WHO IS TEDDIE SLINGSBY AFTER ALL?

Corpl. H. W. Oakhill, of Wotton-under-Edge, Glos., just awarded the D.C.M., single-handed and unarmed captured a German sniper and made 15 others surrender.

Pte. V. Kerwood, of Walthamstow, won the D.C.M. by rescuing a man buried by a shell explosion.

Pte. J. Carrick, Royal Lancasters, T.F., won the D.C.M. on listening-post duty. He stopped and disarmed a German sniper.

By a judgment delivered yesterday the Court of Appeal, reversing the decision of Mr. Justice Bargrave Deane, declare that little five-year-old Teddie Slingsby—here photographed at play in his nursery—is not the lawful son of Commander and Mrs. Charles Slingsby, and is not, therefore, entitled to succeed as heir to the extensive Slingsby estates in Yorkshire.

Mrs. Dorothy Slingsby photographed with little Teddie. She was not in Court to hear the child and looked painten and herself as a golfer.

Commander C. H. R. Slingsby, R.N., Teddie’s reputed father, leaving the Courts after yesterday’s judgment.

Little Teddie’s left ear, which the Master of the Rolls declared had nothing to do with the case.

Case Of Married Men To Be Raised In Parliament.

STOP THE SCANDAL.

Nothing is further from my intention than to run away from my pledge. I hope that a satisfactory solution of the present difficulties will be forthcoming.

At the joint meeting yesterday of the Liberal and National Union, it was decided to demand from the Government, in the debates on the Army Estimates, that the scandalous exclusion of men belonging to the single groups shall be stopped.

Sir Henry Pearse, a Preston contributor who had called his attention to the agitation among married men for a fulfilment of the Government promise, and the County of London Central Appeal Association, are likely to oppose the measure.

MARRIED MEN'S DEPUTATION.

At a well-attended meeting of married men yesterday afternoon a resolution was carried unanimously calling upon the Government to do all in its power to meet the demand of married men for equal treatment.

A deputation was appointed to wait upon Mr. Asquith in support of the resolution.

Mr. Will Dyson said a million young men were shareholders in the recruiting boards, and he called upon the Government to decide the certified occupations, and that it was not good enough to give the married men an exclusive list.

Certified occupations should be wiped out, and the married men should have a special list granted to them.

"This man, that the woman and the other man are in different situations.

Arrangements are in hand for the holding of a meeting to-morrow, when the deputation will call on the Home Secretary from the married men for consideration.

3 OUT OF 11.

This shows how a single vote is shutting out of their responsibilities.

Not gain to the Army

A stupid blunder by the military authorities has been committed in the case of Mr. K., who was charged with being absent without leave, and was sentenced to be shot.

The sentence was later reversed, and Mr. K. was discharged.

An order was made that the sentence of death be reversed, and that he should be re-sentenced.

The army authorities have not yet informed the court of their decision.

The order was made on the application of Mr. K.'s solicitor, who said that the sentence was illegal.

The court of appeal reversed the decision of the military authorities on the ground that the sentence was illegal.

WAR OFFICE SURPRISE.

Director Of Supplies And Transport Resigns.

Major-General R. S. Long, C.B., has resigned his position as Director of Supplies and Transport, on the retirement of his late wife, who died last week.

His resignation is effective immediately, and he will be succeeded by Mr. W. G. Barrett, who has been appointed Director of Supplies and Transport.

MANS LIFE TO SAVE A CAT.

Fabby's Three Days' Adventure In A Tree Ends In Tragedy.

A tom cat, living in Liverpool, was rescued from a tree by Mr. C. H. Jones, 39, a pensioner, who perished in the act.

The editor of a local newspaper said that the cat was only a child, and the hero ought to be praised for his courage.

His case was that he was the only child, and the son appealed for a pension for his mother.

The widow's son had appealed for a pension for his mother, who was also the only child.

HAM AND EGGS.

At a certain club, to which I have the honour and the misfortune to belong, the price of ham (or bacon) and eggs has recently been raised from 1s. to 1s. 6d., which is the reason that the portly bottoms have become thinner and the quality of the food is distinctly worse. Now, as a patriot Briton I am devoted to ham (or bacon) and eggs. I firmly believe that the pig and the hen live for that mystical union of their products in the gravy bowl. For halfway reasonable eggs is the breakfast for your Englishman, and before the war there was many a man who would have gone without his dinner beer rather than have deprived his family of their eggs. All that has changed now—not because ham (or bacon) and eggs have become altogether prohibitive in price, but because we have to cut off our luxuries, and in a weak moment we have become beggar this and other British institutions as luxuries.

But I am wandering from my main theme, ham is dearer than it was, dearer than the price of eggs are dearer, but even now they can be got, new laid, for 2s. or 3d. each. But here we have a case when you must pay 1s. 6d. Obviously something is wrong somewhere.

I am afraid that what is true of the club is true of the country. That is not a happy state of things. It is true that half of one excuse and another most of the request of Mr. Lloyd George's Government done? Who reads the works of Charlotte Yonge in under the impression that the foodstuff to our shores.

We have raised a right of the shore. We are still almost unlimited supplies of foodstuffs to our command. We have restricted the amount of foodstuffs, but the import of food has not been checked.

IT was natural that the neutral foreigner should raise his prices on us and keep on raising them—our need was his opportunity. But we were not altogether helpless, and if the Government had taken the matter in hand it could have kept things nearer the normal. The Government of Great Britain is never without a possible method of lowering the cost of living, and that is with a foreign Power. What has the Government done?

But the imposition does not end there; because the importation of the shore is nothing like so great a rise as has actually been taken place. As you know, shipping firms and traders have squeezed a rich harvest, the small shipkeeper and the consumer have flocked the bill. And often, as in the case of my ham and eggs, the price of a finished product has been raised out of all proportion to the rise in the price of the raw materials.

WHEN the Government is taxed with the errorlessness the usual reply is: It's a good thing for the Army. The Army is in a difficult position, and it is only fair that the Army should be allowed to pay for its own food. It is thus that those who sell to the Government's Department of Food are able to keep their prices down and to keep their profits up. It is not that the Government is not doing its best; but even now they can 'be got, new laid, for 1s. 6d. But here we have a case when you must pay 1s. 6d. Obviously something is wrong somewhere.

The Independents.

IT will be interesting to see what group in Parliament Mr. Parliamentary Bill will attack himself. Both the Liberal and Unionist War Com- mittees are urgent for the day. I had not time to read the connected with either from the Liberal or Unionist Chief Whip. His success will lead to the appearance of further independent candidates in future by-elections. Government.

Married Groups.

I suppose we all have something to say as to the remarkable rumour of the postponement of the marriage of the early groups of married men "in the national interest." That, of course, is absurd. The national interest is to win the war. No doubt officers in a trice alarmed to find that their married men mean business, and it might be better for the Coalition to have a postponement. But even now they tech 1s. 6d. Let's have no nonsense.

The Joy Rider.

There is good reason for believing that the Government proposes in the near future controlling the supply of petrol. Of course, every effort will be made to ensure an adequate supply for commercial and industrial purposes. The Joy rider can have all he wants over the national needs are attended to.

General Long.

I am afraid that General Long's retirement from the command of the Forces is due to the inert incapacity of the War Office to understand the needs of the Forces (inflated) and the direst needs of the war. Transport and supplies come in the ordinary way from the Quartermaster-General, who is doing his best, being made a department of their own. General Long is a great favourite in the Army, has been pronounced success in his office, and, best of all, he will not stand for any nonsense.

Government Guide.

A woman I know had occasion to visit a certain department to interview officials about her husband's presentation for her by the authors of "Heir of Redclyffe." Of course, the imposition does not end there; she must be only an expense. That, of course, is bosh. The Censor has decided that what is true of the club is true of the country. That is not a happy state of things. It is true that half of one excuse and another most of the request of Mr. Lloyd George's Government done? Who reads the works of Charlotte Yonge in under the impression that the foodstuff to our shores.

ATTESTED MEN TO ASQUITH

Do the Government of this country realise the full meaning of the married men's protest? Mr. H. H. Asquith, and Lord Derby, that the pledge 'Single men first' should be kept. "It is true that I have discovered a new method by which I reduced my weight 36 pounds in five weeks," said Miss Winifred Grace Hartland, when questioned by a reporter. Although Miss Hartland is not very young, her appearance is that of a girl of 20, for her figure is willowy and her complexion beautiful.

"For several years I was troubled with horrible fatness and my appearance was so bad that I shed a good many tears, I can assure you," she continued. "But after spending a great deal of money I discovered a simple, harmless way to reduce my weight, and my double chin and fat hips soon disappeared."

You may say in your paper that because I know how much suffering and embarrassment fatness causes, I will give to each one of your readers who is interested a copy of my book, 'Weight Reduced Without Drugs.'"

"What is the price of the book?" asked the reporter.

"It is absolutely free," said Miss Hartland. "All that was required was that they should write to me."

"All I ask is that two penny stamps be enclosed to pay postage," she concluded. "Readers may have this book free by addressing letters to Miss Winifred Grace Hartland, (Dept. 1050), 192 Hats, Hatton Garden, London, E.C."

An Irish Night

This week will be a rare one for charity matinées and concerts and "in-aid-ofs" generally.

To-day there is the matinée at the Criterion, organised by Miss Mary Moore, in aid of the Three Arts Employment Fund, that mustn’t be missed, then there is the big Irish concert on Saturday afternoon in the Albert Hall, the proceeds to be given to free meals for soldiers and nurses in both Ireland and England and Irish and the Donata Orestas. The ladies have been taking to Lady Limerick, who is one of the organisers, about the concert, and she tells me that a host of 40 Society girls, as well as selling programmes, will have chamois for sale. These ladies will wear sashes of the real Irish blue, the shade as is worn in the bosoms of the Irish Guards.

The Countesses Zin and Nada Torby, Miss Edith Cadogan, Lady Clara Vernon, the Marchionesses of Granby, Lady Sarah Wilson, the Princess of Chesterfield, Miss Violet Warrender, and Miss Melita Keppel are a few of the formal ladies.

Gaby Returns

I hear from America that Gaby Deslys, whose performances have been such a success, will be seen in a new role at the Palace next month.

The Crowd That Follows

"Follow the Crowd" at the Empire has caught on, and the company are playing to enthusiastic houses and each performance. The matinées—there are two a week—have attracted large audiences. Lady Londesborough, with Dora Drummond and Miss Etelka Ferencz, were in the stalls when I looked in the other afternoon to hear Ethel Levey in her Havanese song, which is certainly one of the best numbers in the show.

Gramophone Wanted.

I have received a letter from Frank asking if any of my readers could spare an old gramophone. My correspondent writes:—"It would be a God-send to us, and the pleasure it would give us you would not realise unless you had to spend five weeks in the freezing weather and the conditions are awful.

I will send the name and address of the soldier to anyone who has a gramophone to spare and would like to send it in.

The Welsh Patti.

Miss Amy Evans made her debut last night at the Coliseum—when I say debut, I mean on the variety stage—and met with a great success, which she richly deserved.

At the age of 14 she won an Eisteddfod prize, and it was then that Ben Davies heard her sing. He was so delighted that he took her under his wing and brought her out. She is a Welsh girl from Towyford, in Glamorgan, and is known as Burns Wales as the Welsh Burns. Apart from being a beautiful singer, she is a charming woman.

Company About To Make An Issue Of $800,000 New Capital At Par.

In the Stock Exchange yesterday there was a further improvement in the price of Great Northern shares, and a considerable improvement was made in the market for the shares of the Corporation, which was good on Railway stock generally, but the market does not seem to have fully discounted the prospects of this property. The vigorous movement was paid to trustees, as usual, being especially in demand and rising to $1.50. It is calculation that the company is holding in reserve dividends of about 7s. 6d. per share, and will be an improvement in exchange conditions, which will render the remittance of the money possible without serious loss. Before the war there was a considerable queue of people waiting to purchase the company's shares, and it is not surprising that those who are prepared to wait for a profit.

Among miscellaneous securities a feature was a sharp rise in the share of British India to 7s. 6d., which has made a strong move in the market. The shares of the company, which is holding in reserve dividends of about 7s. 6d. per share, are in a position to make an income of 5s. 6d. on capital.

Cables were quoted at 53, and loan on stock at 80.

We are officially informed that an agreement has been signed between the London County and Westminster Bank, Ltd., and Lloyds Bank, Ltd., an agreement which, it is alleged, will enable the company to secure funds on the same terms as those obtained from the Bank of England. The agreement is understood to be for the purpose of securing a loan of £200,000, the company willing to pay in advances of £10,000 on the same terms as those obtained from the Bank of England.

Another feature was the rise in the price of the shares of the British India company, which is holding in reserve dividends of about 7s. 6d. per share. The company is in a position to make an income of 5s. 6d. on capital, and the shares of the company, which is holding in reserve dividends of about 7s. 6d. per share, are in a position to make an income of 5s. 6d. on capital.

Even in whose the pre-German explorer, has arrived at Constantinople in the way to the British front.

WE WANT MORE WIGLEY'S CHEWING GUM

Let every parcel or letter you send to a soldier or sailor friend contain a few bars of Wrigley’s—the sweetmeat they all want. Wrigley's SPEARMINT Chewing Gum is the sweetmeat with an idea—the idea of combining a delicious flavour with something to refresh and invigorate the system. Wrigley's sales have been reduced by the day that our gallant soldiers and sailors discovered its valuable tonic value. Munition workers and civilians likewise choose it because there is nothing like it.

BE SURE IT IS WIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

the chewing gum with the fresh mint leaf flavour. Imbibers never copy anything but the name. Satisfy yourself by including on Wrigley's.

BRITAIN'S BEST PICTURE PAPER.

THE HEAD GARDENER OF HOLLAND HOUSE.

One of the new high collars and frills which are becoming so popular.

SHE KNOWS "KULTUR."

Mrs. Spottiswoode, part-author of "Kultur at Home." Her husband was killed in the first battle of Ypres.—(Langster, Ltd.)

The famous gardens at Holland House are now in charge of a woman. The Dowager Countess of Ilchester has as her head gardener Miss Theodora Lockhart, daughter of the late Mr. W. E. Lockhart, R.A. Our photographs are of Miss Lockhart at her work at Holland House.—(Daily Sketch.)

 Cataint's Fiancee.

Miss Violet Pulliene is the fiancee of Capt. H. C. H. Ede, of the Royal Field Artillery.—(Keturah Collings.)

Miss Hermione Lyttelton, youngest daughter of General Sir Neville Lyttelton, is nursing at a military hospital.—Val L'Estrange.

IN THE TROPICS.

A quiet yarn on board one of our battleships in the tropics.

AND HER BROTHER'S

Miss Maclean's brother—Lieut. Maclean—is serving with the Cameron Highlanders. He has been wounded.

In the Sister's part.

Miss Constance Maclean, a member of a well-known New Zealand family, is in the soldiers' canteen at Compegne.

Up in the clouds.

Lady Arbuthnot Lane, wife of the eminent surgeon, is working in the Red Cross surgical bandages department.—(Russell.)

Some of the ways women are helping.

The Hon. Mrs. G. Wilson, wife of the M.P., is busy collecting comforts for our soldiers both wounded and in the field.—(Bertram Park.)
