The Council shall be entitled to withhold its consent or to grant it upon such terms as it may deem advisable. In the event of the construction of any such extension being proceeded with it shall, in so far as the conditions attached to the consent of the Council are not at variance with the provisions of this Act, be carried out in accordance with the said conditions: Provided further that the Council shall not give its assent to any extension of the said line or sidings, until notice for one month shall have been given by the Company in the Gazette, and by advertisement in two local newspapers once a week during the same period, of the intention of the Company to apply for such consent. And upon the expiration of such term the Council shall appoint a court, to consist of the Mayor and four Councillors, or of such Standing Committee of the Council as the Council may determine, who on a day, of which public notice shall have been given, shall sit for the purpose of hearing objections from ratepayers or persons whose interests may be affected by such extensions ; and such ratepayers or persons shall be heard either in person or by their agents or counsel ; and such Court shall, after hearing all parties concerned, report to the Council whether any

(a) To erect, construct, maintain and work lines of poles, standards (which poles and standards shall be of iron of a design approved by the Council) and wire for overhead connexions or underground conduits for electric currents or cables over or under all such roads, streets and public squares or places through which the said lines of tramway shall pass, as may be necessary for the proper and efficient working of the same.

(b) To lay and maintain tracks for the same.

(c) To make all necessary excavations for the erection, construction and maintenance of such lines and all other necessary works.

(d) To erect, maintain and work all necessary power and stations, sidings, depots, stables, car-houses and offices subject to the approval of and in accordance with any resolution or standing orders of the Council and any municipal regulations which may at any time be in force: Provided that the Company shall have no right to build any erections upon any road, street, public place, municipal land, unless specially permitted so to do by resolution of the Council, and the Company specially undertakes that in the event of any electric leak taking place and any damage being thereby caused at any time by electrolysis or otherwise it will reimburse and make good to the Council all costs, damages and expenses to which the Council may be put by reason thereof; and provided, further, that subject to the consent of the Council nothing in this Act contained shall prevent the Company from using the rails of any of the said lines of tramway as a part of its system of conductors for the return electric current.

laid down in the centre of the streets or roads traversed and in such manner as to permit of the free passage of vehicles on each side of the cars between the car and the kerb except upon such streets or portions of streets whereon with the consent of the Council the line may be located on one side of the street or road.

Paving of road by Company.

8. Wherever there is a single track the surface of the road, street, or public place, to the extent of eighteen inches outside each rail, shall be paved by the Company with good stone or wood, and by it be maintained in such state and in good and efficient repair. Between the rails and abutting on each line of rails the Company shall construct, maintain and keep in good and efficient repair a toothing course of good stone or wood, such toothing course to extend alternately nine and six inches from each line of rails towards the centre of the track, while so much of the space between the rails as is not occupied by such toothing courses shall be constructed and maintained in a good and efficient state of repair by the Company with a material not inferior to that of which the remainder of the road or street is constructed. Wherever a double track is permitted to be laid in any street, road, or public place, and the space between each track does not exceed four feet, the surface of the street, road or public place to the extent of eighteen inches outside the two outer rails of the tracks and the whole of the surface between the tracks, that is between the inner lines of the respective tracks, shall be paved by the Company with good stone or wood, and shall be maintained by it in such state and in good and efficient repair, while between the rails of each of the two tracks the Company shall construct similar toothing courses, and construct, and do all other works and things as are required where there is a single track, and shall maintain the same in manner as required in the case of a single track: provided that where the tracks are laid at a greater distance than four feet apart the surface between the tracks shall be paved for a width of four feet only. At all crossings the whole surface of the road or street from kerb to kerb shall be paved with stone or wood as may be required by the Council, and shall be so maintained and kept in repair by the Company.

The said extent shall be an area in length extending from a point in the road, street or public place a reasonable distance before the track reaches that part of the roadway opposite to the place of public worship, to a point a reasonable distance beyond the point where the track leaves the roadway opposite to such place of public worship, and in width a distance equal to eighteen inches outside each of the tracks added

Rate of speed

18. The rate of speed at which the cars shall travel shall not exceed seven miles an hour in any of the principal or business streets and ten miles an hour in residential streets. If any difference shall arise as to what are principal or business or residential streets, the decision thereon shall rest with the Council, who, notwithstanding that any street may have been previously classified under one heading, may at any time thereafter cause it to be placed under the other class should circumstances in the opinion of the Council require it: provided that the Council may limit the rate of speed in any residential street to seven miles an hour.

Servants of Company and cars to be licensed.

19. The drivers, guards and other servants of the Company, and the cars, carriages and conveyances of the tramway shall require to be licensed by the Council, and be subject to such bye-laws and regulations as now exist or may hereafter be lawfully made.

Power of purchase by Council in certain events.

21. If the said tramways, or any part thereof, shall during a period of two consecutive days, cease to run or be worked for the use of the public, unless from strike of operatives or some other cause beyond the control of the Company, or if any section of the said tramways shall not be properly or efficiently worked, the Council may give one month's notice in writing to the Company, and at the expiration of the said period all powers under this Act conferred upon the Company in so far as the said powers under this Act conferred upon the Company in so far as the said powers relate to any unused, unworked or improperly worked portion of the line shall cease and determine, and the Council may as to any such portion exercise the option of purchasing the same upon the terms hereinafter set forth, just as if the period of time at which the Council has such option had arrived.

Rails may be taken up in certain events.

22. The Company shall upon such notice, and if the Council shall not purchase, be bound and obliged at their own cost to remove the rails and other plant, and to restore the road or other place to a condition fit for traffic, having regard to the material of which such road or other place is constructed. And should the Company fail to do so, the Council may remove the rails and do all things necessary to the restoration of the road or other places as aforesaid and demand and recover the cost incurred thereby from the Company.

Commencement and completion of work.

23. The work upon so much of the system of tram lines as is shown on the deposited plans as lying between a point at or near the corner of Zieke and Caledon-streets and a point at or near the corner of Vandeleur-street, shall be commenced by the Company within one year of the promulgation of this Act, and shall be completed and in operation for public use within fifteen months thereafter, and any extension of such system as may be consented to by the Council, as provided by this Act, shall be constructed at the rate of not less than one mile per year during the four years succeeding such consent, to the intent that at the end of each year one mile of such extension shall be open for public use and traffic: Provided, always, that upon the due completion of the entire system of tramways according to the routes laid down there shall be no further obligation under the terms of this section.

Penalty for non-compliance with preceding section.

24. In the event of non-compliance with the preceding section the Company shall be liable to pay the Council, if demanded, a penalty of two pounds sterling for every day's default, provided that the total of such penalties shall not exceed one thousand pounds sterling, and in case the Company shall fail to commence the said work within the said period of one year aforesaid then all the rights and powers with regard to the construction and working of the tramways authorised by the fourth section of this Act shall cease and determine.

Tramway not to endanger public safety.

25. The tramways shall be so constructed and worked as not to hinder the safe passage of the ordinary traffic upon and across the roads, streets, and public places, or to endanger the safety of the public.

Rental to be paid to Council.

26. The Company shall, subject to the terms of the proviso hereinafter contained, pay the Council for the use of the streets, roads, and public places upon which the tram lines run, and for the rights and privileges by these presents conceded, a rental at the rate of fifty pounds sterling per annum per mile of tram-road laid, and such rental shall continue until such time, if any, as the Legislature of the Colony shall grant, and the Council shall avail themselves of the power to levy and collect rates in respect of the rails and rolling stock, and so soon as such power shall be acted upon the said annual payment shall cease: provided, however, that after the period of ten years, reckoned from the date of the taking effect of this Act, whenever in any year the amount of profit between the gross earnings and the actual working expenses (which latter shall be taken to include maintenance and a reasonable allowance for wear and tear) shall be greater than a sum equal to the average of five hundred pounds per mile of tramways being worked by the Company in the Municipality under this Act, then the Company shall pay as rental per mile one-tenth of the amount of such profits.

Right of Company to collect tolls.

27. The Company shall have the right and power to charge and collect fares for the carrying of passengers and parcels upon or over all lines so to be constructed, provided that the tariff of such fares shall be exhibited in a conspicuous place in each car, carriage or conveyance, and shall not be increased at any time until after public notice shall have been given in the Gazette and in two or more newspapers published in this city and approved by the Council; and provided, always, that no fares or charges shall in any case at any time exceed those mentioned in the Schedule to this Act.

Manner of carrying out the work.

28. With respect to any work done or required to be done by the Company, under the powers hereby conferred or otherwise, or in consequence of the consent of the Council and whether during construction or during maintenance, it is distinctly provided

(a) That no road, street, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, or anything the property wherein is vested in the Council or the public, shall be entered upon, broken up, or opened up, or otherwise dealt with until the Company shall have given to the Council notice in writing of its intention so to do, not less than three days before beginning or doing any such work or thing (except in cases of emergency after the construction of the tramways have been completed, arising from defects in any of the works, and then so soon as is possible after the beginning of the work or the necessity for the same shall have arisen). Such notice shall set forth clearly and distinctly the work it is intended to perform, and a general notice of the intention to carry out the whole scheme shall not be a sufficient compliance with the terms hereof which shall be read in connection with the next following sub-section dealing with the carrying out of the necessary work by sections.

(b) The Company shall at all times when required thereto by the Council or its appointed officer, furnish such plans, sections and information respecting the construction at any time about to be or being undertaken by it, and respecting the routes, grades, or other details as may be required by the Council, and in the event of its not complying with such requirement forthwith on demand, shall be debarred from proceeding with any work until it has so done to the Council's satisfaction.

(c) The Council may during the progress of any works inspect all materials used or proposed to be used thereon, and may require proper material to be used or the work to be done in a proper manner, and in the event of the instruction of the Council or its authorised official not being carried out, the Council shall be entitled to prevent the further carrying out of the works hereby authorised until its instructions have been obeyed.

(d) No road, street, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, or anything as aforesaid, shall, except in cases of emergency aforesaid, be entered upon, broken, or opened up, or otherwise dealt with, except under the superintendence of the Council or its appointed officer, and according to such plans and in such manner as shall be approved by the Council or its appointed officer; or in the case of any pole, wire, pipe or other property of the Postmaster-General otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of any Act for regulating the employment of electricity for the purposes of electric lighting and power generally, which may be passed during the present or any future session of Parliament, or any regulation which may be framed under the authority of such Act; and it is distinctly agreed that the works of the Company shall be carried out in sections approved by the Council or its appointed officer, to the intent that each section shall be speedily and expeditiously completed and with the least possible inconvenience to the public and traffic, the whole attention and energy of the Company being as far as possible devoted to carrying out the works section by section.

(e) The Company shall with all convenient speed complete each section of the work undertaken, and carry away forthwith all rubbish occasioned thereby, and shall reinstate and make good and maintain against subsidence the road, street, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, or other property interfered with, and shall at times whilst any operations are being carried on, take every precaution to prevent accident, and shall cause sufficient lights and watchmen to be placed and kept up every night during which the surface of any road, street, public place or bridge continues broken up, or during which any danger from any cause may arise to the public.

(f) All operations of the Company shall be carried on in such manner as not to interfere in any way with sewers, drains, waterpipes, gaspipes, street lamps, electric cables or wires, whether above or below the surface of the street, or other like works, and no approval by the Council of any plan of work shall in any way be deemed to avoid the necessity of due compliance with the terms of this sub-section, unless such plan specifically provides for any such interference.

(g) In the event of its being necessary for the due carrying out of the Company's operations that any sewer, drain, waterpipe, gaspipe, street lamp, electric cable or wire as aforesaid, or other like works, shall be removed temporarily, obstructed or deviated, no such act shall be done without the consent in writing of the Council being first had and obtained, and in the event of such consent being granted, the Council may elect to carry out the removal, temporary obstruction or deviation themselves or by their servants, in which case the Company shall forthwith reimburse them the reasonable expenses which it may incur or to which it may be put by so doing, and whenever in this Act the Council is authorised to recover expenses from the Company, the fact that any person or persons are in the ordinary employ or pay of the Council shall not debar the Council from making claim for, and recovering any sum or sums paid to him or them in respect of the period of time he or they was or were so employed.

(h) All operations of the Company shall be carried on without causing any damage to any street, road, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, underground works or other property of the Council, or any other body or person, and should any damage be done at any time in contravention hereof, the Council, or any other body or person, may by notice in writing, require the Company to make good the same forthwith, and should it not do so, the Council may cause to be done, what is necessary to repair such damage and recover the expenses incurred thereby forthwith from the Company.

(i) If the Company enters upon, breaks up, opens up or otherwise deals with any road, street, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, or other property vested in the Council without giving such notice as aforesaid or in a manner different from that which shall have been approved of or determined by the Council, except in such cases where the Company is authorised to perform such works without any notice, superintendence or instruction, or if the Company make any unnecessary delay in completing any such work or reinstating or making good any of the city property interfered with by it, or in carrying away the rubbish occasioned by its works, or if it neglect to take the precautions against accident or neglect to carry out substantially not only the terms of this section but also every term or condition of this Act, it shall forfeit to the Council a sum not exceeding five pounds for every such offence or breach and an additional two pounds for each day during which any such delay as aforesaid shall continue after it has received notice thereof: Provided, always, that the right to penalties in this Act given to the Council shall not in any way debar the Council in their option from taking other legal action for the enforcement of the terms of this Act, or from exercising any other legal remedies.

As to streets less than thirty feet in width.

29. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Act the Company shall have no right to lay any tram lines or execute any works in any street less than thirty feet in width, but the Council undertake that upon receiving due security from the Company for all costs, expenses and compensation for expropriation to which the Council may be put in and about so doing, they will use their best and utmost endeavours to cause such road or street to be widened to such extent as in the opinion of the Council is advisable having regard to the position and situation of the street.

Power of Council to purchase.

30. The rights and powers conferred upon the Company with regard to the construction of the tramway in the fourth section of this Act mentioned, which are put into operation within a period of five years from the date hereof, shall thereafter continue for a further term of twenty years. At the expiration of the said periods, together twenty-five years, the Council shall have and may execute the option of purchasing the whole of the property and plant of the undertaking situate within the limits of the Municipality, and if such option be not exercised the rights and powers by this Act granted shall continue for a further term of five years, at the expiration of which period the Council shall have the like option, and so on for successive terms of five years unless or until at the expiration of any such term the Council shall so exercise the option so reserved to it, but in no case for a longer period than the term of fifty years. In the event of such option being exercised the price to be paid shall be calculated upon the basis of actual capital amount expended on construction and equipment of the undertaking, reasonable deduction being made for the wear and tear of the said property and plant, and in the event of any differences as to the amount, the same shall be determined by arbitration, and in the fixing of the purchase price by the arbitrators they shall proceed on the above basis.

Furnishing balance sheets and statements.

31. The Company shall annually and so often as any balance sheet, statement of profit and loss, and report be prepared by or submitted to the shareholders or members, forward a duly certified copy thereof and of each of such documents to the Council. And the Council shall have the right of requiring the Company to verify and explain the particulars of such balance sheet for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of rental under section twenty-six, and in like manner to verify and explain the particulars of the capital amount expended on the construction and equipment of the undertaking, should the power to purchase by the Council be exercised under section thirty. In the event of any difference, or question relating to the amount of rental or purchase amount, the same shall be determined by arbitration.

Arbitration.

32. For the purposes of any arbitration under this Act the provisions of the Lands and Arbitration Clauses Act, 1882, are hereby incorporated herein and shall apply.

In certain events a forfeiture of money to Council.

33. In the event of the Tramway works not being bonâ fide commenced and one thousand pounds sterling not having been duly expended in the construction of such tramway in the streets, roads, and public places of the city within two years from the date of the promulgation of this Act, the sum of two hundred and fifty pounds which has been deposited on behalf of the said Syndicate with the Council, shall be forfeited to the Council and become its property, but in case the said works shall have been bonâ fide commenced and constructed to the extent aforesaid, or the Council be of opinion that circumstances warrant repayment of such deposit, then the said sum shall be paid by the Council to the Company and not to the Syndicate as stated in the agreement in the preamble referred to.

Power to sell or purchase.

34. The Company shall have full power and authority to sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of the said lines of tramway when constructed to any other Company or public body, to purchase or hire any other tramway or works, property, plant, material, buildings or appliances connected therewith, and to enter into any working arrangements with any other Company having similar objects which now or hereafter may exist within the Cape Division.

Obstructions to be removed.

35. If any person or persons shall drive or lead any wagon, cart, carriage, or other vehicle, or any horse or other animal upon the said tramway lines in such manner as to wilfully obstruct and hinder, or shall in any other way wilfully obstruct or hinder any car or conveyance belonging to the Company, or shall refuse to remove such obstruction, it shall be lawful for any officer of the

No. 21—1895.

Company, or any person whom he may call to his assistance to remove such obstruction; and any person who shall be guilty of such hindrance or obstruction, shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings, and in default of payment to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding one month unless such fine be sooner paid.

Obstruction of traffic.

36. Nothing in this Act contained shall authorise the Company in any manner to obstruct or hinder the safe passage or crossing of the ordinary traffic on any roads or streets in which such tramway shall have been made except temporarily for the purposes of constructing and maintaining the tramways, posts, wires and works as hereinbefore set forth, but in all such cases a sufficient space shall be left at least on one of the sides of the said roads or streets to allow all carriages, cattle and passengers to pass the carriages on the said tramway in a safe and convenient manner provided that not more than two trailers be attached to each motor car; provided, always, that subject to the provisions of section twenty-five of this Act rights and facilities shall at all times be enjoyed by the said Company for their carriages to pass without obstruction or hindrance along the several lines of the Company; and upon due and sufficient notice being given, by such whistle, bell, gong, or other contrivance as the Council may approve, by the driver or conductor or other person in charge of the said carriages of the approach thereof, all persons and vehicles upon or near the lines of rails shall, as soon as practicable, remove so as to allow the carriages of the Company to pass along the line freely and without obstruction.

Punishment of persons wilfully obstructing.

37. Any person who shall wilfully obstruct the officers or servants of the said Company, or any contractors with the Company, in the lawful exercise of their powers in setting out or making, laying down, repairing, or working the tramways authorised by this Act, shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings, and in default of payment to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding one month, unless such fine be sooner paid.

Or knowingly aid or assist in the doing of any such thing; shall for every such offence be liable (in addition to any proceedings by way of indictment or otherwise to which such person may be subject) to pay a penalty not exceeding forty shillings and in default of payment to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding one month, unless such fine be sooner paid.

Tolls to be charged equally.

39. The tolls, fares or rates of charge to be taken or made for passengers shall be at all times charged equally to all persons, and after the same rate in respect of all passengers travelling under the same conditions; and the tolls, fares or rates of charge to be taken or made for goods shall be likewise charged equally after the same rate whether by ton, or otherwise in respect of all goods of the same description; and no reduction or advance in any such tolls, fares or rates shall be made either directly or indirectly in favour of or against any particular Company or person travelling upon or using the said tramway.

Penalty for avoiding or refusing to pay fare.

40. If any person travelling in any carriage on the tramway shall avoid or attempt to avoid payment of the fare, or if any person shall refuse to pay his fare after it has been demanded by the conductor or other duly authorised servant of the Company, or having paid the fare for a certain distance shall knowingly and wilfully proceed in any such carriage beyond such distance, and refuse to pay the additional fare for the additional distance, or attempt to avoid payment thereof, or if any person shall knowingly and wilfully refuse or neglect on arriving at the point to which such person has paid the fare, to quit such carriage, such person shall for every such offence, be liable to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings, and in default of payment to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding three days, unless such fine be sooner paid.

41. All penalties imposed by this Act shall be recoverable in the Court of the Resident Magistrate of Cape Town, and if at the suit of the Company then for the benefit of the Company.

Tolls to be exhibited in conspicuous places.

42. A list of all the tolls authorised by this Act to be taken and which shall be exacted by the Company shall be published by being exhibited in some conspicuous place on the stations of the Company, and in or upon the cars, and the Company shall have the right to recover, by legal process in the Court of the Resident Magistrate as aforesaid, all such charges from passengers and from the owners of goods, articles or things conveyed by the Company, and shall moreover have the right of retaining such goods, articles or things until the charges appertaining to the same have been duly paid; provided, always, that such tariff of charges may be altered by the Company in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-seven of this Act.

Power to make bye-laws.

43. The Company shall have the power to make bye-laws as to the stopping of the cars for taking up and setting down passengers, the space in the cars to be occupied by passengers, the conditions upon which persons will be allowed to travel upon or use the cars, and all other matters relating to the working and regulating of the traffic upon the tramways, and as to the penalties to be imposed by any Court upon any person convicted of a breach of the said bye-laws, and from time to time to add to and vary such bye-laws. Such bye-laws and any additions thereto or alterations thereof shall be submitted to the Governor for approval, copies of the same being first transmitted to and approved of by the Council at least fourteen days prior to being so submitted, and upon the Governor's approval being obtained, and proclamation made in the Gazette, shall have the force of law, but may at any time be revoked by the Governor by proclamation.

(b) The Company shall at all times when required thereto by the Council or its appointed officer furnish such plans, sections and information respecting the construction at any time about to be or being undertaken by it, and respecting the routes, grades or other details as may be required by the Council, and in the event of non-compliance with such requirement forthwith on demand, shall be debarred from proceeding with any work until it has so done to the satisfaction of the Council.

(c) The Council may during the progress of any works inspect all material used or proposed to be used thereon, and may require proper material to be used or the work to be done in a proper manner, and in the event of the instruction of the Council or its authorised official not being carried out, the Council shall be entitled to prevent the further carrying out of the works hereby authorised until its instructions have been obeyed.

(d) No road, street, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, or anything as aforesaid shall, except in cases of emergency aforesaid, be entered upon, broken, or opened up, or otherwise dealt with, except under the superintendence of the Council, or its appointed officer, and according to such plans and in such manner as shall be approved by the Council or its appointed officer; or in the case of any pole, wire, pipe or other property of the Postmaster-General otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of any Act for regulating the employment of electricity for the purposes of electric lighting and powers generally, which may be passed during the present or any future Session of Parliament, or any regulation which may be framed under the authority of such Act; and the works of the Company shall be carried out in sections approved by the Council or its appointed officer to the intent that each section shall be speedily and expeditiously completed and with the least possible inconvenience to the public and traffic, the whole attention and energy of the Company being as far as possible devoted to carrying out the works section by section.

(f) All operations of the Company shall be carried on in such manner as not to interfere in any way with sewers, drains, waterpipes, gaspipes, street lamps, electric cables or wires whether above or below the surface of the street or other like works, and no approval by the Council of any plan of work shall in any way be deemed to avoid the necessity of due compliance with the terms of this sub-section unless such plan specifically provides for any such interference.

(g) In the event of its being necessary for the due carrying out of the Company's operations that any sewer, drain, waterpipe, gaspipe, street lamp, electric cable or wire as aforesaid, or other like works, shall be removed temporarily, obstructed or deviated, no such act shall be done without the consent, in writing, of the Council being first had and obtained, and in the event of such consent being granted, the Council may elect to carry out the removal, temporary obstruction or deviation itself or by its servants, in which case the Company shall forthwith reimburse to the Council the reasonable expenses which it may incur, or to which it may be put by so doing, and whenever by this Act the Council is authorised to recover expenses from the Company, the fact that any person or persons are in the ordinary employ or pay of the Council shall not debar the Council from making claim for, and recovering any sum or sums paid to him in respect of the period of time he was so employed.

(h) All operations of the Company shall be carried on without causing any damage to any street, road, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, underground works or other property of the Council, and should any damage be done at any time in contravention hereof, the Council may by notice, in writing, require the Company to make good the same forthwith, and should it not do so, the Council may cause to be done what is necessary to repair such damage and recover the expenses incurred thereby forthwith from the Company.

The Governor may frame rules with respect to pensions of officers who have served under another Government or a Harbour Board.

30. (1) It shall be lawful for the Governor to frame or approve of rules similar to those which may be in force in the United Kingdom for the calculation of the pensions which may be granted on their retirement to officers who may have served partly in the Colonial Civil Service and partly in the Imperial Service, or in that of another British Colony, or in that of any State, Territory, or civilized power, in South Africa, or in that of any Harbour Board in the Colony, and for the charging of equitable shares of such pensions to the revenues of the Colony.

It shall be lawful for the Governor to grant to any person, to whom at his retirement any pension or gratuity might lawfully be granted, and who is compelled before the completion of ten years' service, to quit the Civil Service by reason of severe bodily injury, or permanent ill-health, occasioned, without his own default, while engaged in the discharge of his public duty, a gratuity not exceeding the amount arrived at by allowing three months' pay for each year of service, which would have been counted for pension purposes, or a superannuation allowance not exceeding ten-sixtieths of the annual salary and emoluments of his office.

Allowances on abolition of office on Fixed Establishment.

34. It shall be lawful for the Governor to grant to any person retired or removed from the fixed establishment of the Civil Service in consequence of the abolition of his office, such special annual allowance, not exceeding two-thirds of the salary and emoluments of the office, by way of compensation, as on a full consideration of the circumstances of the case may seem to the said Governor to be a reasonable and just compensation for the loss of office: Provided that such special annual allowance shall not exceed the amount which might be granted if one-third of the period of service which would have been counted for pension purposes were added thereto: Provided always that the number of years to be added shall in no case exceed such number as would, if added to the actual age of the person retiring or removed, make up sixty-five.

Power of Governor with respect to officers on Fixed Establishment unfit for their duties.

Amended by 1922 Act 38, Sec. 10

35. Should any person on the fixed establishment of the Civil Service be found to be unfit from any physical or other cause to discharge efficiently the duties of the particular office filled by him, or should it be found necessary to remove any person in order to facilitate improvements in the organization of the Department to which any person belongs by which greater efficiency and economy can be effected, it shall be lawful for the Governor, if such person shall have had ten years' service or upwards, to place him on temporary pension pending the occurrence of a suitable vacancy, or if he shall have had less than ten years' service, to dispense with his services, precisely as if, in either case, he were not on the Fixed Establishment: Provided that no person shall be removed from the service in order to facilitate improvements in the department to whch he belongs without the previous concurrence of both Houses of Parliament.

called upon to do so, to take upon him such office or situation, or shall decline or neglect to execute the duties thereof satisfactorily, being in a competent state of health, he shall forfeit his right to the compensation or superannuation allowance which had been granted to him: Provided that no such person shall be liable to be called upon to serve again if he shall have remained unemployed in the Service for a period of five years.

37. In case any person enjoying any superannuation allowance, in consequence of his having retired from office on account of age, infirmity, or any other cause, or enjoying any compensation for past services upon the abolition or reduction of office, shall be appointed to fill any public office in this Colony or elsewhere of which the whole or any part of the salary and emoluments are payable out of the Imperial Revenue or out of the Revenue of this or any other Colonial Government or of any Harbour Board of the Colony, such allowance or compensation shall cease to be paid for any period subsequent to such appointment, if the annual amount of salary and emoluments so payable be equal to those of the office formerly held by him, and in case they shall not be equal to those of his former office, then no more of such superannuation allowance or compensation shall be paid to him than what, with the salary and emoluments of his new appointment, so payable, shall be equal to that of his former office; provided that this section shall not apply to any person enjoying, at the date of the taking effect of this Act, any such superannuation allowance or compensation as aforesaid, by reason that he shall become a Minister in this Colony.

Calculation of term of service of officers re-appointed.

38. It shall be lawful for the Governor, on the ultimate retirement of any person who may have been re-employed under the last preceding section, to grant to such person a retiring allowance, not exceeding forty-sixtieths of his salary and emoluments, based on his periods of actual service before and after his temporary retirement, which would have been counted for pension purposes, precisely as if such periods had formed continuous service: Provided that if such retiring allowance so re-calculated be less than that granted to him at his previous retirement, he shall be entitled to receive such previous allowance, and in such case he shall also be entitled to a refund of all contributions (if any) to the Civil Service Pension Fund made after the date of such previous retirement.

Special cases in which larger allowances may be granted.

39. It shall be lawful for the Governor to grant to a person to whom at his retirement any pension or gratuity may lawfully be granted, a superannuation compensation, gratuity, or other allowance of greater amount than the amount which might be awarded to him under the foregoing provisions, when special services rendered by such person, and requiring special reward, shall appear to him to justify such increase, but so that such allowance shall in no case exceed the salary and emoluments enjoyed by such person at the time of his retirement: Provided that the minute detailing the circumstances under which such increase was recommended to the Governor shall be laid before and be approved of by both Houses of Parliament before it be granted, and it shall be lawful for the Governor to grant to any person any such allowance or less amount than otherwise would have been awarded to him, when his defaults or demerits in relation to the public service appear to him to justify such diminution: Provided that in the case of a contributor to the Civil Service Pension Fund who neither is dismissed for misconduct, nor voluntarily retires from the service on grounds other than those set forth in the twenty-eighth section of this Act, such allowance shall not be less than the amount actually contributed by such person to the Civil Service Pension Fund.

How averages are obtained for calculating superannuation allowances.

40. Any superannuation or compensation allowance which may be granted to any person after the passing of this Act shall not be computed upon the amount of the salary and emoluments enjoyed by him at the time of his retirement, unless he shall have been in the receipt of the same for a period of at least three years immediately before the granting of such superannuation allowance; and in case he shall not have enjoyed his then existing salary for that period, such superannuation or compensation allowance shall be calculated upon the average amount of salary and emoluments received by such person from time to time during the three years next preceding the commencement of such allowance: Provided that, if at the date of his retirement the whole period of service of such person be less than three years, any superannuation or compensation allowance which may, under the provisions of this Act, be granted to him, shall be calculated on his average salary and emoluments during his whole period of service: Provided, also, in the case of a person re-employed under the thirty-sixth section hereof, that, if, at the date of his ultimate retirement, his whole period of service subsequent to the date of his re-employment shall have been less than three years, his superannuation or compensation allowance shall be calculated upon his average salary and emoluments during the last three years of his actual service, precisely as if a period of temporary retirement had not existed: Provided lastly that in the case of a person, who shall have been employed on daily wages, any superannuation allowance which may be granted to him, may, should he desire it, be calculated upon the average amount of wages and other emoluments received by him for either of the three years preceding his retirement or for the entire period of his service.

Basis of calculation of workmen's pensions.

Continuous services required in calculation of allowances.

41. Service in respect of which superannuation or compensation allowances may be granted must in all cases be continuous, unless interrupted by reduction of office, leave of absence, or other temporary suspension of employment, not arising from misconduct or voluntary resignation; and in computing the amount of any superannuation or compensation allowance, the term salary and emoluments shall be taken to include:

What salary and emoluments include.

(1) House rent or house allowance, or the annual value of quarters in any buildings belonging to or possessed by the Crown which an officer may be allowed to occupy, to an extent not exceeding one-sixth of the average salary and other emoluments of the office during the three years preceding;

(2) The net amount of fees to an extent not exceeding one-fourth of such salary;

(3) The allowed value of rations;

(4) And any other unquestionable remuneration for personal service;

but it shall not include local allowances contingent on the high cost of living in certain localities, or allowances for horse keep, or locomotion, or stationery, or any other allowance contingent on the particular nature and actual transaction of the business of the office, and presumably spent in the discharge of such business: Provided that the net amount of fees shall be obtained by deducting from the average gross amount of fees received during the three years next preceding, the average office expenses during such three years payable by the officer himself.

No leave of absence beyond two months to officers about to retire on pension.

42. It shall not be lawful to grant leave of absence for any period exceeding two months to any person who purposes to retire or whom it is proposed to place on pension at or within six months of the termination of such leave; and should any person who has obtained leave of absence for any period exceeding one month, voluntarily retire on pension during such leave, or within six months after its termination, any superannuation allowance which may lawfully be granted to him under the provisions of this Act shall be calculated on his period of service up to the date from which leave commenced: Provided that if it be established by medical certificate, to the satisfaction of the Governor, that such person is incapable, from infirmity of mind or body, of resuming the duties of his office at the termination of his leave, or though he has resumed service, of continuing to serve for six months thereafter, and that such infirmity is likely to be permanent, it shall be lawful for the Governor to direct that the period of service of such person shall be reckoned up to the date of the close of his leave or of his ultimate retirement as the case may be.

Exceptions.

Fractional part of month not to count.

43. In the computation of superannuation or compensation allowances, no fractional part of a month, and no increase of salary or emoluments granted after the date of the application to be allowed to retire, shall be taken into consideration.

Pension not claimable by person not retiring from all the offices held by him.

44. Unless the Governor shall consider that it is necessary in the public interest or just on the ground of good service and special infirmity, it shall not be lawful to grant a superannuation or compensation allowance to any person holding more than one appointment or office until he shall retire from all the offices held by him.

Absence on leave to count as service if on full or half-pay.

45. For the purpose of calculating any superannuation or compensation allowance, absence on leave with pay in accordance with this Act shall be regarded as service, and the person during such absence on leave shall be deemed to have drawn his full salary and emoluments, but any period of absence on leave without salary shall not be reckoned in the period of service.

When pension awarded may be stopped.

Repealed by 1923 Act 27.

46. After a pension or superannuation allowance has been awarded to any person, the same may thereafter be rescinded, in case it shall be discovered that during his tenure of office he was guilty of any offence which if known might have merited dismissal, or if he shall refuse or neglect to comply with a reasonable request by the Governor to perform some special duty in relation to the affairs of his late office.

Pensions only to persons whose duties occupy their whole time.

47. Save as hereinafter is excepted, it shall not be lawful to grant any superannuation allowance to any person holding an office, in regard to which the holder is not required to give his whole time to the public service; but nothing herein contained shall prevent the Governor from directing that a retiring allowance be granted under the preceding sections of this Act, to the Solicitor-General, the Crown Prosecutor at Kimberley, the Assistant Law Adviser to the Crown, or to the holder of such other office as he may from time to time determine to be entitled to a similar grant: Provided that no such direction as to any such last-mentioned holder shall be of force and effect until the expiration of thirty days from the date on which a minute, embodying the reasons on which it was made, shall have been laid before both Houses of Parliament.

Exceptions.

Pension to be calculated on actual service.

48. Save as may in this Act be excepted, the superannuation allowance to be granted to any person holding office in the Civil Service of the Colony shall be calculated according to the actual period of service of such person, and no addition shall on any pretext whatsoever be made to such period: Provided that nothing in this section contained shall be taken to prejudice the rights under then existing superannuation regulations of any person who previous to the 9th day of February, 1886, was on the fixed establishment of the Civil Service.

Mixed Service.

Pensions of persons transferred to or from the Civil Service.

49. Should any person, serving the Governor of this Colony in a capacity to which a pension calculated according to the scale of one-fiftieth of yearly pay may be granted for each year of service, be transferred to the Civil Service of the Colony, or vice versa from the Civil Service to service in such capacity, then, on the ultimate retirement of such person, it shall be lawful for the Governor to grant to him a pension or superannuation allowance according to the rules of the service from which he retires, allowing, however, one-sixtieth of the amount on which such pension or superannuation allowance may be calculated in respect of each year in which he shall have served in the Civil Service, and one-fiftieth of such amount for each year in which he shall have served in such other capacity: Provided that no pension or retiring allowance may be granted under this section, unless the aggregate number of years of service of such person shall have been at least ten years, if he shall at the time of his retirement have been serving in the Civil Service; or at least fifteen years, if at such time he shall have been serving in such other capacity, and shall, further, have served in such other capacity for at least ten years: Provided lastly that no pension granted under this section may exceed the maximum pension of the service from which he retires.

50. The Superannuation Allowance of any person who on his retirement shall have served partly as a Police Officer, as defined in the "Police Superannuation Act, 1874," and partly in some other capacity or capacities in the Civil Service referred to in the preceding section of this Act, shall be calculated under the provisions of such section as if his service as a "Police Officer" had been service under the "Police Regulation Act, 1882."

Civil Service Pension Fund.

Who must contribute to Civil Service Pension Fund.

51. A monthly deduction for the Civil Service Pension Fund shall be made from the salaries and emoluments or wages of all persons who may be contributors to such Fund at the date of the taking effect of this Act, and subject to the conditions hereinafter contained a like deduction shall be made from the salary and emoluments of every person appointed on monthly or annual salary who may thereafter be admitted into the Civil Service, as defined in the second section of this Act: Provided that no such contribution shall be made

54. In every case in which the amounts paid to a contributor to the Civil Service Pension Fund as wages or emoluments vary from month to month, his monthly contribution to such fund shall be made on such sum as may be determined for the year, with the approval of the Minister, as fairly representing his annual emoluments capable of being taken into account for pension purposes.

Present rate of contributions to be 3 per cent.

55. Until the Governor shall otherwise direct, all contributions to the Civil Service Pension Fund shall be at the rate of three per cent. per annum on the salaries or wages, and all other emoluments of contributors capable of being counted for pension purposes, and shall ordinarily be collected by deduction from such salaries and emoluments or wages: Provided that when the amount of any fees receivable by any officer cannot be definitely ascertained beforehand, the deduction aforesaid shall be made upon the average net amount of such fees received annually during the three financial years next preceding: Provided further that no such direction of the Governor shall take effect until the Legislative Council and House of Assembly shall have communicated to the Governor their concurrence therein.

Who must contribute to Widows' Pension Fund.

58. Every person who, not being a contributor to the Civil Service Pension Fund, is at the time of the passing of this Act a contributor to the Widows' Pension Fund, and every person thereafter appointed to be a Judge of the Supreme Court, and every male contributor to the Civil Service Pension Fund shall, provided his salary or wages, exclusive of other emoluments, amount to £100 per annum or upwards, be required to contribute to the Widows' Pension Fund at the rate of one per cent. per annum on his salary and emoluments or wages.

59. In all cases in which any person contributes both to the Civil Service Pension Fund and to the Widows' Pension Fund, whatever amount may be taken to be or to represent his annual emoluments for the purpose of determining his contribution to the former, shall likewise be taken to be his annual emoluments for the purpose of determining his contribution to the latter.

How Pensioners must contribute.

60. Every contributor to the Widows' Pension Fund who may be placed on a yearly pension, shall be required to continue to contribute to such fund at the rate of one per cent. on the amount of his salary and emoluments at the date of his retirement, unless in case such pension be less than £100 per annum, the pensioner shall have obtained the consent of the Governor to his ceasing to contribute to such fund or to contribute only on the amount of his pension.

Steps to be taken by contributors desirous of securing higher pensions for widows.

61. Every contributor to the Widows' Pension Fund who shall be desirous before he has himself retired on pension of securing a pension for his widow beyond what the deduction of one per cent. would secure, shall, at the time of his proposing to have a further sum beyond the one per cent. aforesaid deducted from his salary or pension, produce to the Treasurer the certificate of some duly qualified medical practitioner in this Colony, as to his state of health; and it shall be competent for the Treasurer, in case such medical practitioner shall not certify that such officer is in sound health, either to refuse his application altogether, or to require such a deduction from the salary or pension of such

62. All contributions to the Widows' Pension Fund at the rate of one per cent. per annum on salary and emoluments or wages shall ordinarily be made by monthly deduction therefrom; ~~and in all cases at the death of any contributor, any difference between the contribution for a complete year, counting from the~~ date ~~from which his first contribution was calculated, and the month~~ly ~~deductions actually made, shall be deducted from the first payment which may be due to his widow.~~

Mode of calculating Widows' Pensions.

63. There shall be paid to the widow of every contributor to the Widows' Pension Fund a pension calculated on the actual contribution of such contributor to such fund in accordance with the tables approved by a competent actuary and now in use, or of such other tables calculated on a like basis and approved by a competent actuary as the Governor may direct to be used in lieu of those now in use, and with regulations framed or approved by the Governor: Provided that in cases in which the contributions have not greatly varied for a number of consecutive years, the calculation may be made as if the contributor had actually contributed during such years at the average rate for such years: Provided, further, that no such pension shall exceed one-third of the salary of the contributor during the year immediately preceding his retirement from the service, or death as the case may be, nor shall any such pension exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty pounds sterling per annum.

Variations in pay due to absence of officer on leave not to affect Widows' ordinary Pensions.

64. Any temporary diminution of the contribution of an officer or employe on the ground of his being absent on leave, and receiving during such absence less than his usual salary and emoluments or wages, and any temporary increase of the contributions of an officer or employé on the ground of his receiving, in addition to his usual salary and emoluments, or wages, a portion of the salary and emoluments or wages of another officer or employé absent on leave, shall not affect the pensions payable to the widows of such officers or employés: Provided that no diminution or increase of contribution on such grounds shall be made in the case of payments at a higher rate than one per cent. per annum.

When surrender value may be allowed.

65. Should any contributor to the Widows' Pension Fund retire from the service on a gratuity, the surrender value of his contributions to such fund computed by such actuary as aforesaid may be refunded to him.

Pension not exceeding £10 per annum may be commuted.

66. Whenever any pension payable to a widow under the provisions of this Act shall not exceed the sum of ten pounds per annum, it shall be lawful for the Governor before any payment of such pension shall have been made to commute such pension by the payment of a capital sum of money calculated according to the estimated duration of the life of the pension-holder.

68. In computing pensions and gratuities the amounts on which contributions have been duly and properly paid to the Civil Service Pension Fund, shall as far as practicable be taken as a basis.

Contributions to be lodged in a Deposit Account.

69. All amounts contributed to the Civil Service Pension Fund and Widows' Pension Fund shall be lodged in the Treasury to the credit of a separate Deposit Account, entitled the "Pension Funds Deposit Account," and the Accounting Officer of these funds shall keep two separate accounts described as "Civil Service Pension Fund," and "Widows' Pension Fund," respectively, to each of which shall be credited all contributions belonging thereto.

What pensions to be charged to Civil Service Pension Fund.

70. All pensions and gratuities granted to contributors to the Civil Service Pension Fund, who have not contributed to such fund during the whole period of their actual service capable of being counted for pension purposes, shall be divided into two parts in proportion to the number of years of such actual service during which they contributed to such fund, and the number of years (including police or military service, if any), during which they did not contribute thereto; and the first-mentioned portions of such pensions and gratuities, and the whole pensions or gratuities granted to persons who contributed to such fund during the whole of their actual service capable of being counted for pension purposes, and no other pensions or gratuities, shall be charged to the Civil Service Pension Fund.

Only calculated Widows' Pensions chargeable to Widows' Pensions Fund.

72. It shall be lawful for the Treasurer to invest any portion of the balances to the credit of the Civil Service Pension and Widows' Pension Funds in Government Debentures or Stock, and to sell any such Debentures or Stock which may have been previously purchased, and a statement of all moneys received and disbursed on behalf of the said funds and of all investments and

(b) An amount equal to the difference between the amount of every widow's pension computed under the provisions of this Act on a three per centum basis, and what would be its amount had it been computed on a five per cent. basis;

(d) And such amounts (if any) as may from time to time be necessary to maintain the solvency of the fund.

At the end of every 5 years, actuarial enquiry to be made into working of the Funds.

showing the amount so fixed in respect of such offices, and from time to time to amend such schedule as circumstances may require: Provided that in determining the amount of security to be required of the holder of any such office the said Treasurer shall act in conjunction with the Minister.

"Public Service Guarantee Fund."

77. The holders of offices from whom security is required shall as heretofore be required to contribute to the fund styled the "Public Service Guarantee Fund," and all contributions or other moneys payable to the said fund shall be lodged to the credit of a separate deposit account in the Treasury.

Payments thereto to be lodged in Treasury.

Deductions in case of officers not hitherto called on to give security.

78. Whenever any person who has not previously contributed to the Public Service Guarantee Fund, in respect of any appointment held by him, is appointed to any office in the public service of the Colony, the holder of which is required to give security, a deduction of one-eighth per cent. on the amount for which he is required to give security shall be made on account of such fund from the first payment of salary in respect of such office, and such person shall further contribute to such fund at the rate of one-eighth per cent. per annum on such amount from the date of his entering on the discharge of the duties of such office.

Adjustment of contributions to fund where a less or greater security for new office required.

79. Should any person appointed to any office in respect of which security is required have contributed to such fund in respect of an office previously held by him, he shall contribute to such fund at the rate of one-eighth per cent. per annum on the amount of security required in respect of such new office, and such contribution shall accrue from the date of his entering on the discharge of the duties of such new office; and the increase if any in the amount to be contributed shall for the first contribution be deducted from the first payment of salary in respect of such new office: Provided that if the period for which he shall have previously contributed shall not have expired, a portion of such previous contribution, proportionate to such unexpired period, shall be deducted from the first contribution required by this section.

Cases in which security not hitherto required.

80. Every person who may at any time hold an office in the public service of the Colony in respect of which, in the opinion of the Treasurer, security should be given, but who has not been required to give any security, shall from a date appointed by the Governor contribute to the Public Service Guarantee Fund, as if he had been first appointed to such office at such date.

First contributions to fund regulated.

81. In respect of every first annual contribution to the said fund, an amount proportionate to the period between the date from which it commences to accrue, and the 31st of March next ensuing, shall be deducted from the first payment of salary payable to the holder of the office in respect of which security is given, and thereafter the annual contribution shall be payable in advance, on the 31st of March in each year, and shall be deducted from the payment of salary for the said month of March, and should any Initial deductions may be altered by Parliament.

82. The rates of initial deduction and of annual contribution to the Public Service Guarantee Fund set forth or referred to in this Act, may from time to time be altered and amended by resolutions of both Houses of Parliament, and thereafter such amended rates shall be substituted for the rates set forth or referred to in this Act, as if the same had been originally inserted therein.

Recovery from person who has rendered the fund liable to pay for his default.

83. Should any person who has become a contributor to the Public Service Guarantee Fund cause any pecuniary loss to the public revenue of the Colony, by reason of any wrongful act or omission, the amount of such loss shall be charged against such person, and shall, as far as possible, be recovered in such manner as the Attorney-General may direct; and in case the amount recovered shall be insufficient to cover such loss, it shall be lawful for the Paymaster-General on being authorised so to do by the Treasurer, to pay out of the aforesaid fund such sum as shall be sufficient to make good the amount of loss sustained by the revenue, not exceeding however the amount for which security was given by the defaulter: Provided that if any amount be subsequently recovered from such defaulter, such amount shall be applied, firstly, to make good the deficiency (if any) still remaining due to the revenue, and secondly, to the reimbursement of such fund.

Interest at 3 per cent. on quarterly balance of fund.

84. It shall be lawful for the Governor to cause interest to be paid from and out of the public revenue, at the rate of three per cent. per annum, on the uninvested balance at the close of each quarter to the credit of the said fund.

86. A statement of all moneys received and disbursed on behalf of the said fund, showing all defaulters and the circumstances under which any disbursements from the fund have been made, and of all investments and sales under the provisions of the last preceding section, shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament annually.

Complete statement of moneys, &c., to be prepared every 5 years and laid before Parliament.

87. At the end of every period of five years, commencing from the 1st day of January, 1895, the Treasurer shall cause to be prepared a complete statement of all moneys received and disbursed on behalf of the Public Service Guarantee Fund under the provisions of this Act, and of the position of the said fund, together with all such further particulars connected therewith as may be required for a full investigation into the working and condition thereof, which shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament during the first session after the expiration of every such period.

And whereas certain persons have formed themselves into a Joint-Stock Company, styled the "Southern Suburbs of Cape Town Tramways Company, Limited":

And whereas the said Company has been duly registered in terms of Act 25 of 1892, and is willing to undertake the construction, equipment, maintenance and working of certain lines of tramway within the said division:

And whereas it is expedient that power and authority should be granted to the said Company to raise money by means of shares, or debentures:

And whereas plans and sections of the lines of tramway proposed to be constructed by the said Company have been lodged with the Clerk of the House of Assembly:

And whereas it is expedient that the said Company should have power to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the said lines of tramway when constructed, to purchase or hire, or enter into any working arrangements with any other Tramway Company or Company having similar objects, which now or hereafter may exist within the Cape Division, and that further powers and rights, with reference to the construction, equipment, maintenance and working of the said tramways, should be conferred upon it:

Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:—

Company to have power to raise money by shares or debentures.

1. The Company incorporated by the said name of the Southern Suburbs of Cape Town Tramways Company, Limited," shall have power and authority, to be exercised by the directors, to raise by means of shares or debentures, such sums of money as may be necessary; provided that the amount of such debentures shall not exceed the amount of the subscribed capital of the Company, and the said debentures shall be subject to such terms and conditions as to the interest thereon and as to repayment thereof as the directors may determine.

2. The Company is hereby authorised to construct, equip, maintain and work by electric or horse power or either of them with all necessary sidings, termini and appurtenances, and with all the powers and rights in this Act set forth, the following lines of tramway within the Cape Division, subject to the provisions of this Act, that is to say:

Tramway No. 1.—Commencing at the end of the existing City Tramway in Mowbray, and passing along the main road in a southerly direction through Rondebosch and Claremont, and terminating in the main road at the southern boundary of the Claremont Municipality. The said Tramway No. 1 will be a single line with passing places.

Tramway No. 2.—Commencing at the termination of Tramway No. 1, and passing along the main road in a southerly direction through Wynberg, and terminating near Constantia Road. The said Tramway No. 2 will be a single line with passing places.

Provided, however, that no passing place shall be constructed, except at places approved of by the Road Authority, and by each Municipal Council as respects that section of the tramway within its jurisdiction, and the length of the loop-lines at such passing places shall also be subject to approval.

Interpretation.

3. In this Act the words "Road Authority" shall mean as to any road or portion thereof, footpath, bridge, drain, sewer, pipe, wire, tree, or other property belonging to any public body, the public body in which the said road, footpath, bridge, or other property or portion thereof is vested or which has lawful control of the same. "The Tramway" shall mean the lines of tramway authorised by the second section of this Act or any of them together with such deviations therefrom and extensions thereof as may be constructed in accordance with this Act.

Power of Company.

4. The Company shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, have the right to erect, construct, maintain and work lines of poles (which poles shall be of iron of a design approved of by the Road Authority) and wires for overhead connections or underground conduits together with span wires and appurtenances for electric currents or cables over or under all such roads, streets and public places through which the said lines of tramway shall pass, as may be necessary for the proper and efficient working of the same; provided that in no case shall the trolley wire be less that enghteen feet high above the surface of the road, and provided that the Company shall have no right to build any erection upon any road, street, public place or municipal land unless specially permitted so to do by the Road Authority, and the Company specially undertakes that in the event of any electric leak taking place and any damage being thereby caused at any time by electrolysis, or otherwise, it will reimburse and make good to the Road Authority, or any other public body, company or person, all costs, damages and expenses to which the Road Authority or such public body, company or person may be put by reason thereof: and provided, further, that nothing in this Act contained

5. No tram line shall be constructed by the said Company in any portion of the said main road which is less than twenty-nine feet six inches wide from kerb to kerb, and alongside of which there is not in existence a footway of a width reasonable and sufficient to the satisfaction of the Road Authority for the use of foot passengers. At any part of the said main road which is less than twenty-nine feet six inches wide, or where such sufficient footway does not exist, it shall be the duty of the said Company, before proceeding with the construction of any tram line under this Act, to widen the said road at their own expense, and to the satisfaction of the Road Authority, until a width of twenty-nine feet six inches has been secured, and to similarly provide such footway as aforesaid.

Position of tramway.

6. The position of the tram lines in the streets or roads traversed shall be such as may be determined by the Road Authority previous to the construction thereof, and the said lines shall be laid by the said Company in such position as the Road Authority may direct: Provided, however, that the said tram lines shall be placed in such a position as to allow a space of not less than thirteen feet on one side of the road between the side of the road and the rail nearest to such side; provided, further, that in no case shall any rail of the said tram line be laid at a level such that the fall from the said rail to the nearest gutter is greater than three-quarters of an inch to the foot.

Paving and maintenance of road.

7. Wherever the said tramways are laid, a toothing course of good stone or wood shall be laid by the Company on either side of each rail, each toothing course to extend alternately not less than eight and five inches from each line of rails, and the same shall be maintained by the Company in such state and in good and efficient repair. The rest of the space between the rails and to a distance of eighteen inches outside of each rail shall be constructed and maintained in a good and efficient state of repair by the Company with a good hard macadam, all requirements in this section being done to the reasonable satisfaction of the Road Authority: Provided, however, that the Road Authority shall have the right to call on the Tramway Company to put in order, maintain and keep in repair the remainder of the road, of the width at present existing, traversed by the tramway to the satisfaction of the said Road Authority, on its paying to the said Tramway Company two-thirds of the actual cost incurred in so maintaining and keeping in repair the said remainder of the road.

9. If after the construction of any line the Road Authority shall relay the street which it traverses with a material essentially different from that in use at the time of such construction, the Company shall at the time of such relaying, replace that portion of the street which in terms of this Act it is required to construct, maintain and keep in repair with such material and in such manner as to be in accordance with the portion of the street so relaid or replaced unless the Road Authority otherwise direct, and the Company shall maintain the same in such state and in good and efficient repair.

Construction of culverts and drains.

10. Whenever in laying down the lines it may be found necessary to construct any culverts or drains, the same shall be constructed by the Company to the satisfaction and approval of the Road Authority or its duly authorised officer, and all culverts or drains so constructed shall at all times be maintained in good order and repair by the Company to the like satisfaction and approval. And whenever in laying down the said lines it may be found necessary, for the safety or convenience of the public, to alter any of the existing culverts or channelling, such alteration shall be undertaken by the Company and completed to the like satisfaction and approval; provided that after any such alteration of the said road or culverts the cost of maintaining the said road or culvert so altered shall not be borne by the Company except in so far as is provided by section seven of this Act; provided that should any approach to private property have to be removed or altered, notice shall be given to the owner of such property; and the Company shall be bound and obliged to widen the Westerford Bridge over the Liesbeek River at Newlands, so that the said bridge shall be thirty feet in width, and have a footing in addition on one side at least, to the satisfaction of the Road Authority: the said work shall be done at the cost and expense of the Company and under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the Road Authority.

Guage of tramway.

11. The rails of tram lines shall be of the usual and ordinary kind and shall be laid to a gauge of not less than four or more than five feet apart, the surface of the rails and of the paving of stones or wood being kept level with the surface of the street, and the same shall be kept and maintained in a condition of repair to satisfy this requirement by the Company.

12. The Road Authority, and the Municipal Councils in cases when they may not be the Road Authority, shall at all times in the future have the right free from any payment or compensation

Cars and rolling stock.

13. The cars and rolling stock of the Company shall not exceed seven feet six inches in width, and shall be approved by the Road Authority and comfortably fittel up for the conveyance of passengers and lighted. Each car shall be supplied with not less than five incandescent lamps each of sixteen candle-power including head and tail lights.

Expense of removal of rails.

14. All expenses incurred by the Road Authority, and the Municipal Councils when they may not be the Road Authority, in the removal and replacement of the rails after the first laying down thereof consequent upon the necessity of repairing, altering or removing such sewers, drains, pipes, wires and cables shall be paid and borne by the Company.

Indemnification of Road Authority from damage by electrolysis or otherwise.

15. The Company undertakes to keep the Road Authority or any other public body, company or person harmless and indemnified from and forthwith to reimburse to it and make good all loss, costs, damages and expenses to which they may be put by reason of electrolysis or any neglect or default on the part of the Company or its servants in the execution of works under the provisions of this Act in the execution of powers granted hereby, in the due performance of the provisions of this Act, and in the safe, proper, and efficient working of the tramways and electric power or from any failure, defect or insufficiency of or in the plant, machinery and works or otherwise.

Rate of speed.

16. The rate of speed at which the cars shall travel shall not, except with the consent of the Road Authority and of the Councils of the Municipalities through which the line is laid, exceed ten miles an hour.

Removal of rails and restoration of road.

19. The Company shall upon such notice, and if the Road Authority shall not purchase, be bound and obliged at its own cost to remove the rails and other plant, and to restore the road or other place to a condition fit for the traffic having regard to the material of which such road or other place is constructed. And should the company fail to do so, the Road Authority may remove the rails and do all things necessary to the restoration of the road or other places as aforesaid, and demand and recover the cost incurred thereby from the company.

20. The construction of the tramway shall be commenced by the Company within six months from the date of the promulgation of this Act, and not less than two miles thereof shall be completed and in operation for public use within one year thereafter, and such work shall be continued at the rate of not less than two miles per year until the tramways are completed, to the intent that at the end of each year two miles of additional tramway shall be open for public use and traffic: Provided always that upon the due completion of the tramways according to the routes laid down there shall be no further obligation under the terms of this section: Provided that if any necessary delay shall occur from strikes of operatives or any other cause beyond the control of the Company the said delay shall not be taken into consideration in estimating the periods above mentioned.

Penalty.

21. In the event of non-compliance with the preceding section the Company shall be liable to pay to the Road Authority, if demanded, a penalty of two pounds sterling for every day's default: provided that the total of such penalties shall not exceed five hundred pounds sterling, and in case the Company shall fail to commence the said work within the said period of six months aforesaid then all the rights and powers with regard to the construction and working of the tramways authorised by the second section of this Act shall cease and determine.

23. The Company agrees to pay to the Road Authority for the use of the streets, roads and public places upon which the tracks run, and for the rights and privileges granted, an annual rental of twenty pounds sterling per mile of road along which the tramways are laid.

Right of Company to collect tolls.

24. The Company shall have the right and power to charge and collect fares for the carrying of passengers and parcels upon or over all lines so to be constructed; provided, that the tariff of such fares shall be exhibited in a conspicuous place in each car, carriage or conveyance, and shall not be increased at any time until after public notice shall have been given in the Gazette and in two or more newspapers to be approved of by the Road Authority circulating in the Cape Division; and provided always, that no fares or charges shall in any case at any time exceed those mentioned in the schedule to this Act.

(c) The Road Authority or such Council may during the progress of any works inspect all material used or proposed to be used thereon, and may require proper material to be used or the work to be done in a proper manner, and in the event of the instruction of the Road Authority or such Council or its authorised official not being carried out, the Road Authority or such Council shall be entitled to prevent the further carrying out of the works hereby authorised until its instructions have been obeyed.

(d) No road, street, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, or anything as aforesaid shall be entered upon, broken, or opened up, or otherwise dealt with, except under the superintendence of the Road Authority or its appointed officer, and according to such plans and in such manner as shall be approved by the road authority or its appointed officer, or in the case of any pole, wire, pipe or other property of the Postmaster-General otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of "The Electric Lighting and Power Act, (1) 1895," or any regulation which may be framed by the Governor under the authority of such Act. And the works of the Company shall be carried out in sections approved by the Council or its appointed officer to the intent that each section shall be speedily and expeditiously completed and with the least possible inconvenience to the public and traffic, the whole attention and energy of the company being as far as possible devoted to carrying out the works section by section.

(f) All operations of the Company shall be carried on in such manner as not to injure in any way sewers, drains, pipes, street lamps, electric cables or wires whether above or below the surface of the street or other like works.

(g) In carrying out all operations that may be necessary for the due construction and maintenance of the works authorised by this Act, any sewer, drain, pipe, street lamp, electric cable or wire as aforesaid, or other like works, may be removed temporarily, obstructed or deviated, but the Road Authority may elect to carry out the removal, temporary obstruction or deviation itself or by its servants, in which case the Company shall forthwith reimburse to the Road Authority the reasonable expenses which may be incurred, and whenever by this Act the Road Authority is authorised to recover expenses from the Company, the fact that any person or persons are in the ordinary employ or pay of the Road Authority shall not debar the Road Authority from making claim for, and recovering any sum or sums paid to such person or persons in respect of the period of time they were so employed.

(h) All operations of the Company shall be carried on without causing any damage to any street, road, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, tree, underground works or other property of the Road Authority, and should any damage be done at any time in contravention hereof, the Road Authority may by notice in writing require the Company to make good the same forthwith, and should it not do so, the Road Authority may cause to be done what is necessary to repair such damage, and recover the expenses incurred thereby forthwith from the Company.

(i) If the Company enters upon, breaks up, opens up or otherwise deals with any road, street, bridge, sewer, drain, culvert, pipe, wire, tree, or other property vested in the Road Authority without giving such notice as aforesaid, or if the Company makes any unnecessary delaying in completing any such work or reinstating or making good any of the property interfered with by it, or in carrying away the rubbish occasioned by its works, or if it neglects to take precautions against accident, or neglects to carry out substantially not only the terms of this section but also every term or condition of this Act, it shall forfeit to the Road Authority a sum not exceeding five pounds for every such offence or breach, and an addition of two pounds for each day during which any such delay as aforesaid shall continue after it has received notice thereof; provided, always, that the right to penalties in the Act given to the Road Authority shall not in any way debar the Road Authority in its option from taking other legal action for the enforcement of the terms of this Act or from exercising any other legal remedies.

Power of road authority or Cape Town Council to purchase tramways constructed under this Act.

26. The rights and powers conferred upon the Company with regard to the construction of the tramways in the second section of this Act mentioned, which are put into operation within a period of five years from the date of this Act, shall thereafter continue for a further period of twenty-five years. 62. Proceedings against several persons included in one complaint shall not abate by reason of the death of any among the persons so included, but all such proceedings may be carried on as if the deceased person had not been originally so included.

Valuation of all immovable property to be made not less than every three years.

95. And I make this solemn declaration intending to fulfil the same.

"Declared at————, this———day of———

"Before me————."

Appeal against valuation.

99. At any time within one calendar month from and exclusive of the day of the publication of such notice as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for any person who shall think himself aggrieved thereby, to appeal, in writing, against the same to the Council, who shall hold a meeting or meetings, at which not less than five members shall be present, to hear all objections which may be urged against any valuation by any owner or occupier or other person on his behalf, and inquire into the merits of such objections, and shall confirm or correct any valuation objected to as truth and justice shall require: Provided that any such meeting may, if necessary, be adjourned from time to time until all objections be heard, or upon the application of any person objecting who shall show reasonable ground for not being ready with his proofs, or for the purpose of obtaining further evidence in regard to any case which shall be partly heard. Roll for tenants' ates.

102. In order to ascertain the annual value or rental of the rateable property within the Municipality for the purpose of assessing the tenants' rate, and also to procure the other information required under the provisions of this section, the Council shall, in the month of January in each year, cause a printed schedule to be left at the house of every ratepayer, to be filled up by the occupier, under separate and distinct heads, setting forth the names of the owner, the occupier, and all inmates, also the annual rental, and the ttrm of lease, if there be one, and the date it determines, or, if no rent be paid, the estimated annual value of the property, and such other particulars as the Council may, by any such municipal regulation as they may pass in regard thereto, require; and at the expiration of seven days from the time such schedules were left, the Council shall cause the same to be called for; and all persons failing to return the schedules to the officers so calling, shall return the same, duly completed, to the office of the Council within seven days thereafter, under a penalty of 20s., or, in default of payment, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a period not exceeding twenty-one days. Should a tenant, or other person by whom the schedule must be filled up and sent in, be unable to write, the Council's officer shall be authorised to fill up same, and certify same from information obtained from tenant. From such schedules, the Council shall cause a roll or rolls of assessment to be made within one month from the said date, upon which the tenants' rate or rates of and for the current year shall be levied; and when any schedule shall not have been returned, or no schedule shall have been filled in to the knowledge of the Council, or where any of the schedules shall appear to the Council to misrepresent the value of the properties, or to be in any other respect incorrect, it shall be competent for the Council to cite, by due notice, all persons whom they shall think necessary to appear before them on a certain day, not earlier than three clear days from the service of such notice, in order to afford any evidence or information in regard to any property or other matter relative to any schedule which shall not have been returned or of which the correctness of the return made shall be questioned or disputed, or in any case where no schedule shall to the knowledge of the Council have been filled in; and should it appear to the Council that properties have been let upon leases at low rentals in consideration of repairs to be done by the tenant, or buildings to be erected, or for any other cause, or should it appear that the properties are occupied by the owners thereof, then the Council may cite such owners or occupiers, as is hereinbefore provided, to show cause why they should not be rated for taxation purposes at the market rental value of such properties; and if such persons shall then neglect to attend for the aforesaid purposes, the Council shall fix such annual value on all such properties as may appear just and reasonable: Provided that the said roll or rolls shall be drawn up according to the wards, and that the roll or rolls for each ward shall be submitted to the respective Councillors of the ward, who shall go through the same, and within twenty-one days shall report to the Council if they consider any property within such ward has not been properly or sufficiently valued: And provided that thereafter the roll or rolls of assessment aforesaid, together with the reports of the Councillors as aforesaid, shall be open for public inspection, at the office of the Council for the space of one month; and the Council shall give notice, in one or more of the newspapers of the Municipality, that the same lies open for inspection.

Appeal against assessment of annual value.

103. At any time within one calendar month from and exclusive of the day of the publication of such notice as aforesaid it shall be lawful for any person who shall think himself aggrieved at the annual value or rental set against the property owned or occupied by him, to appeal, in writing, against the same to the Council, who shall hold a meeting, or meetings, at which no less than five members shall be present, to hear all objections which may be urged against any such annual value or rental by any owner or occupier or other person on his behalf, and inquire into the merits of such objections, and shall confirm or correct any valuation objected to, as truth and justice shall require: Provided that any such meeting may, if necessary, be adjourned from time to time until all objections be decided upon; or upon the application of any person objecting, who shall show reasonable ground for not being ready with his proofs, or for the purpose of obtaining further evidence in regard to any case which shall be partly heard. The decision of the Council upon any objection to any such annual value or rental shall be final and conclusive, and shall not be capable of being reviewed or revised by any Court or proceeding whatever; and the valuation so fixed at such meeting, as well as the valuations previously made by the Council not objected to, shall be binding upon all concerned, and be incapable of being appealed against: Provided that the notice of the holding of any meeting as aforesaid shall be published in one or more of the Port Elizabeth newspapers, and posted in some conspicuous place upon or near the Town Hall, fourteen days before the day appointed therein for the holding of any such meeting.

If premises unoccupied for three consecutive months Council may refund part of tenant's rates.

104. Should the owner of property become liable for tenants' rates, owing to failure or inability on the part of the tenants to pay, or for any other reason, the Council may, on receipt of a sworn declaration from such owner, or the agent in charge thereof, to the effect that the house has been unlet and unoccupied for the period of three consecutive months or more, make a refund of the tenants' rates for such period as the house may have been unlet or unoccupied.

Council may levy special rates.

106. The said Council shall, in addition to any powers to levy rates hereinbefore or hereinafter in this Act conferred, have power to levy special rates for providing the Municipality with an effective police force, or to contribute to the expense of maintaining the Government police force; for providing good and effectual lighting to the streets and public places within the Municipality; and for providing a proper and effective system of sewerage to the town: Provided, however, that no special rate or rates as in this section authorised, shall be levied without the consent of the enrolled voters; and in obtaining the consent of the enrolled voters, all proceedings shall be taken as are set forth in section one hundred and three of this Act; and provided further, should the enrolled voters refuse such consent, then the said Council shall in no wise be responsible for any deficiencies in the good management of the Municipality in regard to police, lighting, or sewerage: Provided further that nothing in this and the preceding section contained shall in any way affect the provisions of the Crown Property Rating Act, 1891, and the "Public Libraries and Museums Relief Act, 1892," nor shall either of the rates hereinbefore mentioned be levied upon any buildings appropriated to public worship, nor upon burial grounds, nor upon any buildings solely appropriated to the purposes of education, nor upon hospitals.

108. Should any rates not be paid within three months from the date the same became due the Council shall be entitled to demand and recover interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum reckoned from the expiration of three months from the day on which the same were payable.

Council may sue both owner and occupier for rates.

109. And in case the owner or owners shall not apply to the said Council within the said period, that it shall be lawful for the said Council to appoint some competent person to be approved of by the Civil Commissioner of the division to appraise the value of the land or materials, or water or right of water, and such person shall make oath before some justice of the peace, that he hath, to the best of his judgment, fairly appraised such value, and thereupon it shall be lawful for the said Council to pay whatever sum such person shall have valued the land or materials, or water or right of water in question into the Guardians' Fund to the credit of the party or parties entitled thereto, subject to the same provisions in all respects which are provided by the Ordinance No. 105, bearing date the 5th July, 1833, in regard to moneys placed in the said fund belonging to persons absent from the Colony; and the said Council, upon so paying the said sum, shall be authorised and

No. 13—1898.

And whereas it is desired to bring the full share of water belonging to the parties hereto from the highest practicable point on the farm "De Hoop" in iron pipes down to the said portions of the farm "Over Het Roode Zand" and to the village of Robertson over the intervening farms, and in order to carry out such desire it is necessary that a Bill should be introduced into Parliament for that purpose.

And whereas it has been agreed upon by and between the parties hereto that such Bill shall be introduced into Parliament, and there promoted by the party of the first part acting solely, and that for that purpose it is necessary that rights of the parties of the second part in the said water should be ceded to the party of the first part, the party of the first part guaranteeing to secure the rights of the parties of the second part in the said Bill.

Now therefore these presents witness that for and in consideration of the party of the first part introducing into Parliament during the next ensuing Session and there promoting a Bill to enable them to take out at certain spots in the Drinkwater and Meuls Kloof on the farm De Hoop, and bring down to the farm Over Het Roode Zand and the village of Robertson in iron pipes, all water abovementioned as appertaining to the parties hereto, and the said parties of the second part do hereby jointly as well as severally cede and transfer to the said Municipality of Robertson all their right, title and interest in and to the said one-third of the said water appertaining to them the parties of the second part, upon the following conditions and stipulations, namely:—

II. That the following parties of the second part, or the future proprietors of those portions of the farm Over Het Roode Zand at present held by them, shall contribute in the following proportions to the cost of the said pipes, the laying down of same, and the constructions of the necessary works, namely:—

The said sums to be paid to the said Municipality on the 31st day of December in each and every year commencing from the 31st December next following the completion of the said works, for the term of 40 years, subject however to the condition that they or any one of them shall have the right at any time before the expiration of the said 40 years to pay the full capital sum, or any balance then unpaid and still to be paid by any one of them, in one sum.

III. That any damage done to any of the land over which the pipes are laid shall be made good by, and any compensation which may have to be paid shall be paid by, the said Municipality and the said parties of the second part in the same proportion as they respectively contribute to the said Scheme as in the last preceding paragraph set forth.

such operations have been completed to the reasonable satisfaction of the said Council and will use all possible despatch in the performance of such operations so as not to cause inconvenience to the public for a longer period than shall be absolutely necessary to complete such operations in an efficient manner, and any loss or damage which may be sustained by any person or persons in consequence of the opening of any street in connection with such operations shall be made good by the said Ackermann, and the said Ackermann shall hold harmless and indemnified the said Council of, from, and against all losses, costs, charges, damages and expenses they may sustain or be put to or condemned to pay by the judgment of any competent Court by reason of any matter or thing done or performed or neglected to be done or performed by the said Ackermann in the premises.

Fifth.—The said Ackermann shall place three hydrants at his own cost and charges for the purpose of extinguishing fire at such posts within the said Municipality as the said Council shall indicate provided such spots are within sixty (60) feet of any main of the said Ackermann, and shall and will supply such quantity of water as the said Council may from time to time require to be supplied for the purpose of extinguishing fires or for other purposes of the said Municipality, such as watering roads, flushing, &c., at the rate of two pounds for every forty thousand gallons supplied; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be held to prevent the said Council from obtaining a supply of water for watering roads or other purely municipal purposes from any spring or sources of supply within the said Municipality to which the said Council has or may have any right, it being also distinctly understood that this concession by no means conveys to the said Ackermann any right the said Council may have to any springs or other sources of supply within the said Municipality.

Sixth.—The said Ackermann shall be bound to lay down and keep in thorough repair at his own costs and charges all mains in the Main-road within the said Municipality, and he shall also be bound and obliged to lay down main or other pipes, exclusive of private water leadings, necessary for the efficient supply of water in all streets and thoroughfares at his own costs and charges upon receiving a guarantee from the owners of property within the said Municipality, for the sake of whom such main or other pipes are laid down, that they will take a supply of water for a term of three years sufficient to yield a return equal to fifteen per cent. per annum on the amount expended on the main or other pipes specially laid down for the supply of water to such proprietors. And tenants of property shall be entitled under similar circumstances, to a like supply of water upon giving a like guarantee, only in the case of tenants it shall be left to the said Council to decide as to the sufficiency of the guarantee offered. And further the said Ackermann shall be obliged to lay down and supply all such minor pipes and fittings as may be required for water leadings from the mains to the properties of the inhabitants of the said Municipality and to any part of such properties if required to do so at the cost price of the labour, supervision and materials supplied.

Seventh.—In the event of the said Ackermann being at any time unable or unwilling to supply outlying properties in the said Municipality with water, then and in every such case nothing herein contained shall be held to prevent the said Council from granting facilities to such proprietors for obtaining their water supply elsewhere, provided the distance of the said properties from any of the mains of the said Ackermann shall exceed four hundred English yards, and in the event of the said Ackermann at any time laying down fresh mains so as to bring such property within 400 English yards of the same the said Council upon being made acquainted therewith by the said Ackermann and with the willingness of the said Ackermann to supply such properties with water shall, three months after receiving notice to that effect from the said Ackermann, cease to afford the proprietors of such property facilities for the supply of their water from other sources, and will do their best and utmost endeavours by all lawful ways and means to prevent such supply being obtained otherwise than from the said Ackermann. It is also understood and agreed upon between the parties hereto that nothing in this agreement continued shall be held to prevent the said Council allowing any other Council, Company or Person to lay pipes down in the streets or across the property of the said Council for the purpose of conveying water from any place outside the limits of the said Municipality to some other place also without the limits of the said Municipality, and so that the granting of such right does not confer authority to supply water within the limits of the said Municipality. And should the demands and applications to be supplied with water by the inhabitants of the said Municipality, and the said Council require a larger quantity to satisfy the same than the 200,000 gallons per diem, which the said Ackermann is bound to furnish, and the said Ackermann be unable or unwilling to supply such increased quantity, then the said Council shall be at liberty to take all such measures as they may deem necessary for the purpose of providing such increased supply, notwithstanding that the same may infringe upon the rights or be opposed to the concession hereby granted to the said Ackermann. Provided the Council shall not be entitled to take any measures for the purpose of providing such increased supply until the expiration of six months after the Council has given to the said Ackermann notice in writing of its requirements, and unless during such period of six months the said Ackermann has failed to comply with the Council's requirements, and provided the said Ackermann shall be entitled to demand and receive full particulars of the requirements of the Council.

Eighth.—In the event of the undertaking for the purpose of carrying out which the said Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited, is to be formed and of which the operations to be performed under this agreement by the said Ackermann form a part yielding a dividend to shareholders in excess of twelve per centum per annum on the whole of the said undertaking, then the said Ackermann shall be bound to make such a reduction in the rates for the supply of water charged by him under this agreement as to leave the said shareholders a return of twelve per cent. per annum or thereabouts, and should the parties hereto be unable to decide as to what reduction would give such a result, in such case the decision in the matter shall be left to the award, arbitrament and determination of three Arbitrators, one of them to be chosen by each of the parties hereto, and the third by the two Arbitrators first chosen, and the award of such Arbitrators or the majority of them shall be final and binding upon the parties hereto.

Ninth.—All mains, pipes, hydrants, sluices, and other machinery and appliances to be used by the said Ackermann shall be of the latest invention and of the best material now known.

Tenth.—The water rates to become due and payable by the inhabitants of the said Municipality to the said Ackermann in terms of this agreement shall be recovered by the said Ackermann from the parties liable to pay the same, nor shall any responsibility in respect of the payment of the same rest upon the said Council, save and except as regards such rates as the Council may owe for water supplied for municipal purposes.

Eleventh.—The said Ackermann shall not be bound and obliged to supply any householder entitled to be supplied with water under this agreement with less than one hundred gallons of water per diem, except in the case of a householder whose house is rated for municipal purposes at a sum not greater than £100, in which case the minimum such householder shall have a right to be supplied with will be fifty (50) gallons per diem and on the other hand no single householder shall be entitled to receive, nor shall he or she receive, more than one hundred gallons of water per diem in respect of any one house until every other house applying for such a supply shall have received its one hundred (100) gallons.

Twelfth.—The said Ackermann shall keep the mains, hydrants, and all other appliances and machinery employed and used for the said water supply (save and except the private water leadings) in good order and repair, and shall renew the same and take them up for the purpose of being cleaned when necessary at his own costs and charges.

Thirteenth.—Should the said Ackermann at any time during the continuance of this agreement fail to supply water in quantity and of the quality herein stipulated for, and the supply of which the inhabitants entitled thereto, or the said Council shall have a right to demand under this agreement, then and in every such case the parties entitled to demand such supply shall have a right to recover as liquidated and agreed on damages the sum of sixpence per day of every one hundred (100) gallons short supplied, and should the laches of the said Ackermann in the matter of such water supply be of frequent occurrence so as seriously to inconvenience the general public it shall be lawful for the said Council to cancel and put an end to this agreement upon giving one month's notice to that effect to the said Ackermann, whereupon all the rights and privileges of the said Ackermann under this agreement shall cease and determine.

Fourteenth.—All water leadings to private property such as are referred to in the concluding portion of the sixth paragraph hereof and have been paid for shall vest in such proprietors subject to any right of the said Ackermann to have access to the same and to enter the premises of any inhabitants to make such alterations or effect repairs therein for the purpose of the efficient supply of water or for the prevention of loss and waste as may from time to time be necessary during the continuance of this agreement, nor shall any one else during the continuance of this agreement have any right to interfere with, alter, or repair the same without the sanction of the said Ackermann.

Fifteenth.—All taps, cocks, pipes and fittings for water leadings shall be of manufacture and pattern approved by the said Ackermann, and plumbers licensed by the said Ackermann alone shall be permitted to lay, fix, remove, or repair all water leadings and fittings in private or public properties.

Sixteenth.—The said Council will use their best endeavours to prevent the contamination of the said water from the proximity of gas or sewage pipes or other preventable causes, nor will they permit pipes for either of the said purposes to be laid within such proximity to the said water pipes as to be likely to cause such contamination.

Seventeenth.—The said Ackermann shall not be held liable for any stoppage of the water supply or for any damage whatever in the premises occasioned by floods, earthquakes, lightning or other causes over which the said Ackermann could exercise no control or caused by the neglect of the Council or by circumstances within the control of the said Council.

Eighteenth.—The said Ackermann shall be permitted in the supply of water to use the high pressure intermittent or other approved mode of water supply.

Nineteenth.—In the event of the said Ackermann, at any time supplying the Municipalities or inhabitants of Wynberg and Rondebosch or any part or any of them with water, the rates charged shall if supplied to householders individually, and paid for as in the tenth paragraph hereof agreed, be not less than that paid at such time by the inhabitants of the Claremont Municipality, while if supplied in manner similar to that mentioned in the Woodstock Concession, that is to the Municipality itself, the rates charged shall not be less than that charged at such time to the Woodstock Municipality.

Twentieth.—At the expiration of the concession hereby granted the said Ackermann shall continue to have rights given in the first, fourth, and fourteenth paragraphs hereof, under and subject to the conditions and stipulations upon which such rights are granted, excepting that the said Ackermann Concession shall not be an exclusive one, and that the said Council shall be entitled to grant another or other concessions of a like nature.

Twenty-first.—That upon the expiration of a term of ten years from the 1st day of January, 1889, or at any period after the expiration of such term by giving twelve months' notice the Council of the Municipality of Claremont (hereinafter styled the said Council), together with the Council of the Municipality of Woodstock (hereinafter styled the Woodstock Council), shall have the right jointly to acquire the whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of the said Ackermann and the Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited, by purchase. Should the said Council desire to effect such purchase jointly with the Woodstock

Council, and the latter be unwilling or decline to join the said Council in purchasing. then the said Council shall be entitled to give the said Woodstock Council notice in writing calling upon the said Woodstock Council to decide within six months from the date of the receipt of such notice whether or not they will join in the purchase; and should the said Woodstock Council fail within that period to intimate their willingness and take all necessary steps to join the said Council in purchasing, then the said Council shall be entitled to act alone in exercising the right of purchase hereinbefore given to the said Council and the Woodstock Council jointly. Similarly if the Woodstock Council desire to effect such purchase jointly with the Council and the latter be unwilling or decline to join the Woodstock Council in purchasing, then the Woodstock Council shall be entitled to give the said Council notice in writing calling upon the said Council to decide within six months from the date of the receipt of such notice whether or not they will join in the purchase. And should the said Council fail within that period to intimate their willingness and take all necessary steps to join the said Woodstock Council in purchasing, then the said Woodstock Council shall be entitled to act alone in exercising the right of purchase hereinbefore given to the said Council and the Woodstock Council jointly. Should either the said Council or the Woodstock Council be unwilling or decline to join the other of them in purchasing, then at the expiration of the notice of six months hereinbefore mentioned the Council wishing to purchase shall give written notice to the other of them of such Council's intention so to do and shall forthwith proceed to give the aforesaid twelve months' notice to the said Ackermann of its desire to purchase, and the Council which is unwilling or declines to join the other in purchasing shall be entitled within two months after receiving the notice of the former Council's intention to purchase to require the purchasing Council to carry out the terms of the unwilling Council's then existing agreement with the said Ackermann as to the supply of water for a period of ten years from the date when the purchasing Council takes over the said whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of the said Ackermann and the Cape Town Districts Waterworks Company, Limited, whereupon it shall be imperative upon the purchasing Council to carry out the terms of such unwilling Council's then existing agreement aforesaid for such term of ten years. And six months previous to the expiration of such lastmentioned term of ten years it shall be in the power of the said unwilling Council to give notice of their intention to require the renewal of the then existing agreement as to the supply of water for a further term of ten years, whereupon it shall be imperative for the purchasing Council to carry out the same for such lastmentioned further term of ten years, and so on in perpetuity the unwilling Council shall be entitled to six months previous to the expiration of each period of ten years to give notice of a continuance of the then existing agreement for a further term of ten years. Provided that notwithstanding anything to the contrary hereinbefore stated, if the unwilling Council shall not have given the aforesaid six months' notice of continuance of the agreement it shall be incumbent upon the purchasing Council to supply the unwilling Council with water until six months after notice in writing has been given by the purchasing to the unwilling Council calling upon the latter to state within such period of six months whether such unwilling Council desires an extension of its then existing agreement for a period of ten years from the expiration of such six months, and if within such period of six months the unwilling Council acquaints the purchasing Council of its desire for such extension it shall be incumbent upon the purchasing Council to continue the supply for a further period of ten years, at the end of which time the water supply shall be continued or discontinued as the case may be to the unwilling Council after the observance of similar formalities and so on in perpetuity. Should one of the Councils alone purchase the whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of the said Ackermann and the Cape Town Districts Waterworks Company, Limited, then neither of the said Councils shall have any right to take advantage of the fact that the Concession originally granted to the said Ackermann were only for a period of twenty years, except that such Concession shall at the expiration of twenty years no longer entitle the purchasing Council to treat the Concession or Agreement of the unwilling Council as an exclusive or sole concession. If the said Council and the Woodstock Council jointly elect to purchase the said whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of said Ackermann, and the Cape Town Districts Waterworks Company, Limited, or if under the terms hereof the Council shall do so, then the terms of the purchase shall be the value of the same as a going concern, and the amount to be paid by the purchasers shall be settled by agreement between the parties interested; failing agreement, then by arbitration, the purchasers appointing one arbitrator and the said Ackermann another, while the two so chosen shall select the third and the decision of a majority of such arbitrators shall be binding on both the purchasers and the said Ackermann and the award of the Arbitrators may be made a Rule of Court. Should the said Council and the Woodstock Council be desirous of purchasing jointly at any time and should they be unable to agree as to the terms upon which as between themselves the purchase shall be made, then the matters in difference shall be referred to Arbitration of three persons, one to be appointed by each Council, and the third to be selected by the two so appointed. The award of a majority of such arbitrators shall be binding upon the parties to the Arbitration, and the award may be made a Rule of Court; provided always that if either the said Council or the Woodstock Council shall decide alone and solely to acquire by purchase the said whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of the said Ackermann and the Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited, then the other of them shall, as an alternative to the right of insisting on a continuance of its water supply for periods of ten years at a time as hereinbefore prescribed, be at liberty to give within two months of being acquainted by the purchasing Council of the fact of its intended purchase notice in writing of its intention to cancel, and shall thereupon be entitled to cancel this concession at the date when the purchasing Council shall acquire the said whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of the said Ackermann and the Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited. And in the event of such other Council doing so, then such other Council shall pay to the purchasing Council the fair value of such mains, pipes, hydrants and other appliances of the said Ackermann and the Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited, as shall have specially been laid down or provided for the supply of water to the inhabitants of the cancelling Council's Municipality or to the cancelling Council, such fair value to be arrived at forthwith by mutual agreement, or failing mutual agreement on any points by the decision of three arbitrators appointed in manner as prescribed when a difference occurs between the Councils purchasing jointly; provided further that when either Council intends to purchase solely the arbitration as to the amount to be paid by the purchasing Council to the said Ackermann shall, failing mutual agreement as to the terms of the purchase be proceeded with forthwith between the purchasing Council and the said Ackermann forthwith two months after notice has been given by the purchasing Council to the said Ackermann of its intention to purchase, and provided always that in estimating the value of the said whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of the said Ackermann and the said Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited, when purchased by either Council solely, the arbitrators shall appraise the same as a going concern just prior to the date when the cancelling Council has intimated its intention to cancel its concession just as if the purchasing Council would after it the purchasing Council had acquired the said undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of the said Ackermann, and the said Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited, still continue to enjoy the right and benefit of supply the cancelling Council or the inhabitants of Municipality under the concession granted by such Council.

Twenty-second.—For the purposes of all arbitrations under the terms of this agreement the provisions of the Lands and Arbitration Clauses Act, 1882, shall so far as applicable and not varied hereby, be deemed inserted herein.

Twenty-third.—The concession hereby given shall be of no force and effect unless and until the Council and the Woodstock Council have executed an agreement intended to secure the rights of the two Councils as between themselves, and referred to in the twenty-first paragraph hereof.

Supplementary Concession by the Woodstock Municipality for the Supply of Water.

Whereas on the seventh day of November, 1887, the Woodstock Municipality granted a Concession in terms of the provisions of Clause 2 of Section 156 of Act 45 of 1882, to one Thomas Haven Wheeler, for the supply of Water, and whereas subsequently on the first day of October, 1888, the said Wheeler signed an agreement whereby an extension of such Concession was to be granted to the Syndicate formed to promote the Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited; and whereas it has been agreed by and between the said Syndicate and the said Council, that the terms of such Concession shall be somewhat varied: Now, therefore, these presents witness that the Woodstock Municipality hereby confirms the extension of the Concession made pursuant to a resolution of its Council, passed on the said 1st day of October, 1888, and varies the said Concession in such manner that the sixth clause thereof shall be considered of no force and effect, and the following substituted in its place, to wit:—

That upon the expiration of a term of ten years from the 1st day of January, 1889, or at any period after the expiration of such term by giving Twelve Months' notice, this Council together with the Council of the Claremont Municipality (hereinafter styled the Claremont Council) shall have the right jointly to acquire the whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilties and obligations of the said Syndicate, or its assigns and the Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited (hereinafter styled the said undertaking) by purchase. Should the Council desire to effect such purchase jointly with the Claremont Council and the latter be unwilling or decline to join the Council in purchasing, then the Council shall be entitled to give the Claremont Council notice in writing, calling on them, the said Claremont Council, to decide within six months from the date of the receipt of such notice whether or not they will join in the purchase. And should the said Claremont Council fail within that period to intimate their willingness and take all necessary steps to join the said Council in purchasing, then the said Council shall be entitled to act alone in exercising the right of purchase hereinbefore given to the Councils jointly. Similarly if the Claremont Council desire to effect such purchase jointly with the Council, and the latter be unwilling or decline to join the Claremont Council in purchasing, then the Claremont Council shall be entitled to give the said Council notice in writing calling upon the said Council to decide within six months from the date of the receipt of such notice, whether or not they will join in the purchase. And should the Council fail within that period to intimate their willingness and take all necessary steps to join the said Claremont Council in purchasing, then the said Claremont Council shall be entitled to act alone in exercising the right of purchase hereinbefore given to the Councils jointly. Should either the Council or the Claremont Council be unwilling or decline to join the other of them in purchasing, then at the expiration of the notice of six months hereinbefore mentioned, the Council willing to purchase shall give written notice to the other of them, of such Council's intention so to do and shall forthwith proceed to give the aforesaid twelve months' notice to the owners of the said undertaking of its desire to purchase, and the Council which is unwilling or declines to join the other in purchasing shall be entitled within two months after receiving the notice of the former Council's intention to purchase, to require the purchasing Council to carry out the terms of the unwilling Council's then existing agreement with the said Syndicate or its assigns as to the supply of water for a period of ten years from the date when the purchasing Council takes over the said undertaking, whereupon it shall be imperative upon the purchasing Council to carry out the terms of such unwilling Council's then existing agreement aforesaid for such term of ten years. And six months previous to the expiration of such last-mentioned term of ten years, it shall be in the power of the said unwilling Council to give notice of their intention to require the renewal of the then existing agreement as to the supply of water for a further term of ten years whereupon it shall be imperative for the purchasing Council to carry out the same for such last-mentioned further term of ten years and so on in perpetuity the unwilling Council shall be entitled six months previous to the expiration of such period of ten years to give notice of a continuance of the then existing agreement for a further term of ten years. Provided always that notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein stated, if the unwilling Council shall not have given the aforesaid six months' notice of continuance of the agreement, it shall be incumbent upon the purchasing Council to supply the unwilling Council with water until six months after notice in writing has been given by the purchasing to the unwilling Council, calling upon the latter to state within such period of six months, whether such unwilling Council desires an extension of its then existing agreement for a period of ten years from the expiration of such six months, and if within such period of six months the unwilling Council acquaints the purchasing Council of its desire for such extension, it shall be incumbent upon the purchasing Council to continue the supply for a further period of ten years, at the end of which time the water supply shall be continued or discontinued as the case may be to the unwilling Council after the observance of similar formalities and so on in perpetuity. Should one of the Councils alone purchase the said undertaking then neither of the said Councils shall have any right to take advantage of the fact that the Concessions originally granted to the said Wheeler Syndicate Company or their assigns if any of them were only for a period of twenty years, except that such Concessions shall at the expiration of twenty years no longer entitle the purchasing Council to treat the Concession or Agreement of the unwilling Council as an exclusive or sole Concession. If the said Council and the Claremont Council jointly elect to purchase the undertaking or if under the terms hereof the said Council shall do so, then the terms of the purchase shall be the value of the same as a going concern, and the amount to be paid by the purchasers shall be settled by agreement between the parties interested, failing agreement, then by arbitration, the purchasers appointing one arbitrator, and the Syndicate or its assigns another, while the two so chosen shall select the third, and the decisions of a majority of such arbitrators shall be binding on both parties to the arbitration, and the Award of the arbitrators may be made a rule of Court. Should the Council and the Claremont Council be desirous of purchasing jointly at any time, and should they be unable to agree as to the terms thereof as between themselves, then the matters in difference shall be referred to the arbitration of three persons, one to be appointed by each Council, and the third to be elected by the two so appointed. The award of a majority of such Arbitrators shall be binding upon the parties to the arbitration and the award may be made a rule of Court. Provided always that if either of the Councils shall alone and solely decide to acquire by purchase the said undertaking, then the other of them shall as an alternative to the right of insisting on a continuance of the water supply for periods of ten years as hereinbefore prescribed, be at liberty to give within two months of being acquainted by the purchasing Council of the fact of its intended purchase, notice in writing of its intention to cancel, and shall thereupon be entitled to cancel this exclusive Concession at the date when the purchasing Council shall acquire the said undertaking, and in the event of such other Council doing so, then it shall pay to the purchasing Council the fair value of such mains, pipes, hydrants, and other appliances of the said Syndicate or its Assigns, as shall have been specially laid down or provided specially for the supply of water to the inhabitants of the cancelling Council's Municipality or to the cancelling Council such fair value to be arrived at forthwith by mutual agreement, or failing mutual agreement on any points by the decision of three arbitrators appointed in manner as prescribed when a difference occurs between the Councils purchasing jointly. Provided further that when either Council intends to purchase solely the arbitration as to the amount to be paid by the purchasing Council shall failing mutual agreement as to the terms of the purchase be proceeded with forthwith between the purchasing Council and the said Syndicate or its assigns, two months after notice has been given by the purchasing Council of its intention to purchase. And provided always, that in estimating the value of the said undertaking when purchased by either Council solely, the Arbitrators shall appraise the same as a going concern just prior to the date when the cancelling Council has intimated its intention to cancel its Concession just as if the purchasing Council would after it, the purchasing Council, had acquired the said undertaking still continue to enjoy the right and benefit of supplying the cancelling Council or the inhabitants of its Municipality under the Concession granted by such Council. For the purposes of all arbitrations under the terms of this Agreement and the Concessions the provisions of the Lands and Arbitrations Clauses Act, 1882, shall so far as applicable and not varied hereby be deemed inserted herein.

Deed of Agreement.

Entered into on this the Twenty-third day of October, 1888, between the Council of the Municipality of Woodstock, hereinafter styled Woodstock, of the one part, and the Council of the Municipality of Claremont, hereinafter styled Claremont, of the other part.

Whereas Woodstock and Claremont have agreed to grant to a Syndicate formed to promote the Cape Town District Waterworks Company, Limited, or its assigns, certain concessions to supply water to their Municipalities upon conditions which will more fully appear on reference to the Deeds of Concession;

And whereas the said Deeds of Concession contain a purchase clause which renders it necessary that to make the same effectual as between Claremont and Woodstock, they Claremont and Woodstock should mutually contract;

Now therefore, these present witness that it is contracted and agreed by Claremont and Woodstock in manner following, to wit:—

1. At the expiration of ten years from the 1st of January, 1889, or at any time thereafter, Claremont and Woodstock may join in purchasing the whole undertaking, property, assets, liabilities and obligations of the said Syndicate or its assigns (hereinafter styled the "said undertaking").

2. Now therefore the following agreement is entered into subject to the approval of Parliament in so far as the same may be necessary.

I.—1. The agreement of the 19th of May, 1896, in so far as it relates to the line of railway from Oudtshoorn to Klipplaat, is provisionally cancelled.

2. The Colonial Government agree to pay to the Grand Junction Railways, Limited, or their order the value of the work done on that railway as already certified by the Government Engineers, and also to pay to the Grand Junction Railways, Limited, as advance of subsidy 40 per cent. of the value of work actually done or of materials actually supplied as similarly certified on the other lines of railway less the amount of any advances of subsidy already paid to the said railway company or to their assigns.

3. The above payments by the Colonial Government to the Grand Junction Railways, Limited, shall be credited by the Contractors in the final settlement between them and the Government.

4. The Contractors undertake to construct the Oudtshoorn—Klipplaat line as a complete line, including land, buildings, permanent way, bridge superstructure, &c., for the Government in accordance with the plans, sections, drawings and schedules attached to or referred to in the contract and specification issued by the Government at the beginning of the year, when calling for tenders for the completion of that line (copies of which are hereunto annexed) and to have the same in a condition fit for the running of trains by the 31st of December, 1899.

5. The Government will pay to the Contractors monthly the value of the work executed on the line less 10 per cent. as hereinafter provided, such value being calculated on the schedule of prices attached to the most acceptable of the tenders received after public advertisement at the beginning of the year for the completion of that line so far as these apply, copy of which is hereunto annexed, marked A, and on the basis of a schedule settled by the Engineer of the Government and the Contractors for all work and materials not included in that schedule hereunto annexed, marked B.

6. The Government will treat each section of not less than twenty miles as a completed section when ballasted, and will pay for the same at the contract price of four thousand four hundred and fifty pounds sterling (£4,450) less the schedule value of any bridges over fifty feet span and of accessories not completed and less the amount of any monthly payments made on such section and also less the value of equipment as estimated by the Government Engineer and included in the sum mentioned in Section 12 of Act No. 28 of 1895; provided that the last mentioned deduction shall not be included in the final payment for the line.

7. The Government shall be at liberty to retain 10 per cent. on all the above payments to the Contractors as a guarantee fund, such retention to be credited to the Contractors and taken into account on final settlement.

II.—1. The Contractors undertake to push on the construction of the Somerset East—Fort Beaufort, and Fort Beaufort—King William's Town lines with all possible diligence on the terms of the contract of 19th May, 1896, and bind themselves to have those lines in a condition fit for the running of trains by the 31st December, 1899. They will execute a pro rata share of the work every month, it being understood that in estimating the pro rata share of work to be done monthly a reasonable time shall be allowed for getting gangs of workmen together, and that the permanent way and bridge work are not to be taken into account until after November 30th next. Reasonable allowance shall also be made for work which can be more cheaply and more expeditiously executed after the rails are laid.

2. The Government will make advances of subsidy on the Somerset East—King William's Town lines and on the Mossel Bay—Oudtshoorn lines at the rate of 40 per cent. of the value of work done on these lines as calculated on the schedule hereunto annexed, marked C, with the proviso that when the total advances of subsidy on account of the Somerset East—Fort Beaufort line or the Fort Beaufort—King William's Town line amount to a sum equal to thirteen hundred and fifty pounds sterling (£1,350) per mile over the whole line, then all advances of subsidy on that line shall cease, and similarly when the total advances of subsidy on the Mossel Bay—Oudtshoorn line amount to a sum equal to eighteen hundred pounds sterling (£1,800) per mile on the whole of that line all advances of subsidy on that line shall cease. The Government shall retain the balance of 10 per cent. of the authorised subsidy for each line until completion of that line.

3. The Government agrees that the work on the Mossel Bay—Oudtshoorn line shall remain in abeyance until a detail survey undertaken by an engineer approved of by the Government has been completed of the route through the Gouritz Gorge and if need be the instructions of Parliament have been sought and obtained as to what route should be adopted.

III.—1. The Contractors shall be at liberty to adopt on all the lines a ruling gradient of 1 in 70 in place of 1 in 40 with curves of 8 chains radius in place of 5 chains radius and to lay 60 lb. rails, in place of 46¼ lb. rails, with a corresponding increase in the size of sleepers and amount of ballast. Any reasonable deviations required to secure the improved gradient shall be sanctioned by the Government provided they do not unduly lengthen the lines.

2. The Colonial Government shall have the right, upon completion of the lines (b), (c), and (d), to take over the same as Government lines upon paying to the Contractors the difference between £4,800 per mile in respect of (b) and (c) and £8,000 per mile in respect of (d) plus the value of the improved grading and heavier permanent way on a schedule to be agreed between the

Chief Engineer of the Cape Government Railways and the Contractors and such sums as may have been paid to the Contractors or the Grand Junction Railways, Limited, on account of subsidy

3. In the event of Parliament not sanctioning before the 1st of August, 1899, the construction of the Somerset East—King William's Town and the Mossel Bay—Oudtshoorn lines as Government lines and the payment to the Contractors of the value of work and materials supplied by them on those lines at the rate of four thousand eight hundred pounds sterling (£4,800), and eight thousand pounds sterling (£8,000) per mile respectively; and also the value of the improved grading and heavier permanent way on all the lines referred to in this contract, on a schedule to be agreed between the Government Engineer and the Contractors, then the agreement and the concession of the 19th of May, 1896, and 13th October, 1896, shall revive and be in force and binding, the Contractors taking the place of the Grand Junction Railways Limited and undertaking to complete and work the lines as therein provided except that the time for completion is extended to the 31st of December, 1899.

4. In the event of Parliament agreeing to the construction of the said lines (b), (c) and (d) as Government lines and to the payment for improved grading and permanent way as mentioned in the preceding clause, then on payment by the Government as therein provided this contract shall determine as from the first August, 1899, as also the contracts of 19th May, 1896, and 13th October, 1896, in so far as they relate to the said lines (b), (c), and (d) and the Government shall be at liberty to either allow the Contractors to complete the lines at the agreed prices or to call for tenders for the completion of the line.

5. The Government will pay for the materials required for the Oudtshoorn—Klipplaat line at schedule prices against the shipping documents in London in the usual way and will similarly pay forty per cent. of the schedule prices of materials for the other lines.
