry and sleeping in tents. They are accustomed to beg and have never been forced to beg. The Council of the Hun in Belgium has been so great that every country's woes, whose needs are severe, although sometimes unsuspected.

How To Help

With thousands of victims as end as this, Destrus is becoming more and more acute. Will you help with a donation, however small, in money or goods? The British Red Cross Society, 20 Oxford Street, London, E.C.7, or 74, Pimlico, London, S.W.2, is the agency responsible.

The "Amis."

The "Amis."

Me. James Scott Dobson, the chairman of the Stop-the-Wars Committee, is a fair young gentleman, and I have an interesting interview with him. One of the most admirable and ingenuous of the people who have been called "the sensible" is Mr. Douglas Haig. It is the most distinguished of them.

The Superfluous Nib.

Talking of economy in government departments, I have heard that Sir W. S. Gilbert, when a Civil servant, fitted at the board. First of all, Gilbert had a dozen ribs a month to each clerk. "On supply," said one employee, "the board's room was really in a parlous state. The next thing to do was to cut the meat. Everyone understood the plan, and was all the better for it.

Economy in Hats.

I have heard that I recall the shift of Loyd Orsulak as noted once by Charles Woodcock. Oversized, at a country house, the young gentleman was driven to the point of suicide. When the Hon. Mr. Douglas Haig was appointed to the position, he said: "We cannot retain you. You are too fat and too large. You are too fat and too large.

A War Boos.

TRAP HUNTERS for one thing the war has done. The time has come when even the virtuousvillians that vandals can no longer afford to think. The only people who will be playing the violin in the next few years are the people who are willing to pay the price, and the Register to help us.

Liberals And Pensions.

A recent letter in The Times, written by Mr. John Peace, is but one of the many that have appeared of late. Mr. Peace makes a strong plea for the war pensions for the dead, pointing out that those pensions have not been enough to meet the cost of living. Mr. Peace says that he has been told by friends that the pensions are not adequate, and that they would not provide enough to maintain a decent standard of living.

Parliamentary Contrast.

Mr. Ewan, who took his seat in the House of Commons yesterday in succession to his father, has become a member of the House of Commons. Mr. Ewan, being 21, his father the other M.P. enters the House at the age of 73.

The Man of The Moment.

MAXIMILIAN WALTHER, was the man of the moment yesterday, with his great speech. "The Bishop's Men," the old and often crudely appointed company, will parade the streets with its usual disarrangement and noise. Mr. Justice Smith, the eldest member of the Civil Service, was present at the trial, and made a strenuous fight for Seddon.

The Halfl-Crown Growers.

There were several programs at the halfl-crown at the Palace for the Queen's visit on Tuesday afternoon, and many people were not very well pleased. However, the program handed you to a lady by the present of a new novel, which in so many ways is very different. At one Institution, the Queen's toast was served on rose water.

Invasion Help Invades.

Let me tell you one of the reasons that Alexandra Royal Day has been so much the centre of interest. Our people were admitted to all the big hospitals and sold to the patients. How strange it seems that our young men and women should be eager for their friends to suffer. However, it is a very large group.

Civil Service.

The Register is today's great read at Maynooth.

Invalids Help Invade.

The Royal Hospital for Invalids has gone to a great deal of trouble to make a pleasant and comfortable home for all the soldiers who have lost limbs as a result of their service. The quarter of the hospital is arranged to provide the best possible conditions for the invalids, and the work of the hospital is carried out with great efficiency.

A Gallant Rhodes Scholar.

LIONEL TALBOT M. PARSONS, who has so far been awarded the Military Cross and promoted to the rank of Captain, is the son of an American family. His time at the university was practically annihilated, in a French college, at the age of 19. His Ge. S. was considerably lengthened by the fact that, speaking French, his English is so fluent and correct that no one really grudges his talent.

Rhodes Scholars.

Tenners is no disguising the fact that, speaking English, his English is so fluent and correct that no one really grudges his talent. However, he was a very good disciplinarian and well at that calling. He will return himself as a disciplinarian and an engineer. In reality, he is a good disciplinarian and an engineer.

If the nation calls him up as an engineer it will be disappointed in the result. From the national economic standpoint, it is more useful to have the boy trained in the civil service than to have him trained as a soldier.

A Gain, the tale of a master of daring clothing for pet dogs, who before the days of dog-worship was a fakir of inimitable furniture. What are we to do with this man? He is typical of thousands of perfectly useless people who live by the most despicable forms of begging.

I cite these few instances for illustration only. They touch on the fringe of the difficulties which face us in the practical business of government and administration.

At this stage perhaps the only general rule for our guidance is that having found out what people live by begging and parasitism, we must not deter them from going on with the work.

One day we may be able to apply the results in peace time as well as for war purposes.

I hope that the Government has a clear and business-like idea of what it is going to do with the National Register when the census has been taken. Sometimes I have a fear that the information will be pigeon-holed in some official cellar, with the hope that the public will forget about it. If that is what is intended to be done, it is a most wasteful of national wealth and energy at a time when waste of time and energy is criminal.

This public must see to it that this good use is made of the National Register. There is need of public supervision is proved to-day by the revived rumours concerning Woolwich Arsenal. Some months ago I referred to reports in the Press, setting forth the complaints of the skilled munition workers in this Government factory. Their grievances were genuine, but not enough worked, and that public machines were standing idle. These and other rumours are now published in London newspapers. I have no doubt the meaning of the workers and there is a need of public register to help the most honest of them. The workers, as a result of the report, have been working for the last ten years.

The civil service of the last generation in deserts.

The Man Of The Moment.

MAXIMILIAN WALTHER, was the man of the moment yesterday, with his great speech. "The Bishop's Men," the old and often crudely appointed company, will parade the streets with its usual disarrangement and noise. Mr. Justice Smith, the eldest member of the Civil Service, was present at the trial, and made a strenuous fight for Seddon.

The Halfl-Crown Growers.

There were several programs at the halfl-crown at the Palace for the Queen's visit on Tuesday afternoon, and many people were not very well pleased. However, the program handed you to a lady by the present of a new novel, which in so many ways is very different. At one Institution, the Queen's toast was served on rose water.

Invasion Help Invades.

The Royal Hospital for Invalids has gone to a great deal of trouble to make a pleasant and comfortable home for all the soldiers who have lost limbs as a result of their service. The quarter of the hospital is arranged to provide the best possible conditions for the invalids, and the work of the hospital is carried out with great efficiency.

A Gallant Rhodes Scholar.

LIONEL TALBOT M. PARSONS, who has so far been awarded the Military Cross and promoted to the rank of Captain, is the son of an American family. His time at the university was practically annihilated, in a French college, at the age of 19. His Ge. S. was considerably lengthened by the fact that, speaking French, his English is so fluent and correct that no one really grudges his talent. However, he was a very good disciplinarian and well at that calling. He will return himself as a disciplinarian and an engineer. In reality, he is a good disciplinarian and an engineer.

If the nation calls him up as an engineer it will be disappointed in the result. From the national economic standpoint, it is more useful to have the boy trained in the civil service than to have him trained as a soldier.

A Gain, the tale of a master of daring clothing for pet dogs, who before the days of dog-worship was a fakir of inimitable furniture. What are we to do with this man? He is typical of thousands of perfectly useless people who live by the most despicable forms of begging.

I cite these few instances for illustration only. They touch on the fringe of the difficulties which face us in the practical business of government and administration.

At this stage perhaps the only general rule for our guidance is that having found out what people live by begging and parasitism, we must not deter them from going on with the work.

One day we may be able to apply the results in peace time as well as for war purposes.

I hope that the Government has a clear and business-like idea of what it is going to do with the National Register when the census has been taken. Sometimes I have a fear that the information will be pigeon-holed in some official cellar, with the hope that the public will forget about it. If that is what is intended to be done, it is a most wasteful of national wealth and energy at a time when waste of time and energy is criminal.

This public must see to it that this good use is made of the National Register. There is need of public supervision is proved to-day by the revived rumours concerning Woolwich Arsenal. Some months ago I referred to reports in the Press, setting forth the complaints of the skilled munition workers in this Government factory. Their grievances were genuine, but not enough worked, and that public machines were standing idle. These and other rumours are now published in London newspapers. I have no doubt the meaning of the workers and there is a need of public register to help the most honest of them. The workers, as a result of the report, have been working for the last ten years.
The King of Denmark received a wonderful ovation from a huge crowd of women after he had signed the law granting the franchise to the women of Denmark.

French soldiers during their rest-time fashion from shells and bullets curious little souvenirs for the folks at home.

The thoughtful attentions of the Dutch girls were the hardships they had endured in the German war.

Tommy submits to a tooth-brush with a formidable-looking brush, in anticipation of the next dental inspection.

Wounded soldiers, back in Cairo from Gallipoli, pay a visit to the Zoo. The giraffe thinks they look cool in their pyjamas.

The kindly Dutch people were overflowing with praise passed through Holland on their homeward way. They

The French infantryman lifts his "white arm," as he calls his bayonet, in readiness for a characteristically dashing charge.

Down the narrow street of dug-outs just behind the firing line French soldiers help their wounded comrades to the rear.

The German prisoners of war who marched through were in striking contrast to the tired and WAR PRISONERS.

People are tired of captivity, and the British prisoners forgot all gaps. They could afford to smile now.

A SHELL'S WORK.

This 60ft. tree in France was cut in two by a shell. The upper part was imbedded in an upright position in the ground.

AMERICANS STILL FIND PARIS GAY

Americans still find some gaiety left to life in Paris. Tod Sloan, the jockey, is of this happy party at lunch after a game of baseball.

RIFLES AND TARPAULIN FORM A CANOPY FOR FAIR FLAGS SELLERS.

Rifles and tarps form a canopy for fair flag sellers. The Duchess of Vendome.

The Duchess of Vendome, sister of King Albert, gave her support to a garden party in aid of the British Red Cross and Belgian Refugee Funds at Wimbledon Park yesterday.—(Daily Sketch Photographs.)
What Women Are Doing

Yl'n hat. The little girl wore a frock of pale blue and mauve satin, the scalloped sleeves being caught by the Res. Mr. William Rolfe, who was in khaki, acted as best man.

Who Was There.
Lady Buxton wore a dress of blue and black shantung, and Mr. H. H. Asquith. The bride's sister, Mrs. Geoffrey Hare-Marley, was in navy blue taffeta, and the Countess of Cawdor wore a white lawn gown with black hat and veil. Mrs. Fry was in brown, her frilled silk skirt being edged with brown and white. Miss Emily Missen, and Miss Fry wore blue taffeta. The Marchioness of Birstol was accompanied by her young daughter, the Marchioness of Birstol, and Mrs. H. H. Asquith, who looked well in pale blue velvet. She also met Lady Grey, and Lady Grenville, later, Mrs. H. H. Asquith, who looked well in pale blue velvet. She also met Lady Grey, and Lady Grenville, later.

No Losers.
Yewons Arndt (also in), Ede Boisier, Laura Combe and Dorothy Waring will do (especially), for everything to give a full hat at the right. Lila Find's costume for the production of a Russian ballet, and there will be singing on the stage of the Russian ballet, and there will be singing on the stage of the Russian ballet.

Marchioness Townshend's New Play.
The Marchioness Townshend tells us she has written another play for three characters, and that she has been in London. Mrs. Green and her co-workers, and Miss Fey, are giving their last night. The play is called "A Midnight Meeting," and it is said to be a great success. I could not help noticing how obviously the Queen Alexandra was a clever enough playwright, by Lady Townshend.

An Interesting Debate.
Queen Alexandra has lent her patronage to an entertainment, in aid of the Refugees French Fool Fete, which takes place at the Queen's Theatre.

We are promised a host of clever artists, including Miss Lilian Brathwaite, Miss Irene Mollie Rambert, and Miss Grace Jansen and her husband, Mr. Arthur Winter. I am told by Miss Mollie Rambert that she is the only artist who is able to use the stage. I am also told by Miss Jansen that she is the only artist who is able to use the stage.

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1917

YOUTH'S MOTOR ESCAPE.

Took A Car At Staines To See Two Girls At Wigan.
Two eighteen-year-old Ensign youths, William Croft, Chester-road, Paddington, and Sidney Douglas, South Kensington, were sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Preston yesterday for obtaining a motor-cycle and a weather-boiler. Douglas, who was formerly a schoolboy, said he had the car and cycle for 500, and then the pair stole another car at Staines, and when arrested at Chester they explained that the drivers had borrowed it to see two girls at Wigan, but that they intended to return it.

Good News for Fat People.
A London chemist says: "The latest method of reducing obesity certainly is far more pleasant and comfortable than all previous methods. It consists merely in eating clypeal berries. The person who wishes to reduce will take three of the wild red, juicy, small berries three times a day, three times a day. Their effect is so surprising that they are sure to be a success."

SOLDIERS' SMOKES.
We would ask all those people who are thinking of contributing to the Daily Sketch Fund to send cigarettes. If they will send a postal order or cheque for the amount they wish we will buy the smoking papers for them.

COUPON FOR DAILY SKETCH & 1,000 PATRIOTIC NEEDLEWORK COMPETITION.

YOUNG ESTATE.
Mr. McKenzie has obtained into the haven of popa purity at last.

$1,000 FOR NEEDLEWORK.

Are You Interested In Linen Applique?
Two of these charming commissionaires in the Needlework Competition have missed questions about Class D-class for a sofa back in their applique. They want to know how low and how deep the work should be. It may be well here to state that each class in which the work is exhibited, is judged, provided it is reasonably successful. The judges are to make a thorough examination and will then give their opinion of the work. I hope you will tell your friends about the competition. Its chief points are quite obvious. 500, in prizes, no entrance fee, thirty classes, and every entry helping the Red Cross. Send a large stamped addressed envelope to Mrs. Grant, Needlework Department, Daily Sketch, London, E.C., for full particulars and an entrance form. Will all those who have already advertised forms please register their work as soon as possible, as this will greatly facilitate the organization.

COUPON FOR DAILY SKETCH & 1,000 PATRIOTIC NEEDLEWORK COMPETITION.

YOUNG ESTATE.
Mr. McKenzie has obtained into the haven of popa purity at last.

$1,000 FOR NEEDLEWORK.

Are You Interested In Linen Applique?
Two of these charming commissionaires in the Needlework Competition have missed questions about Class D-class for a sofa back in their applique. They want to know how low and how deep the work should be. It may be well here to state that each class in which the work is exhibited, is judged, provided it is reasonably successful. The judges are to make a thorough examination and will then give their opinion of the work. I hope you will tell your friends about the competition. Its chief points are quite obvious. 500, in prizes, no entrance fee, thirty classes, and every entry helping the Red Cross. Send a large stamped addressed envelope to Mrs. Grant, Needlework Department, Daily Sketch, London, E.C., for full particulars and an entrance form. Will all those who have already advertised forms please register their work as soon as possible, as this will greatly facilitate the organization.

SOLDIERS' SMOKES.
We would ask all those people who are thinking of contributing to the Daily Sketch Fund to send cigarettes. If they will send a postal order or cheque for the amount they wish we will buy the smoking papers for them.

COUPON FOR DAILY SKETCH & 1,000 PATRIOTIC NEEDLEWORK COMPETITION.

YOUNG ESTATE.
Mr. McKenzie has obtained into the haven of popa purity at last.

$1,000 FOR NEEDLEWORK.

Are You Interested In Linen Applique?
Two of these charming commissionaires in the Needlework Competition have missed questions about Class D-class for a sofa back in their applique. They want to know how low and how deep the work should be. It may be well here to state that each class in which the work is exhibited, is judged, provided it is reasonably successful. The judges are to make a thorough examination and will then give their opinion of the work. I hope you will tell your friends about the competition. Its chief points are quite obvious. 500, in prizes, no entrance fee, thirty classes, and every entry helping the Red Cross. Send a large stamped addressed envelope to Mrs. Grant, Needlework Department, Daily Sketch, London, E.C., for full particulars and an entrance form. Will all those who have already advertised forms please register their work as soon as possible, as this will greatly facilitate the organization.

SOLDIERS' SMOKES.
We would ask all those people who are thinking of contributing to the Daily Sketch Fund to send cigarettes. If they will send a postal order or cheque for the amount they wish we will buy the smoking papers for them.

COUPON FOR DAILY SKETCH & 1,000 PATRIOTIC NEEDLEWORK COMPETITION.

YOUNG ESTATE.
Mr. McKenzie has obtained into the haven of popa purity at last.

$1,000 FOR NEEDLEWORK.

Are You Interested In Linen Applique?
Two of these charming commissionaires in the Needlework Competition have missed questions about Class D-class for a sofa back in their applique. They want to know how low and how deep the work should be. It may be well here to state that each class in which the work is exhibited, is judged, provided it is reasonably successful. The judges are to make a thorough examination and will then give their opinion of the work. I hope you will tell your friends about the competition. Its chief points are quite obvious. 500, in prizes, no entrance fee, thirty classes, and every entry helping the Red Cross. Send a large stamped addressed envelope to Mrs. Grant, Needlework Department, Daily Sketch, London, E.C., for full particulars and an entrance form. Will all those who have already advertised forms please register their work as soon as possible, as this will greatly facilitate the organization.
Why I have Subscribed to the New War Loan

A BUSINESS MAN’S REASONS

1. Because I am helping my country.
   My money will be directly used to shorten the War, and ensure the success of my country. The longer the War drags on, the longer my business will suffer.

2. Because it is a sound Business Investment.
   My money will be safe. Capital and interest alike are a charge on the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom, the premier security in the world. I could not get 4½% on my money with the same complete security in any other way.

3. Because it is the only way I can fight.
   My money is the only thing that I can fight with. If I were young and strong, and free from responsibilities, it would be my duty to carry arms. I cannot fight for my country; but I can make my money fight instead of me.

4. Because it is my duty.
   It is every man’s duty to subscribe—so that he and his children may the sooner be the citizens of a Nation victorious and at peace.

FILL IN THIS FORM TO-DAY.

£4 10s. % WAR LOAN, 1925-1945.

ISSUE OF STOCK OR BONDS, bearing interest at 4½% per annum.

PRICE OF ISSUE £100 PER CENT.

To the Governor and Company of the Bank of England,
London, E.C.

I [we] hereby request you to allot to me (us) (a) £............................. pounds of the above-mentioned Loan in terms of the Prospectus of the 21st June, 1915, and I [we] hereby engage to pay the instalments as they shall become due, on any allotment that may be made in respect of this application, as provided by the said Prospectus.

The sum of £................................., being the amount of the required deposit (b) (namely £5 for every £100 applied for), is enclosed herewith.

Name of Applicant (in full) ..............................................................
(State title, if any, or whether Mr., Mrs., or Miss)

Signature .................................................................

Address .................................................................

Date .................................................................1915.

(a) Applications to the Bank of England must be for not less than £100, and must be for multiples of £100. When sent by post envelopes should be marked “War Loan,”

(b) Cheques should be made payable to “bearer,” not to “drawer,” and should be crossed “Bank of England.”

By my Money, I can make my money fight instead of me.
Dog Medicine for Baldness.

It has been discovered that the ingredients contained in a certain well-known veterinary preparation renders the hum of a goat, which is applied readily as they have been popular on the farms, is of great value to another's hair.

It is recommended as a substitute for horse's tail, and for the treatment of other animals. It is suitable for the skin, and has been sold for many years in the form of a powder. When applied, it is to be mixed with water and applied to the hair, and dogs. It is a substitute for horse's tail, and for the treatment of other animals. It is suitable for the skin, and has been sold for many years in the form of a powder. When applied, it is to be mixed with water and applied to the hair, and dogs.

Dog Medicine for Baldness.

It has been discovered that the ingredients contained in a certain well-known veterinary preparation renders the hum of a goat, which is applied readily as they have been popular on the farms, is of great value to another's hair.

It is recommended as a substitute for horse's tail, and for the treatment of other animals. It is suitable for the skin, and has been sold for many years in the form of a powder. When applied, it is to be mixed with water and applied to the hair, and dogs. It is a substitute for horse's tail, and for the treatment of other animals. It is suitable for the skin, and has been sold for many years in the form of a powder. When applied, it is to be mixed with water and applied to the hair, and dogs.

THE IRISH DERBY.

Lord Edward's Ballington, 2.75. Mr. Doncaster's Astor, 3.0. Mr. P. F. Curran's top, 3.75. Mr. J. A. O'Brien's Ears, 4.0. Mr. J. A. O'Brien's Ears, 4.0. Mr. J. A. O'Brien's Ears, 4.0. Mr. J. A. O'Brien's Ears, 4.0.

STOCKS AT MIDNIGHT.

A. S. 3,000 shares, 3.0. B. S. 3,000 shares, 3.0. C. S. 3,000 shares, 3.0. D. S. 3,000 shares, 3.0. E. S. 3,000 shares, 3.0.