

$f = 0.78$

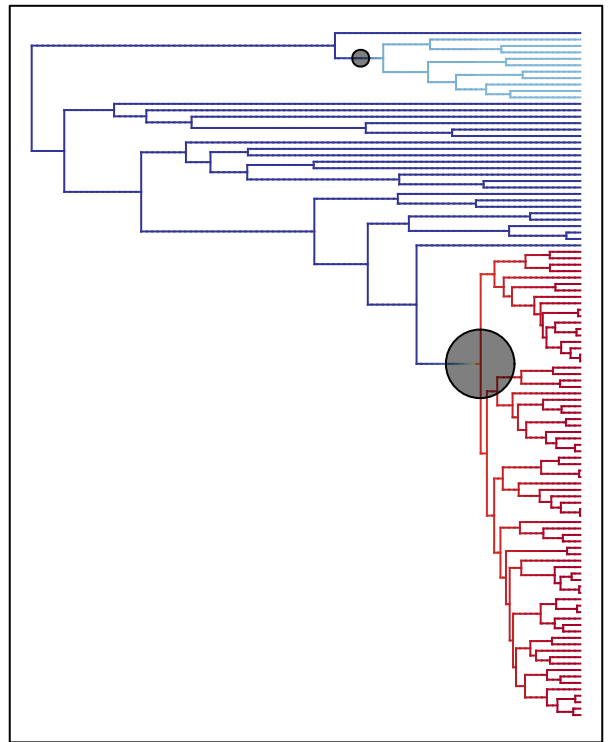

$f = 0.12$

$f = 0.042$

$f = 0.033$

Supplementary Figure S4. BAMM plot showing the two most common shift configurations in the credible set. The 'f' number corresponds to the proportion of the posterior samples in which this configuration is present.