Figure S3: Dialogue of Northern Cape Afrikaans
Translation: You have to ask your school money back, friend! You learn everything, but you don’t learn about the only thing that matters. It serves no purpose to learn lists and names and stuff by heart and not knowing about the rain. When the rain comes, it turns all problems into pleasure. When you come here again and you see that we have had rain, then you should say: I am so glad that I can see that you are very well.
